INTRODUCTION TO GARDNER-WEBB

Gardner-Webb University is a coeducational, residential, church-related university on a beautiful campus just outside Shelby at Boiling Springs, North Carolina. The University derives its name from O. Max Gardner, distinguished governor of North Carolina in the 1930s, and his wife, Fay Webb Gardner. The beauty of the campus and the quality of the academic program owe much to their example and leadership.

LOCATION

Gardner-Webb University is located in the Piedmont section of western North Carolina, one of the most desirable and rapidly developing areas of our nation. Boiling Springs is a small rural town. Nearby Shelby, a city of 25,000, is noted for its support of the arts and as the home of state and national leaders. Forty-five miles east of Gardner-Webb is the thriving city of Charlotte, the largest city in the Carolinas. Less than one hour away to the south is the city of Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Gardner-Webb is easily accessible, being located only three miles from U.S. 74 and thirteen miles from Interstate 85. Less than one hour from campus are the Smoky Mountains with many recreational opportunities. Gardner-Webb University enjoys the lifestyle of a relatively small institution yet has the advantage of being centrally located to major urban resources in nearby areas.

STUDENTS

Gardner-Webb University, founded by Baptists in 1905, has grown steadily to its current enrollment of nearly 4,000. The 2,500 undergraduates come from many states and 30 foreign countries. Slightly less than half of the students are men, and the student body includes several racial and socioeconomic groups. The three graduate schools enroll over 1200 students. Gardner-Webb University admits students of any race, color, sex, and national or ethnic origin without discrimination. This diversity enriches the life of the campus community and reflects the nature of American society.

PROGRAMS

Gardner-Webb University is committed to the liberal arts as the best preparation students can have for rewarding, meaningful lives. In addition, the University offers programs in career-oriented fields to prepare students for specialized work. All of the programs at Gardner-Webb are evaluated periodically by accrediting agencies to insure that standards of quality are maintained.

Gardner-Webb provides three distinct academic programs: the on-campus program, the Greater Opportunities for the Adult Learner Program (evening classes taught in a number of locations for graduates of two-year colleges), and Graduate Programs.

Gardner-Webb University has a Graduate School (offering M.A., M.S., Ed.S., and Ed.D. degrees in a variety of areas), a graduate School of Divinity (offering the M.Div. and D.Min. degrees), and a graduate School of Business (offering the M.B.A., I.M.B.A. and M.Acc. degrees). For additional information on the on-campus undergraduate and GOAL programs, see the bulletins for each program.

Complementing the academic program at Gardner-Webb University is a broad range of student life programs and activities designed to enable students to develop their personal identities and to create lifetime friendships.

FACULTY

Gardner-Webb University is blessed with a dedicated staff and an excellent faculty, seventy-seven percent of whom hold terminal degrees. The primary concern of the faculty is teaching. The faculty have been chosen because of their academic preparation, their Christian commitment, and their desire for excellence in teaching. Many of Gardner-Webb's faculty have blessed the University with long years of service. The faculty is large enough to provide well-rounded academic programs. Yet a major strength of Gardner-Webb is that the University has remained small enough so that the relationship between faculty and students is friendly, informal and lasting. The faculty/student ratio is 1:14.

ACADEMIC CALENDAR

The University's academic year is divided into two semesters and a summer school. The fall semester is a four-month term, ending prior to Christmas holidays. Following the four-month spring semester is a comprehensive summer school. For the Graduate School and Graduate School of Business it consists of two terms of five weeks each and a concurrent ten-week session in which some courses are offered. The School of Divinity also has three sessions: one six-week session, one three-week session, and one concurrent ten-week session. Evening classes both on-campus and at various off-campus locations are offered throughout the year.

The calendar is designed to meet the needs of full-time students with day and evening schedules, part-time students, and members of the communities in which classes are taught who desire further educational work.

The University offers workshops and seminars on a variety of topics and for a variety of groups throughout the year.

HISTORY

Gardner-Webb University has experienced remarkable growth, perseverance, and maturity. The institution began as a boarding high school and later became a junior college. Today Gardner-Webb is a thriving regional university with growing master's and doctoral programs.

From a movement initiated by the Kings Mountain Baptist Association in 1903, and later joined by the Sandy Run Baptist Association, the Boiling Springs High School was chartered on December 2, 1905, as an institution "where the young ... could have the best possible educational advantages under distinctive Christian influence." This close relationship of the institution to the area churches continues today.

In response to the changing educational needs of the area, the institution was transformed into the Boiling Springs Junior College in 1928. The Great Depression created many problems for the College, but its survival was secured by the sacrifices of many loyal supporters.

In 1942, Governor O. Max Gardner began devoting his energy, time, and wealth to strengthening and guiding the College. So important was his influence that the name of the institution was changed to Gardner-Webb College in honor of the governor, his wife Fay Webb Gardner, and their families.

The decades following World War II were years of physical growth and academic development. New buildings went up as enrollments increased. A major step in the institution's development was its full accreditation as a senior college in 1971. In 1980, the institution began offering a master of arts degree in education.

The institution officially became known as Gardner-Webb University in January 1993, culminating years of preparation. Today Gardner-Webb is a thriving regional university which offers eight distinct degree programs, has a highly qualified faculty and a beautiful campus of over 200 acres.

Historically the University has played significant roles in teacher education and ministerial preparation for church-related vocations. Programs of instruction and experiences designed to prepare teachers and ministers continue to be major objectives of the University.

Although there have been many changes over the years, Gardner-Webb University remains closely related to the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. The University holds in high esteem its commitment to Christian principles and values as the best foundation for the development of human personality and social order.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

The general Academic Information in this section applies to each of the graduate schools of the University: the Graduate School, the Graduate School of Business, and the M. Christopher White School of Divinity. See the section on each school for academic information specific to that program.

When changes are made in academic requirements, those in effect the year of a student's most recent continuous enrollment apply. Otherwise, changes are effective upon publication in this catalog.

COURSE REGISTRATION

Registration includes academic advising, selection of courses, and payment of fees. During preregistration, students should consult with their academic advisers on course selection and other degree requirements. However, it is the responsibility of the student, not the academic adviser, to ensure that all University graduation requirements are met.

Students will not receive credit for any course for which registration has not been completed. Unless students and their advisers consider it essential, they should not change the schedule after registration.

LATE REGISTRATION

Students must register according to the information given at preregistration. Continuing students who register after the published mail-in deadline must pay a $50 late registration fee. Students may register for a course after the first class meeting only with the prior approval of the professor and the dean or program director.

DROPPING, ADDING, AND WITHDRAWING FROM COURSES

Changes in a student's schedule may be made by going online to www.reg.gardner-webb.edu.

A student who withdraws from a course after the drop/add period must e-mail the request to the Registrar's Office at <registrar@gardner-webb.edu>. The student is responsible for carrying out the withdrawal and must secure written documentation of the withdrawal. When a student officially withdraws from a course, a grade of "W" (withdrew) is recorded during the first four weeks of the fall and spring semesters, or during the first week of a summer term. After this period a "WP" (withdrew passing) or "WF" (withdrew failing) is assigned by the professor based upon an assessment of the student's work to date in the course. No hours attempted are recorded for "W" and "WP" grades.

The last day for dropping an individual course is four weeks after midterm or a date not to exceed 75% of the course. The specific date is established each semester by the Registrar and published in registration materials mailed out by each graduate school. After this time the only courses which will be dropped are those which a student drops when withdrawing from school.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Each student admitted to graduate study is assigned a faculty adviser who assists the student in developing a program of study. Advisement sessions are scheduled each semester for all graduate students. It is the student's responsibility to meet with the adviser at the scheduled session or to make arrangements for an alternative meeting time. An appropriate schedule of courses leading to uninterrupted study and completion of all requirements is assured to fully accepted students who remain continuously enrolled. Course scheduling, however, may prevent acceleration of the completion of degree requirements. Other schedule options are available.

COURSE AND SCHEDULE CHANGES

The University reserves the right to cancel or discontinue any course because of small enrollment or for other reasons deemed necessary. In order to assure quality instruction, the University reserves the right to close registration when the maximum enrollment has been reached and to make changes in schedule and/or faculty when necessary.

ACADEMIC LOAD

GRADUATE SCHOOL

In the Graduate School, a full load is six semester hours during the summer term and three to six semesters hours during each regular semester, depending on the student's program.

In the Graduate School, a full load is six semester hours during the summer term and three to six hours during each regular semester, depending on the student's program. The maximum course load for which students may register during fall and spring semesters is nine semester hours. It is strongly recommended that students who are employed full-time register for no more than six hours during any term. (The maximum load includes coursework taken elsewhere for transfer into a student's Gardner-Webb program.) Under extraordinary circumstances exceptional students may request to exceed the maximum course load; such a request must be approved by the student's advisor, the program coordinator, and the Dean of the Graduate School.

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

A full course load is six semester hours during fall semester, spring semester, and three semester hours each summer semester. Most students take six hours during fall and spring and three hours each summer semester. The maximum course load for students is nine hours during fall and spring semesters and three hours each summer semester. It is recommended that students who are employed full-time register for no more than six hours during fall and spring semesters.

Most students begin the program in August, but entry during spring and summer is an option. Students who begin in August and successfully complete two courses each fall, spring, and summer will graduate at the end of their second summer of study, 24 months after beginning the program. Students taking less than two courses in a semester will most likely graduate in three or four years. Six calendar years are allowed for completion of the degrees.

SCHOOL OF DIVINITY

A minimum full-time course load for M.Div. degree students is nine hours per semester. The maximum course load for M.Div. degree students is seventeen hours per semester. A class load of more than fourteen hours per semester must be approved by the student's faculty mentor. It is suggested that new students restrict their class loads to nine to twelve hours in the initial semester.

The definition of a full-time load is made for those students requiring certification of full-time status for participation in insurance programs, the receipt of veteran's benefits, or the regulations of U.S. Immigration. Students enrolled full time are eligible to apply for various financial aid packages. The students should consult with the Financial Planning office regarding the availability of financial aid.

AUDITING COURSES

Any Gardner-Webb student may audit a course for a $150 fee. The auditor is expected to complete the special auditor registration form and to complete all course requirements, with the exception of tests and examinations. Approval of the professor and the Dean or Director is required.

CHALLENGE EXAMINATION POLICY

GRADUATE SCHOOL, GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

When a student has experience and/or training comparable to that taught within a particular graduate course, the student may request the option of taking a challenge examination to demonstrate mastery of the course content. This challenge examination will be an in-depth and comprehensive assessment of the student's ability to answer questions on course content. An acceptable grade on the examination will permit the student to receive credit for the course. However, the student will be held responsible for all course material on the comprehensive examination or in the capstone experience, as applicable.

To request the opportunity to take a challenge examination, the student must present, in writing, justification for such an examination to the dean of the school or chair of the department in which the course is offered. *The request must be made after consultation with the advisor and within the first twelve semester hours or the first calendar year of graduate study, whichever comes first. The request must be accompanied by payment of a challenge exam fee of $150 per course. The dean of the school or chair of the department will appoint a committee to review the request, and if it is approved, will appoint the examining professor. If the examination results are acceptable, the examining professor will report the results, via the Certification of Successful Challenge Examination form, to the director/coordinator of the student's graduate program, who will sign the form and submit it to the Dean of the Graduate School or the Dean of the Business School, as applicable. That dean will notify the Registrar, who will credit the student with the appropriate number of hours for the course. No grade will be assigned or averaged into the quality point average.

Note: The number of total hours challenged or transferred may not exceed a student's graduate program guidelines.*

COMPUTER FACILITIES

In several locations on campus, the Gardner-Webb University student has ready access to a wide variety of computer facilities, including five minicomputer systems and numerous microcomputers. In addition to the use of computers in the Computer Science and Management Information Systems programs, computers are an integral part of programs such as English, Education, Psychology, and Business.

Access to Internet is provided through computer labs on campus and other locations.

LEARNING ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Learning Assistance Program is designed to help students attain proficiency in the fundamental academic skills: writing, reading, mathematics, and study skills. The program features a Learning Assistance Center where any Gardner-Webb student may request help with a particular reading, mathematics or study skill. Assistance may be provided in the form of tutoring, or through other learning materials appropriate for the student's needs. The Learning Assistance Program also offers basic skills courses in reading, writing, and mathematics. Students receive individual attention focused on their particular needs as well as ample opportunities to practice their skills in a supportive environment. In addition, the program presents occasional workshops on reading, writing, and study skills.

LIBRARY

The Dover Memorial Library is an active and integral part of the University's academic program. The Library's collections, available on open stacks, support all areas of the curriculum with a total item count of approximately 850,000, including 230,000 volumes, 600,000 microforms, and many other materials such as videos, compact discs, and computer files. The Library has print and/or online full-text access to more than 11,000 periodicals and is a selective depository for federal government documents.

In addition to its collections, the library provides numerous services to reinforce and enhance the instructional process for both on and off-campus students.

Professional librarians are available for individual and group instruction. Interlibrary loan, audiovisual, and production (lamination, transparencies, etc.) services are available. The Library's home page, www.library.gardner-webb.edu, provides access to our online catalog and databases as well as information about the Library facility and the Library's resources, services, and policies.

LIBRARY PRIVILEGES

Student identification cards are prepared at the time of registration. These cards are necessary in order to use the Dover Memorial Library and other facilities where identification is required. Currently enrolled students may check out materials, use interlibrary loan, etc. Library privileges require compliance with stated policies affecting return of materials. Failure to comply may result in fines and suspension of check-out privileges.

NOEL PROGRAM FOR THE DISABLED

The Noel Program for the Disabled provides support to the deaf, the blind and other students with documented disabilities. In order to assess each disabled student's needs and to provide the necessary support services, professional documentation of a disability or disabilities must be furnished no later than three weeks prior to the beginning of services. Documentation must be current. Upon acceptance to the graduate program, documentation should be sent to the Noel Program.

UNIVERSITY WRITING CENTER

The University Writing Center, located in Craig Hall, offers free assistance on any problem related to writing to all Gardner-Webb students. A staff of qualified graduate and undergraduate students, under the direction of a faculty specialist in writing, provide individual and group tutoring and answer questions upon request.

CLASS ATTENDANCE POLICY

Regular class attendance is an important student obligation. Students are responsible for all course work conducted in class meetings. Students are required by university policy to attend a minimum of 75% of the scheduled class meetings. Furthermore, it is the prerogative of the professor to set a more stringent class attendance policy. During the first week of the semester, the professor will clearly state, in writing, the attendance policies which will govern the class. Students are responsible for knowing the number of absences that they accumulate.

Absence from class does not excuse the student from responsibility for class work. Planned class absences for official business or foreseeable personal circumstances must be negotiated with the professor before the absence and plans made for completing course work missed.

EXAMINATIONS AND REPORTS

Comprehensive final examinations are required in every course at the end of the semester. The only exceptions are courses which require major research papers as the primary activity of the course. A student who does not take the examination at the scheduled time will receive a failing grade in that subject unless excused by the professor. If the student is excused, the grade will be recorded as Incomplete.

Grades will not be recorded if the student's account is in arrears unless satisfactory arrangements have been made with the Business Office.

GRADES AND REPORTS

GRADING SYSTEMS AND QUALITY POINTS

Graduation is dependent upon quality as well as upon quantity of work done.

Letter grades are used. They are interpreted in the table below, with the quality points for each hour of credit shown at the right.

Grades	Hours Attempted Per Credit Hour	Quality Points Per Credit Hour
A - Superior	1	4
B - Satisfactory	1	3
C - Passing	1	2
D - Marginal (Divinity only)	1	1
F - Failing	1	0
I - Incomplete	0	0
IN - (see below)	0	0
W - Withdrew without penalty	0	0
WP - Withdrew passing	0	0
WF - Withdrew failing	1	0
@F - Administrative Failure	1	1

An 'I' grade is assigned only when a small amount of coursework (i.e., test, project, research paper, or final exam) is not complete, and the reason for the incomplete work is of a serious nature and beyond the student's control. The assigning of an 'I' grade must be accompanied by the completion of an 'I' Grade contract, with one copy given to the student, one kept on file by the professor, and one submitted to the Associate Provost within seven days after grades are submitted. The student must complete the coursework by the date provided by the professor. The professor should submit the change of grade form no later than 90 days after the last day of the term in which the 'I' grade was assigned, or earlier.

The grade of IN is assigned in the following cases:

- (1) individuals in a practicum or internship who are prevented by circumstances beyond their control from completing their practicum or internship by scheduled deadlines;
- (2) students in courses with a multi-semester component (e.g., Nursing Project/Thesis, or ENED 691) which are not completed by grading deadlines.

A W will be assigned when a student withdraws from a course during the first four weeks of the semester or the first week of a summer term. After these time periods, a WF or WP is assigned by the professor based upon the professor's assessment of the student's work to date in the course.

The @W represents an administrative withdrawal from a course. It is assigned to any student on an official class roll who has never attended a class session.

The @F represents an administrative failure of a course. It can be assigned by either the professor or the registrar's office to any student who exceeds the permissible number of absences in a course. This grade is treated the same as the regular F; it counts against the student's grade-point average and is repeatable only under the provisions outlined below.

Even when a grade of @W or @F has already been assigned by the registrar's office, a professor may assign a regular F at the end of the term as he/she deems appropriate.

Once a grade has been submitted to the Registrar, it cannot be changed except in the event of a clerical error or an error in calculation, or as a result of the appeal process described below.

A student who has a question about a grade should consult the professor as soon as possible. A student who believes a grade to be inaccurate or unfair may address the matter following the process described below under “Academic Grievance and Appeal Procedures.”

Under no circumstances will a grade be changed, after having been reported to the Registrar, without the approval of the Associate Provost of Schools.

ACADEMIC PROBATION, SUSPENSION, DISMISSAL

GRADUATE SCHOOL, GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

A student must have an average of 3.0 overall to be awarded the M.A., M.S., M.B.A., I.M.B.A., or M.Acc. degree. When the GPA falls below 3.0, the student is placed on probation. If, after six hours of additional work, the student does not attain a 3.0 overall, the student will be suspended. The student may reapply after one year. The program graduate faculty makes the decision on whether to readmit and, if readmitted, the stipulations that will apply.

A student on academic probation who earns an “I” grade will be suspended until the I is replaced by a regular grade, at which time other probation and suspension rules will apply.

F GRADE

Any admitted student receiving a grade of F in a graduate course will be suspended from the program in which the grade was received. The student may reapply to that program after one year. Dual degree-seeking students who receive an F in a course that applies to both programs will be suspended from both programs. The program graduate faculty makes the decision on whether to readmit, and, if readmitted, the stipulations that will apply. If readmitted, the student must repeat at Gardner-Webb the course in which he or she received the F, making at least a B. The course must be repeated the first time it is offered at the student’s site or online after the student’s return. Only the higher grade will be counted in computing the Gardner-Webb grade point average, although the lower grade will remain on the official transcript. No more than one F may be repeated.

C GRADE

A student who receives nine hours of C grades will be suspended from the program in which the grades were received. The student may reapply to that program after one year. The program graduate faculty makes the decision on whether to readmit and, if readmitted, the stipulations that will apply. A student may repeat one course in which a C grade was earned; the second grade will count for GPA purposes but will not replace the initial C grade. Only one of the courses will count toward degree requirements.

ACADEMIC DISMISSAL

A student may receive no more than one suspension and have the opportunity to be readmitted. A second suspension results in academic dismissal from the program in which the suspension was received. Dual degree-seeking students who are dismissed from one program may continue to pursue their degree in the other program.

SCHOOL OF DIVINITY ACADEMIC DISMISSAL POLICY

Students who fail to satisfy the requirements for removal of academic suspension after having been readmitted will be required to withdraw from enrollment in the degree program. Students who are dismissed under these conditions are not eligible for readmission.

REPEATING COURSES

Courses may be taken only once with the exception given under the F and C grade policies above.

SCHOOL OF DIVINITY

A student must have at least a 2.0 overall Grade Point Average to be awarded a degree in the School of Divinity. When the GPA falls below 2.0, the student is placed on academic probation and is so notified. In order to be removed from academic probation, the student may enroll for a maximum of nine semester hours in the following semester and attain a cumulative GPA of 2.0. If at the completion of this semester the student has not attained a 2.0 GPA, the student may be placed on academic suspension. Students placed on academic suspension will be required to withdraw for at least one semester (not including summer sessions). After that time, students wishing to resume studies may seek readmission to the degree program. Students who are readmitted after having been placed on academic suspension will be allowed to take no more than six hours and must earn a semester grade point average of 2.50. Students failing to meet this stipulation may be subject to academic dismissal.

REPEATING COURSES

Only courses with a grade of "D," "F," or "WF" may be repeated and then only once. When a course is repeated at the School of Divinity, only the higher grade is counted in computing the student's overall grade point average, although the lower grade remains on the official transcript.

TRANSFER COURSES WHILE ON SUSPENSION OR PROBATION

A student may not take courses for transfer credit from another institution while on suspension or probation.

ACADEMIC RENEWAL POLICY

GRADUATE SCHOOL, GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

A student who returns to graduate study after a period of five or more years, having earned in a different graduate program a GPA below the 3.0 required to be in good academic standing at Gardner-Webb University, may petition the full Graduate Council to have the previous GPA (along with attendant hours attempted, hours earned, and quality points) rendered inactive in his/her graduate record. Eligibility for such petition is further limited by the following conditions: a student may petition for Academic Renewal one time only, the policy is applicable only to grades earned on graduate coursework at Gardner-Webb University, and it will not apply to failing grades assigned as a result of disciplinary action. Furthermore, the prior courses and grades will remain on the transcript with notation, and they must be applied to consideration for any academic award. A petition for Academic Renewal should include an explanation of the factors contributing to the previous poor academic performance and reasons that this history does not apply to the present circumstances. Academic Renewal must be approved by majority vote of Graduate Council.

TRANSCRIPTS

The Registrar will furnish transcripts of credit upon written request. Official copies are $10 each, and this fee should accompany the request.

No transcript will be issued until all the student's accounts have been settled satisfactorily.

STUDENT ACCESS TO EDUCATIONAL RECORDS

Gardner-Webb University complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. This Act is designed to protect the privacy of educational records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their educational records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Students also have the right to file complaints with The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Office (FERPA) concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the Act.

Institutional policy explains in detail the procedures to be used by the institution for compliance with the provisions of the Act. Copies of the policy can be found in the Office of the Registrar. That office also maintains a Directory of Records, which lists all student educational records maintained by the institution. Information known as Directory Information will be published unless the student specifically requests that the Registrar's Office withhold this information. Directory Information is defined as the following: student name, local and permanent addresses, telephone numbers, date of birth, major(s), dates of attendance, previous educational institutions attended, and degree and awards received.

Questions concerning the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act may be referred to the Office of the Registrar.

ACADEMIC GRIEVANCE AND APPEAL PROCEDURES

FAIR PROCESS FOR ACADEMIC PROBLEMS

A student who experiences a problem concerning a grade or any other aspect of a course should first discuss the matter with the professor. If the problem is not resolved, he or she should go next to the dean of the school, the chair of the department or the coordinator/director of the particular graduate program, whichever is appropriate. If not satisfactorily resolved, the matter should be taken to the dean of the graduate school in which the student is enrolled, who will hear only those parties involved and make a decision in the case.

ACADEMIC APPEALS

GRADUATE SCHOOL, GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

If a student is not satisfied with the decision in his or her case regarding an academic matter, that student has a right to appeal. (This right to appeal academic matters applies to applications of written academic policy, to academic dishonesty decisions, and to grade and other course complaints that have already been through the process stated above.) In order to appeal an academic matter, he or she should address a letter to the Chair of the Graduate Council, stating the reason for the appeal and explaining the circumstances. If the student is asked to appear before the Council, he or she at that time may bring a representative from within the University to act as counsel. Deadline for an academic dishonesty appeal is seven days after the date of the decision being appealed. Grade appeals must be completed on or before the last day of the following semester. Deadline for all other types of academic appeals is eighteen months after the date of the decision being appealed.

SCHOOL OF DIVINITY

A student who experiences a problem concerning a grade or any other aspect of a course, including issues relating to but not limited to academic dishonesty, should first discuss the matter with the professor. If the problem is not resolved, the student should go next to the Associate Dean of the School of Divinity. If the student or the professor is not satisfied with the decision of the Associate Dean, either party may take the matter to the Appeals Committee whose decision is final. The Appeals Committee consists of the Dean of the School of Divinity, who serves as chair, and two School of Divinity faculty members.

To initiate an appeal, the dissatisfied party should address a letter to the Dean of the School of Divinity, stating the reason for the appeal and explaining the circumstances. The Dean will convene the Appeals Committee. If the student or the professor is asked to appear before the committee, he or she at that time may bring a representative from within the University to act as counsel. The deadline for an academic dishonesty appeal is seven days after the date of the decision being appealed. The deadline for other types of academic appeals (except for grade appeals) is eighteen months after the date of the decision being appealed. Grade appeals must be completed prior to the last day of the following semester. Grade appeals relating to courses taken during the summer must be made prior to the last day of the following fall semester.

ACADEMIC HONESTYGRADUATE PROGRAMS CODE OF ACADEMIC INTEGRITY*Preamble

As students willingly accept the benefits of membership in the Gardner-Webb academic community, which was founded on the ideals of Christianity, they acquire obligations to observe and uphold honesty, integrity, and truthfulness.

Gardner-Webb University expects its graduate students and faculty to display academic integrity. As in any community, this institution must be governed by regulations, which function best when they are fully understood, accepted and cherished by every member of the academic community. Therefore, all graduate students and faculty members are expected to be familiar with, and to base their actions upon, the following statements regarding academic integrity.

Code of Graduate Student Academic Integrity

The Code of Academic Integrity governs the responsibility of students in the various graduate programs of Gardner-Webb University to maintain integrity in academic work, defines violations of the standards, describes procedures for handling alleged violations of the standards, and lists applicable penalties.

Student Responsibilities

1. Students should recognize that the regulations governing academic integrity exist for the protection of the honest and that dishonesty in an academic setting must not be tolerated, much less condoned.
2. Students are responsible for their own work. Any assignment turned in by a student is assumed to be the work of the student whose name appears on the assignment.
3. Students are ultimately responsible for understanding faculty members' instructions for assignments. If instructions are not clear, students must seek clarification from professors.
4. Students must understand the definitions of cheating, plagiarism, and other forms of academic dishonesty.
5. Students should familiarize themselves with the proper use of citations and quotations in order to avoid submitting other people's work as their own.

6. Students are expected to report incidents of academic dishonesty to their professor.

7. Students who threaten or coerce other students or faculty members for reporting a violation of the Code of Academic Integrity will face disciplinary action, with dismissal from graduate study at Gardner-Webb University being the recommended punishment.

Infractions of the Code of Academic Integrity include, but are not limited to, the following:

Cheating – Intentionally using or attempting to use unapproved materials, information, notes, or other devices including unauthorized communication during an academic exercise.

Fabrication and Falsification – Intentional and unauthorized alteration or manufacturing of any information in an academic exercise. Fabrication is a matter of inventing information for academic purposes, whereas falsification is a matter of altering information.

Multiple Submission – The submission of substantial portions of the same academic work (including oral reports) for credit more than once without authorization.

Plagiarism – Intentionally or knowingly presenting the work of another as one's own (i.e., without proper acknowledgment of the source). The sole exception to the requirement of acknowledging sources is when the ideas, information, etc., are common knowledge.

Abuse of Academic Materials – Intentionally or knowingly destroying, stealing or making inaccessible library and other academic resource material.

Complicity in Academic Dishonesty – Intentionally helping or attempting to help another to commit any act of academic dishonesty.

Faculty Responsibilities

1. Faculty must explain all assignments as thoroughly as is reasonable and should address any extraordinary limitations on outside assistance.

2. Faculty members should take reasonable precautions in giving tests to reduce the likelihood that violations occur. The fact that a faculty member did not take a specific precaution does not, however, constitute an excuse for any form of academic dishonesty.

3. Faculty must be willing to investigate and, if circumstances warrant, press charges against students suspected of academic dishonesty.

4. Faculty members must file an Academic Dishonesty Report any time they charge a student with an infraction.

5. Faculty members must seek to be fair in their dealings with students, particularly regarding cases of academic dishonesty, and must realize that no student can be convicted on suspicion alone.

Procedures

A student is accused of, and charged with, violating the Code of Academic Integrity by the professor in the course. A Report of Academic Dishonesty form describing the alleged violation in full is initiated by the professor and completed either in person, by registered mail, by email, or by fax between the graduate student and the professor. The student is required to enter on the report a plea of either Responsible or Not Responsible within two business days. No response is considered as Responsible.

Responsible

A plea of Responsible means that the student is not contesting the allegation and accepts the penalty to be imposed by the professor. The professor then sends the completed Report of Academic Dishonesty to the Chair of the Graduate Council, who sends a copy to either the Dean of the Graduate School or Dean of the Graduate School of Business.

Not Responsible

A plea of Not Responsible means that the student is going to appeal the allegation and the recommended penalty. This plea requires that a written explanation be filed with the Chair of the Graduate Council within seven days of the date of the plea. The written explanation should include all of the circumstances and the grounds for contesting the charges. The professor sends the Report of Academic Dishonesty, and the student sends his/her written explanation, to the Chair of the Graduate Council, who sends a copy to either the Dean of the Graduate School or Dean of the Graduate School of Business. When the Chair of the Graduate Council receives the completed Report of Academic Dishonesty and the student's written explanation, the chair, in consultation with either the Dean of the Graduate School or Dean of the Graduate School of Business, appoints an Appeals Committee composed of the Chair and two other members of the Graduate Council. The Appeals Committee examines the Report of Academic Dishonesty and the student's written response. The committee may hear from the professor and the student, if they wish to appear before the committee. The committee decides whether to uphold or overturn the faculty member's allegation and the proposed punishment. It reports its findings to the Graduate Council, the faculty member, and the student.

Once the Appeals Committee makes its report, either the faculty member or the student may appeal the findings to the Provost within seven days, only on the basis of additional evidence, improper procedure, or a punishment inconsistent with the offense. The Provost may decide to hear the appeal or deny a further hearing. The Provost's decision is final.

Penalties

A student convicted of academic dishonesty may receive an F in the course, a situation which brings automatic suspension from graduate studies.

STUDENT GRIEVANCE POLICY (NON-ACADEMIC)

Any Student who believes he/she has been discriminated against by a member of the faculty, an employee of the University, or by a fellow student is encouraged to file a complaint. If a student believes he/she has been discriminated against in accordance with policies and practices listed under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, or section 504 of the Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1973, he or she may make a claim that his or her rights have been denied. Claims or grievances should be filed with the appropriate University official.

Complaints and grievances related to academic matters should be made in accordance with policies and procedures stated in the current Catalog of Graduate Programs.

Complaints and grievances related to non-academic employees of the University should be made to the supervisor of the employee or to the vice president of that area.

Complaints and grievances related to student life, student activities, residence life, counseling, safety and security, or campus ministry should be made to the Vice President and Dean of Student Development.

Complaints and grievances related to admissions practices, recruitment, and financial aid should be made to the Vice President for Enrollment Management.

Complaints and grievances related to accounts payable and business office related functions should be made to the Vice President of Business Affairs.

Complaints and grievances related to athletics should be made to the Vice President for Athletics.

Complaints and grievances related to public relations, publications, and donations to the University should be made to the Vice President for University Relations.

Complaints and grievances specifically related to the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)/Section 504 should be made to the Director of Human Resources, who serves as the ADA/504 coordinator. [Complaints and grievances specifically related to educational support services may be made to the Director of the Noel Program for the Disabled.] Complaints and grievances unresolved at this level may be addressed to the Human Relations Committee. The Director of Human Resources will assist with the forwarding of unresolved complaints and grievances to the Human Relations Committee. Decisions by the Human Relations Committee are subject to review by the Provost. The Provost may take whatever action he deems necessary and appropriate. The Provost's conclusions and actions are final.

If a student believes he/she has been harassed or otherwise discriminated against because of race, gender, religion, color, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, or military service, the student should report the matter immediately to the Vice President and Dean of Student Development. In the case of sexual harassment, the complaint should be made in accordance with the University's sexual harassment policy as stated in the current student handbook. If a student is not sure how to file a complaint, the Vice President and Dean of Student Development will assist the student.

Complaints should be presented orally to the appropriate University officials described above. If an informal discussion of the matter is not satisfactory, a written statement of the complaint will be requested. A written statement should contain the following:

- a. The exact nature and details of the grievance.
- b. The date, time, and place of the grievance.
- c. The names of witnesses or persons who have knowledge of the grievance.
- d. Any available written documentation or evidence that is relevant to the grievance.

The University official who receives the written complaint will investigate the complaint and take whatever action is deemed necessary and appropriate and will respond to the student in a timely manner. If a student has followed the grievance policy process and remains dissatisfied with the response to the complaint, the student may appeal to the Graduate Council or to the School of Divinity Appeals Committee, whichever is appropriate, for academic matters and to the University Appeal Board for non-academic matters. Decisions by the University Appeal Board are subject to review by the Provost. The Provost may take whatever action he deems necessary and appropriate. The Provost's conclusions and actions regarding the complaint are final.

PROGRESS REVIEW

When the M.A., M.S.N., M.A./Ed.S., M.Acc., M.B.A., or I.M.B.A. student has earned between 15 and 21 hours credit, the student and the adviser review progress to date and determine additional work to be completed for the degree. At this time the adviser and the student fill out and sign a midpoint checklist.

APPLICATION FOR DEGREE

A student must apply for the graduate degree during the semester preceding the final term of study. An appointment should be made with the adviser who will provide appropriate forms to be filled out to obtain the degree. The adviser will validate the information on the application. It is the student's responsibility to turn in the signed form to the Registrar. A $100.00 application for graduation fee is required; this includes the diploma and administrative costs. Students submitting applications after the published deadline must pay a $50 late fee.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Gardner-Webb conducts commencement exercises at the conclusion of the spring semester and at the conclusion of summer school. Each candidate for a degree must be present for rehearsal (if held) and for the conferring of degrees. The University is not obligated to grant a degree to any candidate for graduation who does not attend these exercises. Any exception to this policy must be approved in writing by the Provost.

GRADUATE STUDENT REPRESENTATION ON THE GRADUATE COUNCIL

The Graduate Council is the governing body for all graduate programs at Gardner-Webb except for the M.Div. and D. Min. degrees. Graduate students are represented each year on the Graduate Council by a representative who has voting privileges on the Council.

HONOR SOCIETIES

These activities and others help the student to develop social and interpersonal skills, deepen spiritual commitments, explore career opportunities, formulate a philosophy of life, develop leadership skills, and develop sound ethical and moral principles. The University supports and encourages student involvement in a variety of activities.

The Broyhill Adventure Course is based on the "Challenge by Choice" philosophy which allows participants to choose the level of involvement with which they are comfortable.

CAMPUS MINISTRIES

While Gardner-Webb is committed to excellence in academics, it is equally committed to the spiritual growth of each of its students. To encourage and challenge the University community in their Christian growth, the Campus Ministries staff:

- Offers pastoral care to students, faculty, administration, and staff.
- Provides vocational counseling and placement assistance to students interested in church-related vocations.
- Assists students in finding a place of worship as they seek a family of faith with which to affiliate.

The Office of Campus Ministries provides numerous opportunities for the spiritual development of each student. Through student ministry organizations, students are encouraged and challenged in personal discipleship, corporate worship, and life-changing ministry and mission experiences.

COUNSELING AND CAREER SERVICES

The Counseling Center provides personal and career counseling. Individuals are helped in developing constructive life plans, handling crisis situations, and coping with day-to-day problems. Programs and group counseling are available for special needs and interest issues. All counseling is confidential. On-campus services of the Counseling Center are made available at no additional cost to the student. Appointments can be made by contacting the Counseling Center. Referral to local community services may be made, if needed.

The Career Services Office is dedicated to serving Gardner-Webb students and alumni with an emphasis on two fundamental roles - aiding in career exploration and self-discovery and providing a myriad of resources to aid in the job search process. All Gardner-Webb students and alumni are eligible for career planning and placement services including use of SIGI-PLUS, a computerized guidance system, resume writing assistance, and job listing service. The Career Services Office also sponsors educational workshops, on-campus interviewing, and several career fairs throughout the year, again open to all current students and alumni.

The Career Services Office also administers an online resume referral and job listing service. For a complete listing of upcoming events and a current copy of the Jobs Bulletin, visit the website at www.careers.gardner-webb.edu. Bookmark the site and visit often, as the content of the site changes daily.

Employers are an integral part of career services. However, the Career Services Office reserves the right to refuse employers with discriminatory hiring practices. The office will also make decisions regarding third-person employers and on campus recruitment.

VOLUNTEERISM

The Office of Volunteerism exists to provide all members of the Gardner-Webb community with meaningful service opportunities. Each year, Gardner-Webb students, faculty and staff volunteer their time and talents to the surrounding community through various campus wide programs sponsored by the Office of Volunteerism. These annual programs include the Volunteer Fair, canned food drive, Salvation Army Angel Tree, Make-A-Difference Day, and others.

In addition to providing campus wide service programs, the Office of Volunteerism also serves as a resource center and clearinghouse for volunteer information. Interested individuals and groups may visit the office to receive information on various on-going and one time service opportunities.

RESIDENCE LIFE

The University strives to make residential living attractive, comfortable and developmental in nature. All of the residence halls are air conditioned. Students should bring linens, pillow, and other items to personalize their room. It is strongly suggested that they consult with their roommate about decor and items they want to bring.

Residence halls open the day before registration each semester and close after classes at the end of the fall, spring and summer semesters. Residence halls close during Christmas break except for international students or those participating in University sponsored events. Students must sign-up to stay during other breaks.

Room assignments are made through the Residence Life Office. Notification of room assignment will be made during the summer.

Each residence hall is staffed with an Area Director or Graduate Resident Director and Resident Advisors. The staff is available to assist students with a variety of situations and concerns. All halls are equipped with laundry rooms and vending machines for snacks and beverages. Each room has telephone and cable TV service with DC and International access convenient to all areas of campus. In addition, the campus is wired for internet use and voice mail.

CAMPUS SHOP

The Campus Shop, located in the Charles I. Dover Campus Center, provides all books and materials needed by graduate students for their courses of study. Textbooks are delivered to students at off-campus centers.

UNIVERSITY POLICE

The University Police department is a multi-functional service agency whose primary purpose is to protect the University community and enforce regulations designed for safety and security of life and property. Full-time officers are professionals who have been properly trained, certified, and commissioned. Services provided by the department include traffic control, engraving for identification purposes, educational seminars, a 24-hour emergency number, vehicle entry service for “lock-outs,” vehicle “jump starts,” and escort service on campus. Officers patrol the entire campus on foot, on bicycles, and in marked/unmarked police vehicles. The department also employs students who are uniformed.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION

All motorized vehicles operated on Gardner-Webb property must be registered with the University Police Office and display a valid permit. Graduate students can obtain permits for $30.00 during registrations, orientations, and regular business hours from the Office of University Police. A summer-only registration fee is $15. A parking regulations and restrictions manual is distributed with each permit. The University Police department is located in the Poston Center and operates on a 24-hour basis. The Poston Center also functions as a reception center Monday through Friday 8:00 A.M. until 10:00 P.M. and Sundays 2:00 P.M. until 10:00 P.M.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS

Identification cards can be obtained from the University Police department. If a campus visit is not possible, cards can be obtained by sending a photo (passport size or larger) to the Graduate School, Graduate School of Business, or School of Divinity Office. Identification cards are issued to first time students free of charge, and replacement cards are available for $10.00. Identification cards are valid for the duration of a student's enrollment at Gardner-Webb University.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The Office of Student Activities is responsible for the educational and entertainment programming for the students at Gardner-Webb University. A variety of programs is offered to help and encourage the student to grow socially, culturally and spiritually. All students are encouraged to attend and take part in campus activities.

UNIVERSITY PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT COMPLEX

Gardner-Webb University offers students, faculty, and staff a facility furnished with the latest state-of-art cardiovascular equipment to improve comprehensive health and wellness. The Suttle Wellness Center, one of the areas in the University Physical Development Complex, also houses a complete game room for student enjoyment along with a TV viewing area and lounge for gathering with other students and friends. The Suttle Wellness Center, the Bost Gym and swimming pool, a full aerobics workout room, and a free-weight room make up the Complex. Students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to use this facility as a means of achieving overall physical well-being and recreation.

CULTURAL LIFE

Each year a variety of programs is offered for the cultural and intellectual enrichment of campus life.

The Department of Fine Arts brings outstanding artists and performers to the campus during the year. The Student Entertainment Association and the Student Government Association also schedule a number of events. Distinguished scholars in various fields are invited to the campus each year to provide lectures and seminars for the enrichment of the academic program.

There are also recitals in the Dover Theatre and in the O. Max Gardner Fine Arts Hall by members of the Fine Arts Department faculty and advanced students in music. Several choral and orchestral concerts are scheduled.

Plays presented by Gardner-Webb students and by visiting drama groups are also a feature of the University's cultural offerings.

STUDENT GUIDELINES, EXPECTATIONS AND RIGHTS

Gardner-Webb University is a community of students, faculty and staff who are dedicated to learning and personal development in an environment of Christian concern. As in any community, certain standards of conduct are necessary to protect the safety, rights, health and general well-being of all members of the community. The University strives to promote concern for the good of the entire group as opposed to selfish individualism.

Each person whether student, faculty or staff voluntarily joins the University community and thus is expected to abide by rules and regulations that have been adopted to insure reasonable standards of conduct. The prohibited behavior code describes conduct which the University does not tolerate. By enrolling in the University, each student agrees to abide by University rules, regulations, and expectations. The Board of Trustees has approved minimum penalties for certain of the prohibited behaviors. The University assures fundamental fairness to any student accused of involvement in prohibited behavior.

The Student Handbook describes the prohibited behavior code and the judicial process used in the event that a student becomes involved in prohibited behavior. The Handbook is distributed during orientation, at which time student rights, responsibilities and expectations are explained in greater detail. The Handbook is also available at the offices of Student Development.

Gardner-Webb University supports and is fully committed to the concept of a drug and alcohol free campus community. In order to comply with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989, Gardner-Webb publishes the following and makes it available to each student.

(1) The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession or use of controlled substances such as but not limited to the following:

- Narcotics (heroin, morphine, etc.)
- Cannabis (marijuana, hashish, etc.)
- Stimulants (cocaine, diet pills, etc.)
- Depressants (tranquilizers, etc.)
- Hallucinogens (PCP, LSD, designer drugs, etc.)
- Designer (MDA, MDA-known as ecstasy, ice, etc.)
- Alcohol

is prohibited by students on Gardner-Webb University's property or as any part of the university's activities. As a condition of enrollment, Gardner-Webb University students will abide by these terms.

(2) Gardner-Webb will impose disciplinary sanctions on students who violate the terms of paragraph 1, above. Upon conviction, the appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including expulsion from the University and/or satisfactory participation in a drug and alcohol abuse assistance or rehabilitation program approved for such purposes by a Federal, State, or local health, law enforcement, or other appropriate agency, will be taken. More specific penalties are outlined in the Gardner-Webb University Student Handbook. Violations may also be referred to the appropriate civil authorities for prosecution under local, state, and federal law.

(3) Local, state, and federal laws prohibit the possession, and distribution of illicit drugs, alcohol and weapons. The applicable legal sanctions for various offenses are listed in the North Carolina Criminal Law and Procedure book, a reference copy of which is maintained by the University's Campus Police Department.

(4) Information describing the health risks associated with the illicit drugs and abuse of alcohol is made available to all students. Additional information and individual counseling is available through the University's Counseling Center. If necessary and at the student's expense, referral can be made to an outside agency.

(5) Local, state, and federal law prohibits the possession of weapons on campus. These laws supersede any statutes which allow the possession of a concealed weapon by permit. G.S. 14.269.2

CLINICAL PASTORAL EDUCATION (CPE)

Payment to accredited providers of CPE is the responsibility of the student. This payment is to be made through the Gardner-Webb University Business Office. Registration for course credit for DSPC 200 is through the School of Divinity. Applicable scholarships are available to the student through the Director of Admissions.

SCHOOL OF DIVINITY DEPOSIT

Advanced Deposit: Upon notification of admission to the School of Divinity, an applicant should submit a non-refundable deposit of $150 to confirm his/her intention to attend the School of Divinity.

Balance of Account: The balance of the charges for the semester is due prior to enrolling for class. Those who cannot pay their accounts in full must make satisfactory financial arrangements with the University Business Office to obtain clearance to register.

CHARGE REDUCTION POLICY FOR CLASS WITHDRAWAL

Registration in the University is considered a contract binding the student for charges for the entire semester. However, it is the policy of Gardner-Webb University to give pro-rata charge reductions through 60% of the enrollment period in the event a student OFFICIALLY WITHDRAWS FROM SCHOOL. On-campus program students (Undergraduate and Divinity) must complete and return a withdrawal form to the Registrar's Office in order to be officially withdrawn. GOAL and Graduate program students may withdraw by telephoning or emailing the Registrar's office. A confirmation will be sent when the withdrawal is complete. The withdrawal date is the date this process begins.

Reductions will be computed on total charges for tuition, room and board but not on fees. Students leaving school for disciplinary reasons will not be eligible for any reduction and will be liable for the entire semester's charges. Students who withdraw from individual classes after the drop/add period will receive no charge reduction.

For purposes of interpreting this policy the pro-rata charge reduction percentage is equal to the number of calendar days (includes weekends) remaining in the semester divided by the number of calendar days in the semester. No charge reduction will be given after the 60% period of enrollment for the semester.

When a student's charges are reduced, Federal, State, Institutional and Non-institutional Aid will be adjusted in accordance with the regulations governing the respective programs. Please contact the University Business Office for current regulations concerning these programs. Leaving the University without officially withdrawing may result in a student forfeiting all financial aid and, thus, becoming responsible for the entire balance.

DELINQUENT STUDENT ACCOUNTS

A student with outstanding financial obligations may be prevented from registering for the following semester. A student will not be allowed to participate in commencement exercises or receive a diploma, nor will transcripts be released, until all financial obligations are satisfied. Delinquent accounts may be referred to collection agencies and/or credit bureaus. Financial obligations include, but are not limited to, student account balance, parking, disciplinary and library fines, and returned checks.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

THE MISSION OF THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

The mission of the Graduate School is to provide opportunities for high quality advanced study to individuals holding bachelor's degrees from regionally accredited institutions, within a context that embraces faith and intellectual freedom, balances conviction with compassion, and inspires in students love of learning, service, and leadership. The curricula—which for the most part are designed to meet the needs of full-time teachers, counselors, nurses, and school administrators working in their fields – emphasize independent, critical thinking; effective communication; and the importance of the scholar and professional educator/counselor/nurse as theorist and practitioner.

GOALS

In order to fulfill its mission, the Graduate School has the following goals:

1. To ensure that students receive high quality instruction from graduate faculty who encourage independent, critical thinking and effective communication; who integrate current theories and research into coursework; and who model the scholar and professional as theorist and practitioner.
2. To ensure that the curricula of the various graduate programs provide students with both depth and breadth of content.
3. To ensure that the curricula of the various graduate programs provide students with opportunity to gain knowledge of the important literature of their academic discipline.
4. To ensure that the curricula of the various graduate programs provide students with opportunity to engage in research and/or appropriate professional practice and training experiences.
5. To ensure that students receive accurate, timely, and helpful advising information.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS FOR MASTER'S DEGREE PROGRAMS

Application materials are available from the Graduate School Office. Most master's program students may enter at the beginning of any semester or summer term. Students are admitted to the counseling and religion programs in the fall semester only. To apply for initial admission to graduate study, the applicant should submit the following:

1. A completed application, either paper format with a $40 non-refundable processing fee, or online at www.gradschool.gardner-webb.edu.
2. An official transcript of all previous academic work beyond the high school to be sent directly from each institution attended. The Privacy Act requires that each student request in writing that transcripts be released to the Graduate School Office. (Use form provided with application.)
3. Scores on either the Graduate Record Examination; Miller Analogies Test; or for appropriate programs, PRAXIS II Subject Assessment.
4. Three professional references on Gardner-Webb Graduate School reference forms (references from family members not acceptable).
5. For programs leading to graduate level educator's license, evidence of A level North Carolina Teacher's license or equivalent.
6. For the Nursing, School Counseling, and Mental Health Counseling programs, proof of criminal background record check for all states of residence for the past five (5) years.
7. For the Nursing program, immunization records.

When all documents have been received, they will be evaluated by the Dean of the Graduate School and the chair or coordinator of the program area. The applicant will be notified of the decision. Prospective counseling and religion majors must schedule an interview with the appropriate faculty members before formal admission. (See descriptions of those programs for additional admissions requirements.) Students are notified of their admission status as soon as possible after completing the admissions process. Because of the confidential nature of some items of information required for admission, the University reserves the right to reject any applicant without stating a reason.

International Students follow the usual procedure for admission with these exceptions:

1. Transcripts must first be submitted to World Education Services for evaluation before being mailed to the Graduate School Office. Application for WES evaluations may be found in the Graduate School office or online at www.WES.org.
2. A satisfactory TOEFL score must be submitted unless English is the native tongue.
3. A Gardner-Webb form, Statement of Financial Responsibility, must be filled out, signed, and accompanied by a letter from student's or sponsor's bank showing amount to cover one year of graduate study.
4. Once the student's file is completed and an admissions decision has been made, the Graduate School Office will send the student an I20 Form, enabling the student to apply for a visa.

TYPES OF ADMISSION STATUS

Admission for graduate study at Gardner-Webb University is granted in the following categories.

FULL ADMISSION

An applicant who meets all criteria for admission to the various Master's degree programs may be granted full admission. These requirements include the following:

1. a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher learning with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 for Mental Health Counseling, 2.7 for School Counseling and Nursing, and 2.5 for all other master's degree programs;
2. satisfactory scores on either the Graduate Record Examination, Miller Analogies Test, or PRAXIS II Subject Assessment (acceptable for Elementary Education, English Education, Middle Grades Education, School Administration);
3. three positive references;
4. an A level teaching license or equivalent for those who are pursuing a graduate degree leading to graduate level licensure.

Applicants to the School or Mental Health Counseling, English or English Education, Religion, School Administration, Sport Science and Pedagogy, or Nursing programs should see the descriptions of those programs for additional requirements.

PROVISIONAL

An applicant who does not meet the formal requirements for full admission to a master's degree program may be granted provisional admission. A student admitted with provisional status must meet any conditions attached to his/her admission before being granted full admission. Deficiencies may include lack of undergraduate course prerequisites or background in the discipline, low test scores, low undergraduate grade point average, or the need to complete student teaching or teacher licensure. No student may be admitted to a degree program who has a grade point average lower than 2.25 on all college work attempted or the last 64 hours of undergraduate work attempted.

In most instances students must meet conditions of provisional admission within the first six hours of graduate work completed at Gardner-Webb. One obvious exception would be otherwise qualified applicants provisionally admitted to programs leading to graduate-level licensure because they are simultaneously pursuing initial licensure in the same discipline, who as a result of scheduling constraints may sometimes be unable to meet the condition of completing initial licensure requirements until they are well into their graduate program. Any other exceptions to the six-hour policy must be agreed upon by the Graduate Dean and director/coordinator of the program at the time of the provisional admission decision and specified in the acceptance letter.

SPECIAL *

A student entering the Graduate School to take courses for professional or career enhancement as a non-degree seeker is granted special admission. A maximum of six semester hours may be taken as a special student and applied toward a master of arts degree at Gardner-Webb.

Initial "A" Level Licensure: Applicants who hold a baccalaureate degree but who do not hold a North Carolina "A" level Teacher's License or its equivalent may apply for admission as Special Students to the approved Program for Teacher Licensure. The School of Education and the appropriate department offering the specialty studies will evaluate all undergraduate work.

Graduate Level Licensure: In some programs, students may pursue graduate level licensure without pursuing a graduate degree. Applicants who have earned a master's degree and who wish to earn a graduate level license in an additional area of specialization may apply for admission as Special Students. An evaluation of undergraduate and graduate work is required to determine courses necessary for graduate level licensure. Students must successfully complete the appropriate specialty area portion of the PRAXIS.

Public School Personnel: Public school teachers applying for the first time for courses solely for "A" level license renewal credit may be admitted as Special Students by completing the Graduate School application form and by presenting an official transcript showing completion of the bachelor's degree. If, however, credit is to be applied to a graduate degree, the student must make specific application for this credit before the completion of six hours, as well as meet all requirements for admission as a graduate degree student. Public school teachers and administrators applying for the first time for courses solely for graduate level license renewal credit may be admitted as Special Students by completing the Graduate School application and by filing an official transcript showing completion of the master's degree.

TRANSIENT *

Transient status is assigned to an applicant from another recognized graduate institution who desires enrollment at Gardner-Webb to take courses for transfer to the institution in which he or she is enrolled as a degree candidate. A transient student must submit an application for admission to the Graduate School and a letter from the dean or director of the program in which he or she is regularly enrolled indicating good standing.

 POLICY FOR ADMISSION OF SPECIAL OR TRANSIENT STUDENTS IN COUNSELING PROGRAMS

Students are admitted to the master's programs in counseling in a selective manner within a cohort model. Students are thus provided an enhanced opportunity to develop professional clinical skills and relationships in a safe environment with their classmates. School of Psychology and Counseling (SPC) faculty regard limiting clinical experiences to its own students critical in maintaining the optimal environment for learning and protecting the intent of the cohort model. Therefore, the SPC has a special policy and procedure regarding the admission of special or transient students to courses within the School Counseling and Mental Health Counseling programs. The SPC rarely admits students outside the regular admission policy, and will consider such requests on a case-by-case basis. Admission to any course will be by permission of the professor after consultation with other SPC faculty.

Students requesting admission to courses must meet the following requirements:

1. Current enrollment in an accredited college or university in a counseling program similar to those offered at Gardner-Webb University, or graduation from an accredited college or university in a counseling program;
2. Submission of an official transcript demonstrating being in good standing and with at least a 3.0 grade point average, or showing the degree conferred;
3. An application submitted to the Graduate School in the standard format, accompanied by a cover letter detailing the courses sought, the reasons they are desired from Gardner-Webb, and the reasons they cannot be taken at the individual's home institution.

Those courses which Gardner-Webb University considers to be clinical courses cannot be taken by students who are not enrolled in the Gardner-Webb University counseling master's programs.

These courses include at least the following:

CEDU 615	The Helping Relationship
CEDU 621	Crisis Intervention Counseling
CEDU 625	Group Counseling
CEDU 630	Individual Psychological Assessment and Measurement
CEDU 655	Psychodiagnostics and Treatment Planning
CEDU 670	Mental Health Counseling Practicum
CEDU 690,691,692	Mental Health Counseling Internships
CEDU 675,695,696	Practicum and Internships in School Counseling
CEDU 699	Professional Development of Mental Health Counselor

APPLICANT

An applicant to a master's program may be granted permission to register for one semester of course work (no more than six semester hours) prior to finishing the admission procedure; however, he or she must have completed an application to the Graduate School. Credit earned will be considered graduate level work but may not be counted toward a master's degree at Gardner-Webb until the student meets admissions criteria when all credentials are assessed. The student must be admitted to the Graduate School in order for him or her to register for a second term of course work.

AUDITOR (SEE PAGE 14)

TRANSFER OF COURSES FOR GRADUATE CREDIT

The primary purpose of the transfer of credits policy is to grant incoming master's program students credit for work previously completed. Students are expected to take the appropriate courses offered by Gardner-Webb once they enter the program. However, permission may be granted to take courses offered by other institutions when the appropriate course is not offered by Gardner-Webb or when it is more convenient for the University to approve a course for transfer than to offer the course by special arrangement. Students must satisfy licensure competencies as well as perform satisfactorily on program comprehensive exams. In addition, the Registrar's Office must have an original transcript on file showing the transfer course(s) before commencement, or the student's graduation may be delayed.

With the approval of the coordinator/director of the graduate area and the Dean of the Graduate School, a maximum of six semester hours may be accepted from another accredited graduate school toward the fulfillment of requirements for a graduate degree at Gardner-Webb. A maximum of nine semester hours may be accepted into counseling programs. Credit will not be given for courses taken more than six (6) calendar years before applying for admission to graduate study nor for courses taken towards another completed master's degree. Students currently enrolled in a graduate degree program at Gardner-Webb must have prior written approval to take courses from another institution for transfer credit.

Transfer credit will not be accepted for any course in which students earned below a grade of B. When transfer credit is requested for graduate courses that were graded on a P/F basis, approval of credit for courses in which the grade was a P will be decided on a case-by-case basis. A student may not take courses for transfer credit from another institution while on suspension or on probation.

Because of the unique modular structure of Gardner-Webb's Ed.D. programs, no credits may be transferred into them.

GRADUATE CREDIT FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

Undergraduate students who want to take graduate courses for graduate credit are limited to six semester hours and must obtain permission of the faculty member teaching the course and the appropriate graduate coordinator or department chair before registering for a graduate course.

Students who earned a bachelor's degree at Gardner-Webb University may not transfer for graduate credit any 500- or 600-level course taken as an undergraduate if that course contributed in any way to the requirements for the bachelor's degree. Graduate level courses that did not contribute toward the bachelor's degree may, at the discretion of the department chair, count toward the master's degree or graduate level license.

READMISSION OF FORMER STUDENTS

Any student who does not register for three consecutive terms (the two summer sessions count as one term) must apply for readmission before resuming graduate work. No application fee is charged for readmission.

TIME LIMITS

Students have a time limit to complete their degree of six (6) calendar years in master's programs and seven (7) calendar years in the Ed.D. program, from the beginning of the term in which they complete their first graduate course towards the degree they are currently seeking. Students who experience extenuating circumstances may apply for an extension through their program coordinator. The program graduate faculty makes the decision on whether to grant the extension and what stipulations will apply. If the student is not satisfied with the program faculty's decision, that student has the right to appeal.

COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATIONS

The successful completion of a comprehensive examination is required for graduate programs in English, Religion, School Administration, School Counseling, and Sport Science and Pedagogy. The following policies govern the administration of this examination.

1. The comprehensive examination includes questions related to the student's entire program, and the entire examination is read and approved by the student's comprehensive examination committee.
2. Only written comprehensive examinations are administered.
3. Students may take the comprehensive examination either during their last semester of course work or the following semester.
4. Successful completion of the comprehensive examination is not a part of any existing course structure.
5. Comprehensive examinations are evaluated by a Graduate Faculty Examination Committee, composed of at least three persons selected by the chair or coordinator of the appropriate department. A Comprehensive Examination Form, signed by the committee, is submitted to the Graduate School Office and becomes a part of the student's records. Successful completion of the comprehensive examination is defined as approval by a majority of the examining committee.
6. Students who fail the comprehensive examination may be retested on the failed portion(s) of the examination after a minimum of two weeks from the date of the first examination. Students who fail the comprehensive examination a second time must make written appeal to the Graduate Council in order to be considered for a third examination. Comprehensive examinations may be taken only three times.
7. The Graduate School Office mails out guidelines every semester in registration packets.

CAPSTONE EXPERIENCE

Candidates for the M.A. in Elementary Education, English Education, and Middle Grades Education and for the M.A./Ed.S. in Mental Health Counseling must complete a capstone experience to qualify for graduation. The capstone experience varies somewhat from program to program. Students should obtain details about the capstone experience from their adviser. In most programs, it includes preparing a portfolio, culminates in an oral presentation during the semester in which the student intends to graduate, and is evaluated by a committee composed of members of the Graduate Faculty of the program, according to guidelines available from the student's adviser.

APPLICATION FOR GRADUATE LICENSURE

An application for the North Carolina graduate level license must be filed with the Licensing Agent, currently the Dean of the School of Education, who may assist students in planning their program of study so that North Carolina licensure requirements may be met. With the exception of the school counseling program, one must hold, or be eligible to hold, an "A" level license before applying for graduate level license. Gardner-Webb will not recommend students for a graduate level license unless they have completed an approved program and scored satisfactorily on the appropriate PRAXIS II examination (if applicable) or, for school administration students, the state standards board exam. Students pursuing graduate and undergraduate level licensure must meet the requirements for both levels, including successful completion of the appropriate PRAXIS II examination (if applicable). Students seeking a recommendation for graduate "licensure only" must meet the same licensure requirements as those students pursuing the graduate degree. An application fee is required.

Certified checks in payment for state licensure must be made payable to the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction. Official transcripts of any transfer credits applied toward the Master of Arts degree at Gardner-Webb must be submitted both to the School of Education and the Graduate School Office. One of these transcripts will be sent to the State Department of Public Instruction with the application for Graduate Licensure.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS AND COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

MASTER OF ARTS IN EDUCATION

The Master of Arts in Education builds upon the instructional expertise, leadership qualities, and skills of experienced educators. The programs are aligned with the INTASC Principles and the NCDPI competencies required for licensure. The programs include rigorous academic preparation in and implementation of the latest research on human development and learning. Consequently, reflective practice becomes an integral component which supports the Gardner-Webb conceptual framework. Active participation in a program allows students to develop further those competencies essential to professional education and continued self-improvement, thus exemplifying the model of the Educator as Theorist and Practitioner.

Upon successful completion of a graduate program in education, students who hold initial licensure will be recommended for the North Carolina graduate license in the appropriate licensure area.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION (K-6)

COORDINATOR: DR. DONNA SIMMONS

The master's program in Elementary Education includes thirty semester hours in four components: professional, instructional, elective, and capstone. This program builds upon the most current body of knowledge of best practice and practical expertise (theory and practice) relevant to teaching in K-6.

In order to obtain graduate-level licensure, students must hold initial licensure in Elementary Education.

PURPOSE

Graduates of the Master of Arts in Elementary Education program are encouraged to be self-reflective, life-long learners who design, implement, and evaluate elementary school curriculum and instruction; interpret and apply current research findings; and conduct relevant classroom research. The program culminates with a capstone experience requiring synthesis of a student's products of learning in conjunction with an innovative project designed collaboratively by the student and graduate committee.

GOALS

The Master of Arts in Elementary Education is designed to meet the following program goals:

1. Provide a study of the theoretical base, research, and exemplary practices of current trends and issues in elementary education.
2. Provide preparation necessary to meet the intellectual, social, physical, and personal development needs of the K-6 learner.
3. Provide opportunities to acquire knowledge and skills needed to meet diverse needs of students in inclusive classroom settings.
4. Provide opportunities to utilize current technologies and to integrate technology in the classroom.
5. Provide advanced expertise in teaching communication skills across the curriculum.

6. Provide opportunities to develop teachers as leaders who are agents of change in the schools, in the local community, and in the global community.
7. Provide opportunities to develop and refine leadership styles and skills through a process of active engagement in learning, self-reflection, planning, collaboration, reflective teaching, and development of interpersonal and motivational skills.
8. Provide a learning environment which fosters respect and ethical principles in teacher/student and colleague relationships.

3. The final product of learning /project will be presented to education faculty and graduate students. The candidate's faculty committee will determine his/her worthiness to be awarded the Master's Degree in Elementary Education.

ENGLISH EDUCATION (9-12)

COORDINATOR: PROF. SHANA WOODWARD

The M.A. in English Education program (9-12) includes thirty semester hours in professional and content area studies. It leads to a recommendation for graduate-level NC Teaching License for those who possess initial licensure in 9-12 English. Graduate students who do not have initial licensure may obtain the degree but not the graduate-level license. However, students must be teaching some aspect of the discipline of English in a real-world context in order to complete the requirements of this program.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission requirements are the same as those for entry into other master's degree programs in the Graduate School at Gardner-Webb with these additions:

1. Applicants for the MA in English Education are required to submit a writing sample. This sample must be one of the following: (1) a documented research essay of 2000 or more words on a literary subject, presented in MLA format, and incorporating at least three works beyond the primary work, or (2) appropriately documented detailed lesson plans for a unit of literary study. This writing sample can be something the applicant has written previously for an academic assignment. The essay must be submitted electronically in Rich Text Format, either by email or on a disc (a hard copy may be submitted in addition, but the electronic copy is required).

2. Students without substantial undergraduate coursework in English should expect to be required to take undergraduate courses prior to admission in order to obtain background needed to be successful in graduate study in English. Students who do not meet these standards will be evaluated on an individual basis.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the Master of Arts in English Education (9-12) is to support the professional development of teachers of English who contribute to the community in which they teach through effective communications skills, through understanding and appreciation of literature of diverse cultures, through understanding of the importance of critical and independent thinking, through action research, and through knowledge of and reflection on effective teaching practices and strategies, including the use of appropriate technology.

GOALS

The goals of the program, in accordance with State Department guidelines, are that participants will:

1. Increase content area knowledge through various literature courses which recognize the scope and diversity of literature and its origins as well as the importance of a variety of skills in literary criticism and critical analysis.
2. Become better writers and teachers of writing through increased understanding of the writing process and of rhetorical principles.
3. Understand the importance of research, theory, planning, practice, and reflection in curriculum development and in the teaching of English.
4. Apply research to real-world experiences in order to improve classroom practice through action.
5. Develop the ability to be peer leaders as a result of their instructional expertise, knowledge of learners, research expertise, and ability to connect subject matter and learners.

Professional Reflections Portfolio

1. Each course in the M.A. in English Education program with an ENED prefix includes assignments for the Professional Reflections Portfolio. Usually these assignments ask students to develop teaching plans which involve applying aspects of the course's content in their teaching situations, with the use of technology encouraged when appropriate.
2. English 690/691/692, The English Teacher as Researcher, culminates in a formal report of an action research project. The action research report is also a part of the portfolio.
3. At the end of the program's course work, students are asked to reflect on and synthesize what they have learned with what they do in their own classrooms. They select two areas of content knowledge (from among the six ENGL courses they have taken) and write teaching guides or publishable unit plans in which they apply this content knowledge to their teaching situations.
4. Portfolios are presented to English faculty and graduate students and evaluated by a faculty committee to determine the student's worthiness to be awarded the M.A. in English Education degree.

M.DIV./M.A. IN ENGLISH EDUCATION DEGREE

Gardner-Webb offers a combined M.Div./M.A. in English Education degree. For details about this degree and for the policy on dual degree programs, see the Master of Divinity section of the catalog (pp. 125-129).

Dual degree students must apply to the Graduate School as well as to the School of Divinity, following the admission requirements of the respective programs, and be accepted to each in order to pursue both degrees. Also, when academic policies and standards differ between the two schools (e.g., grades required for maintaining good academic standing and for graduation), the policies and standards of the appropriate school apply to the respective portion of the dual degree.

MIDDLE GRADES EDUCATION (6-9)

COORDINATOR: DR. CARROLL SMITH

The Master's Degree in Middle Grades Education includes thirty semester hours in five components: professional, instructional, content area, elective, and capstone. The primary focus of the program is to enhance middle level teachers' understanding and knowledge of the theoretical base, research, and exemplary practices of middle level education including, but not limited to, the nature of the young adolescent, developmentally appropriate instruction, and advanced content area knowledge. The program leads to recommendation for graduate-level NC licensure for those who hold initial middle grades licensure.

PURPOSE

Graduate courses for the Master's Degree in Middle Grades Education are designed to assist in the advanced preparation of individuals who teach or desire to teach in a middle school. The Middle Grades Program allows learners to improve professional skills; "wrap theory in practice"; and enhance content area, pedagogical, and integration expertise. Students will benefit from a synthesis of current research and classroom applications. This program culminates in a capstone experience requiring an innovative project designed collaboratively by the student and the student's committee.

GOALS

The Master of Arts in Middle Grades Education is designed to meet the following program goals:

1. Provide an analysis of the theoretical base, current research, and exemplary practices of middle grades education.
2. Provide advanced preparation in young adolescent development within cultural and social contexts (family changes, health and safety, risk behaviors).
3. Develop an extended understanding of the comparative history and philosophy of middle grades education, and theories about its future development, including organizational components, assessment, and evaluation in the middle school setting.
4. Provide opportunities to analyze and design middle school curricula and evaluate the impact of current instructional practices and school policies on the learning of young adolescents.
5. Provide advanced content expertise and curriculum integration in one or more fields of teaching.
6. Provide opportunities to utilize current technologies and to integrate technology in the middle school classroom.

COUNSELING PROGRAMS

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the graduate programs of the School of Psychology and Counseling is to create a context in which counseling students participate in an academically rigorous process that values the power of interpersonal relationships in creating beneficial change. For faculty, counseling students, and the community we serve, we believe this process is essential. Our school has an ongoing commitment to providing a caring and challenging environment which facilitates the acquisition of the knowledge and the development of the skills necessary for our counseling students to become effective counselors in an increasingly diverse society. We seek to empower students within a framework of mentoring relationships to promote their own development in several areas of personal growth. These areas include spiritual, ethical, mental, physical, social, and vocational development. In addition, we seek to foster a commitment to continuing education and lifelong learning.

GOALS

The goal of the graduate programs in counseling is to prepare students for professional careers in counseling through courses in the 8 core areas as required by CACREP: Professional Identity, Social and Cultural Diversity, Human Growth and Development, Career Development, Helping Relationships, Group Work, Assessment, and Research and Program Evaluation. Within that framework, the objectives are to:

1. Provide an environment that promotes the core value of relational work with others;
2. Provide coursework that develops the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to become effective professional counselors;

3. Promote an ethical sense in counseling students that demonstrates respect for diversity and honors our common humanity;
4. Promote an understanding of the changing profession of counseling and the need for continuing education and lifelong learning.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Students will learn the core value of relational work with others through faculty/student interactions, class-related activities, practicum, and internship.
- Students will develop professional counseling skills.
- Students will appreciate professional ethics in counseling.
- Students will develop proficiencies in research, writing, and presentation skills.
- Students will develop an appreciation for lifelong learning through professional development opportunities.
- Students will be prepared to obtain licensure as a LPC or School Counselor.

FIELDS OF STUDY

- M.A. in School Counseling (pre-K - 12)
- M.A./Ed.S. in Mental Health Counseling

The Mental Health Counseling and School Counseling programs in Boiling Springs follow an annual cohort model. The Mental Health Counseling Program at Iredell in Statesville admits counselor trainees every three years. Students admitted to either the Mental Health or School Counseling degree programs who desire to change to the other program must reapply and meet all admission requirements for the program they wish to enter.

MASTER OF ARTS

SCHOOL COUNSELING (PRE-K-12)

COORDINATOR: DR. LAURA WILLIAMS SMITH

PURPOSE

The 48-semester-hour School Counseling Program prepares graduate students to fulfill the diverse roles required of school counselors who are both theorists and practitioners in a multicultural society. Counselor trainees are prepared to develop comprehensive school counseling programs which align with the ASCA National Model and to collaborate with parents, school personnel, and others in assisting students with academic, career, and personal/social concerns. The School Counseling Program stresses developmental, preventative, and remedial services. Additional emphasis is given to acquisition and application of knowledge and skills, critical thinking and decision making, appreciation of diversity, demonstration of professional ethical and legal practices, and an understanding of the educational process within the complex school environment. The examination of personal values and experiences and their potential influence in a variety of counseling situations is encouraged. The School Counseling Program culminates in a school-based practicum and internship experience designed to solidify the graduate student's identity as a professional school counselor.

GOALS

1. Graduate students will participate in curricular experiences in each of the following areas of school counseling: foundations; contextual dimensions; program development, implementation, and evaluation; individual and group counseling; classroom guidance; and consultation services.

2. Graduate students will demonstrate skills appropriate to beginning counselors as required by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction School Counselor Program Approval Standards and recommended by professional counseling associations and credentialing bodies.
3. Supported by self-reflective practices, graduate students will demonstrate the acquisition and application of the knowledge and skills outlined above in appropriate school-based practicum and internship experiences and through a comprehensive examination process.
4. Program graduates will be recommended by the GWU School of Education, the university school-related licensing agent, for graduate level licensure in school counseling.

Hours: 48 semester hours

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission requirements include an undergraduate grade point average of 3.0 or better, an acceptable Graduate Record Exam or Miller Analogies Test score, and three positive academic and/or professional references. A background in psychology at the undergraduate level is strongly recommended. Specific prerequisites include an undergraduate course in Abnormal Psychology/Psychopathology and an undergraduate course in Developmental Psychology. Each of these courses may be taken concurrently with graduate courses but must be completed before taking the corresponding advanced level courses. Although teacher licensure is not required for admission to the School Counseling Program, applicants without teacher licensure will be required to complete an undergraduate prerequisite course in classroom management prior to the practicum. Additional opportunities will be provided to strengthen students' knowledge of the school setting throughout the program as well as during the practicum and internship experiences.

The requirements for the role of a school counselor are both personal and intellectual. For this reason, in addition to general Graduate School entrance requirements, a successful interview with program faculty members is an absolute requirement for admission to the program. During this interview the faculty members will assess the personal qualities, goals, and academic background of applicants. Applicants may be admitted who meet the personal and academic requirements of the program.

BACKGROUND RECORD CHECK

Prior to admission, a satisfactory "Criminal Record Check" for all states of residence for the past five (5) years must be submitted to the Graduate School. The purpose of the criminal background check is to meet requirements of some field placement sites in which students learn and practice counseling methods. Criminal background histories obtained for employment purposes are not acceptable for admission to the counseling programs. Information received pertaining to criminal background histories will become part of the student's confidential permanent academic file.

Any conviction or pending criminal charges cited in the criminal history will be reviewed by the Graduate School and counseling graduate faculty. Any allegations or charges of misdemeanor(s) or felony(s) that occur after the Criminal Record Check has been submitted must be reported immediately to the Graduate School and to the Dean of the School of Psychology and Counseling. Failure to report allegations of such charges may result in immediate dismissal from the program.

MASTER OF ARTS

ENGLISH

COORDINATOR: DR. DAVID PARKER

This program is designed to include two options: either twenty-four hours of course credit plus six hours of thesis credit, or thirty hours of course credit with no thesis. In either case the candidate must take comprehensive exams either in the last semester of course work or during the following semester.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission requirements are the same as those for entry into other master's degree programs in the Graduate School at Gardner-Webb with these additions:

1. Applicants for the MA in English are required to submit a writing sample. This sample must be a documented research essay of 2000 or more words on a literary subject, be presented in MLA format, and incorporate at least three works beyond the primary work. This essay can be something the applicant has written previously for an academic assignment. The essay must be submitted electronically in Rich Text Format, either by email or on a disc (a hard copy may be submitted in addition, but the electronic copy is required).

2. Students without substantial undergraduate coursework in English should expect to be required to take undergraduate courses prior to admission in order to obtain background needed to be successful in graduate study in English. Students who do not meet these standards will be evaluated on an individual basis.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the program is to offer capable students an advanced program which will enhance their careers as college instructors or administrators and which will prepare them for doctoral level study. The program will prepare its students to be scholars who have not only mastered a basic body of knowledge in the field, but who have also developed the research skills to be self-educating learners, whether it is in the context of a doctoral program or as a teacher-practitioner.

GOALS

The Master of Arts in English program is designed to meet the following goals:

1. Graduate students will master important texts in British, American and World Literature.
2. Graduate students will become conversant in both older and more current theories and methods of literary criticism.
3. Graduate students will master the skills necessary for scholarship as each class will emphasize the development of research skills and familiarity with secondary sources in the content area.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

ENGL 671 Literary Theory 3 hrs.

27 additional hours selected from the following:

ENGL 555 Special Topics 3 hrs.

ENGL 611 Seminar in British Literature 3 hrs.

ENGL 613 British Literature: Selected Masterpieces 3 hrs.

If the thesis is not completed and signed in the first semester the student takes 691, the student will repeat 691 in successive semesters until the thesis is signed (repeating during the summer term is at the discretion of the student and advisor). The grade for 691 is pass/fail in semesters in which the thesis is not completed. The grade for 691 in the semester in which the thesis is signed is A, B, C, or F. Students who choose not to complete a thesis cannot use credits awarded for English 690 or 691 towards the degree.

Seminar and topics courses may be repeated with the approval of the coordinator of the program.

THE THESIS OPTION

A prospectus must be approved by the candidate's thesis committee before work on the thesis proper can begin. The thesis committee will consist of the thesis director and two other English faculty members. At the end of the program, candidates who have selected the thesis option will submit a master's thesis which must be approved by the candidate's committee.

M.Div./M.A. IN ENGLISH DEGREE

Gardner-Webb offers a combined M.Div./M.A. in English degree. For details about this degree and for the policy on dual degree programs, see the Master of Divinity section of the catalog (pp. 125-129).

Dual degree students must apply to the Graduate School as well as to the School of Divinity, following the admission requirements of the respective programs, and be accepted to each in order to pursue both degrees. Also, when academic policies and standards differ between the two schools (e.g., grades required for maintaining good academic standing and for graduation), the policies and standards of the appropriate school apply to the respective portion of the dual degree.

MASTER OF ARTS

RELIGION

COORDINATOR: DR. EDDIE STEPP

The M. A. in Religion is a thirty-six semester-hour program. It includes eighteen hours taken from a common core offered by the Department of Religious Studies and Philosophy. Students also select six hours from one of two tracks: the research track (a research seminar and thesis) or the teaching track (a pedagogy course and an internship in university teaching).

ADMISSIONS REQUIREMENTS

In addition to the basic requirements for admission to the University's Graduate School (a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher learning, satisfactory scores on either the Graduate Record Examination or the Miller Analogies Test, and three positive letters of recommendation), full admission is granted to students who have met the following requirements:

1. demonstrated proficiency in the biblical languages (normally this proficiency will be achieved through three semesters of Greek and three semesters of Hebrew with a "C" or better in all language courses);
2. a major in religious studies or the equivalent;
3. a successful departmental interview to determine academic preparation and vocational appropriateness of the degree for the prospective student (students desiring to work in pastoral ministry are directed to a Master of Divinity program rather than the M.A. in Religion).

Students lacking the appropriate undergraduate background or language proficiency may be admitted provisionally until prerequisites are met through the completion of a prescribed program.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the program is the academic (rather than parish ministry) study of religion in order to prepare students for one or more of the following possibilities: (1) meeting Ph.D. entrance requirements; (2) college teaching on the freshman and sophomore levels; (3) teaching in private schools.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING

DIRECTOR: DR. DEBRA G. MILES

INTRODUCTION

The Gardner-Webb University School of Nursing provides the Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) Program which offers three areas of study designed to meet the needs of nurses seeking expanded roles in their profession: Parish Nursing, Nursing Administration, and Nursing Education. The MSN Degree with specialty concentration requires 30 to 36 semester hours of graduate credits. In addition to the three areas of concentrated study, the MSN program offers the MSN/MBA dual degree and the RN to MSN option.

The Master of Science in Nursing with a concentration in Parish Nursing is offered in collaboration with the M. Christopher White School of Divinity. This program of study is structured to provide students with knowledge from theology, pastoral care, and parish health nursing.

The Master of Science in Nursing with a concentration in Education is designed to prepare students to become professional educators in an academic or health care setting. This program of study allows students the opportunity to enhance their clinical expertise from a theoretical perspective and to apply nursing education and learning principles in practice settings.

The Master of Science in Nursing with a concentration in Administration is offered in collaboration with the Graduate School of Business. This program of study seeks to prepare the professional nurse for leadership roles in health care organizations.

The RN to MSN program is designed to facilitate an accelerated and integrated progression from the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) curriculum to the Master of Science in Nursing curriculum. This program of study allows nurses to apply six hours of graduate course credit to the BSN degree.

The MSN/MBA dual degree program is a 63-semester-hour program. This interdisciplinary program combines nursing leadership with a working knowledge of business and managerial skills. (See p. 125 for the policy on dual degree programs.) Dual degree students must apply to the Graduate School as well as to the Graduate School of Business, following the admission requirements of the respective programs, and be accepted to each in order to pursue both degrees. Also, when academic policies and standards differ between the two schools, the policies and standards of the appropriate school apply to the respective portion of the dual degree.

The courses in the MSN programs of study are offered in a logical sequence from the core requirements of theory, issues, research, statistics, and caring to courses in the major area of concentration. Approval is required to take a course out of sequence. Elective requirements allow students to expand their educational perspective to other disciplines. The MSN educational experience culminates in a capstone course requiring the application of knowledge in a thesis or project.

A Post-Master's Nursing Education Certificate is also offered. (See pg. 83 for details.)

PURPOSE

The Master of Science in Nursing program provides opportunities for students to provide care within a global environment from an interdisciplinary perspective with a diverse population. Furthermore, the specialization of practice areas allows the nurse to integrate knowledge from divinity, administration, and education with the theoretical underpinnings of nursing.

GOALS

The MSN Program is designed to provide individuals with an opportunity to meet the following goals within a Christian environment:

1. Practice advanced nursing in direct and indirect provider roles in a variety of health care and educational settings.
2. Apply advanced knowledge of nursing theory, research, and health policy from a caring perspective.
3. Synthesize multi-disciplinary knowledge and scientific research to accomplish evidence-based nursing practice.
4. Integrate nursing knowledge and experiences in varied health care settings.
5. Implement competent practice to meet the challenges of the changing health care environments through application of advanced knowledge, critical thinking, and decision making.
6. Communicate effectively with health care providers both locally and globally.
7. Acquire the knowledge and expertise that meet basic requirements for entry into doctoral study.

CRITERIA FOR ADMISSION

Application for admission to the MSN Program should be made through the Graduate School. Application for admission to the MSN/MBA Program should be made to the Graduate School and to the Graduate School of Business. In order to enroll students from a variety of backgrounds with the greatest potential for successfully completing the program, the following criteria for acceptance will be used:

2. Current unrestricted licensure to practice as a Registered Nurse.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

ADVANCED STUDY OF BUSINESS IN A CHRISTIAN ENVIRONMENT

INTRODUCTION

The Graduate School of Business currently offers master degree programs in Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Accountancy (MAcc), and International Master of Business Administration (IMBA). Two other degree programs are jointly offered with the M. Christopher White School of Divinity (MDiv/MBA) and the School of Nursing (MSN/MBA). The Graduate School of Business requires a minimum of 36 semester hours of graduate credits for an MBA or IMBA degree and 30 semester hours for a MAcc degree. The programs are specifically structured to accommodate the needs of working professionals - people who are seeking new ways to remain competitive in the changing environment of business and accounting. Each class meets only one evening a week for an entire semester and two evenings a week during the summer sessions.

LOCATIONS

The MBA Program is offered on the main campus in Boiling Springs, North Carolina. The MBA Program is also offered in Statesville, Winston-Salem, Valdese, Charlotte, and Spartanburg, South Carolina. The MAcc and IMBA programs are currently offered on the main campus, Charlotte, and Statesville centers. The MAcc program is also offered online.

MISSION

The School of Business provides undergraduate and graduate professional training within the scope of a Christian-based, liberal arts university, building on the skills in learning and critical thinking that the liberal arts foster.

VISION

The School of Business functions to support the mission of Gardner-Webb University by providing both graduate and undergraduate professional training in the business disciplines to a diverse student population. It enhances the scope of the university by applying the learning and analytical skills fostered by the liberal arts and the moral and ethical values of the Christian faith to the practice of business activities in the domestic and world-wide arenas. It also encourages both its faculty and its students to pursue life-long learning, to value service to God and humanity, and to build character in students.

MOTTO:

“FOR GOD AND HUMANITY THROUGH BUSINESS”

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The overall goals and objectives for the Graduate Business Programs are to prepare students for the business world who are:

1. Able to adapt themselves ethically in advanced professional careers in business, government, and other areas of human endeavor where organizational, managerial, and analytic skills beyond those traditionally provided by undergraduate programs are vital for success.
2. Able to respond to change in a dynamic, global marketplace.
3. Able to become productive citizens within their respective communities.

The Graduate School of Business attempts to meet the above goals and objectives by offering Master of Business Administration, International Master of Business Administration, and Master of Accountancy degrees.

FACULTY

Members of the Graduate Business Faculty hold doctoral degrees from major universities throughout the country and world. They have varied business experiences and bring to the classroom a mixture of practical and theoretical experience and training. The faculty is committed to providing a program of study which clearly gives its participants an advantage when competing with others in today's business climate.

Classes are generally small at Gardner-Webb University and faculty members are accessible. Professors' priorities are given to teaching and serving the program's participants. Professors also engage in consulting and research activities; these pursuits are then used in the classroom to make lectures up-to-date and meaningful. This environment of personal attention and dedication to teaching distinguishes the programs from other universities.

GARDNER-WEBB UNIVERSITY AND FREE ENTERPRISE

The University has been supported greatly over the years by Baptist churches, the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, and men and women who gave their time and resources to provide students with an excellent Christian learning environment. Some of these supporters were successful business people who shared in Gardner-Webb University's commitment to the teaching of love and appreciation for the American free enterprise system. Many other small and large business entrepreneurs have made financial contributions that have enriched the University's campus community and enhanced its course offerings.

The graduate and undergraduate business programs provide opportunities for students to understand and experience the free market system. Student business organizations, on-campus seminars, and executive lectures help prepare students for successful business careers. The University's Broyhill Academy is dedicated to spreading an appreciation of free enterprise and teaching entrepreneurship.

WORLD TRADE RESOURCE CENTER

(The Free Enterprise Center)

The Gardner-Webb University World Trade Resource Center was established on October 2, 1991 as a resource base for businesses already competing or about to enter the global market. It is a non-profit organization which encourages the development of new businesses and foreign trade between and among all nations. Also, it serves as a practical resource base for students majoring in international business. The center's trade networks and other resources help simplify the theories of this discipline by disseminating global information about economic activity in the foreign arenas. The center is located in the School of Business.

STUDY ABROAD PROGRAM

International Master of Business Administration (IMBA) majors are required to participate in a foreign study program offered through the Graduate School of Business. Other majors in the Graduate School of Business are encouraged to participate. Several programs are offered every year to the major continents of the world, including Europe, Asia, Africa and South America. This program provides to the individual practical international educational experience of culture, customs, language, and the impact of international business. It is a unique educational opportunity enrichment for the participants.

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS (GSB)/EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATION

The GSB/Executive Association is an organization of current Graduate School of Business students, alumni and business executives united to provide network services to its members, and further develop and enhance the partnership between the University and the business community. The association is a self-supporting, not for profit organization, committed to meeting the needs of its members, the University and industry. The association objectives are:

STUDENT LIFE

Students enrolled in a graduate program at Gardner-Webb University are typically working professionals. Therefore, programs are carefully designed to accommodate their needs, especially as they relate to work schedules. Graduate students have representation on the Graduate Council and are entitled to attend campus events, receive campus publications, and request services which are offered to students at Gardner-Webb. Services offered include guidance and counseling, placement services, and the mail delivery of textbooks from the Campus Shop to students. Graduate students are invited to participate in campus life to the maximum extent of their desire and interest.

THE ADMISSIONS PROCESS

Admission to the University's Graduate School of Business program is selective. An admission decision is based on a balanced appraisal of the applicant's total academic and professional record, his/her Graduate Management Admissions Test score, and overall excellence. While the Admissions Committee looks for responsible academic performance and excellence on test scores as evidence of the applicant's ability to do well in graduate study, it also looks for qualities of personal development which are relevant to career success. Extra-curricular involvement and leadership in college, useful assignments in military service or substantial work experience will strengthen the application.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

Persons wishing to apply for admission to the Graduate School of Business Programs should request application materials from the Graduate School of Business Office of Admissions. No single criterion will be decisive, but each item will be considered in relation to the applicant's total qualifications. Gardner-Webb University seeks to enroll students from a variety of economic, occupational, racial, social, religious, and geographic backgrounds.

To apply for initial admission to the Graduate programs, the applicant should:

1. Submit an application and a detailed resume of professional experience to the Graduate Business Director of Admissions along with a $25 non-refundable processing fee. The $40 fee will be waived for alumni and for all prospective students applying online.

2. Arrange for an official transcript of all previous academic work beyond high school to be sent directly from each institution attended. The Privacy Act requires that each student request in writing transcripts be released to the Graduate Business Director of Admissions.
3. Arrange for submission of scores on the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT).
4. Have three evaluators mail recommendations directly to the Graduate Business Director of Admissions: (1) current or past professor, (2) current or past supervisor, (3) academic or business professional, or any combination thereof.

GMAT

Students are required to take the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) prior to full admission to the program. A GMAT score can only be used for evaluation if the test has been taken within the last five years. Students must request the Educational Testing Service to send GMAT scores directly to Gardner-Webb University. Applications for taking the GMAT may be obtained from the Graduate School of Business Director of Admissions at Gardner-Webb University. Students may register by phone to take the test by calling 1-800-GMAT-NOW. Specific testing locations and additional information may be found on the web site at <http://www.gmat.org>.

There is not a minimum requirement for the GMAT score. The GMAT score in combination with the GPA of the last 60 credit hours is accepted as the general minimum criteria for admission to the Graduate Business Programs based on the following formula: $[GMAT+(200XGPA) \geq 950]$.

LOW-SCORE GMAT APPEAL

Students can appeal to the Graduate Business Faculty Committee for admission based on some other strong indication of success in the program, since admission is based on an indication that the student will succeed in the MBA program.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

International students follow the usual procedure for admission with these exceptions:

1. Transcripts must first be submitted to World Education Services (P.O. Box 745, Old Chelsea Station, New York, NY 10113-0745) for a course by course evaluation before being mailed to the Graduate Business Director of Admissions.
2. TOEFL score of at least 500 must be submitted unless English is the native language
3. A Gardner-Webb University form, Statement of Financial Responsibility, must be completed, signed, and accompanied by a letter from the student's or sponsor's bank showing an amount sufficient to cover one year of graduate study.
4. Once the student's file is completed and an admissions decision has been made, the Graduate Business Director of Admissions will send the student an I-20 Form, enabling the student to apply for a visa.

TYPES OF ENROLLMENT STATUS

FULL ADMISSION

An applicant who meets all of the formal requirements for admission to the MBA, MAcc or IMBA degree program is granted full admission. These requirements include the following:

1. Graduate from a regionally accredited institution of higher education with a bachelor's degree.

2. Complete undergraduate course prerequisite or equivalents with a "C" or better. Persons who have not completed requirement number 2 may be given applicant admission, and after satisfactorily completing the required courses at Gardner-Webb University or elsewhere will be granted full admission (see Undergraduate Foundation Courses Section).
3. Present a minimum cumulative undergraduate grade point average (GPA) of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale for MBA or IMBA and 2.7 on a 4.0 scale for MAcc Program on all undergraduate coursework completed and a satisfactory Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) score. The GMAT must be taken by the 6th semester hour of course study.
4. Be recommended by three evaluators.

PROVISIONAL STATUS

An applicant who does not meet the formal requirements or standards for full admission may be granted provisional admission. A student admitted with provisional status must meet any condition attached to his/her admission before being granted full admission. Deficiencies may include lack of undergraduate course requirements, low test scores, or low undergraduate grade point average.

For students admitted provisionally due to undergraduate course prerequisite deficiencies, Gardner-Webb University generally offers undergraduate courses encompassing Accounting, Economics, Finance, Marketing, Statistics, and Management Science at various times throughout the year. An individual having prerequisite deficiencies may not enroll in any of the program's courses until all deficiencies have been removed.

A student with low test scores or a low undergraduate grade point average may be asked to take two core courses over the next two semesters following application. The student's progress will be monitored and the student will be granted full admission status if the student receives an "A" or "B" in both courses. The student will be barred from continuation in any of the programs with a grade lower than a "B" in either of these courses. No student may be admitted to any of the programs who has a grade point average lower than a 2.5 on all college work attempted or the last sixty-four hours of undergraduate work attempted.

APPLICANT STATUS

An applicant to any of the programs may be granted permission to register for one semester of course work prior to the completion of the admission procedure. Credit earned will be considered graduate level work but may not be counted toward any of the degree programs at Gardner-Webb University until the student meets admissions criteria when all credentials are assessed. All supporting documentation must be submitted and assessed in order for the student to register for a second term of course work.

SPECIAL STUDENT

A student entering any of the programs to take courses for professional or career enhancement as a non-degree seeking student is granted special admission. A maximum of six semester hours of credit may be earned as a Special Student and applied toward any of the degree programs at Gardner-Webb University.

TRANSIENT STUDENT

Transient status is assigned to an applicant from another recognized graduate institution who desires enrollment at Gardner-Webb University to take courses for transfer to the institution in which he or she is enrolled as a degree candidate. A transient student must submit an application for admission and a letter from the director or dean of the MBA, IMBA, or MAcc program in which he or she is regularly enrolled indicating good standing.

TRANSFER OF COURSES FOR GRADUATE CREDIT

With the approval of the major coordinator, a maximum of six semester hours may be accepted from a regionally accredited MBA, IMBA or MAcc program toward the fulfillment of requirements for the MBA, IMBA or MAcc degree at Gardner-Webb University. Credit will not be given for courses taken more than six calendar years before applying for admission to graduate study. Only courses with a grade of "B" or "A" will be considered for transfer and must be substantially parallel to Gardner-Webb University courses. Credit will not be given for courses taken to obtain another master's degree. Students currently enrolled in any of the programs at Gardner-Webb University must have prior written approval to take courses from another institution for transfer credit.

Courses accepted in transfer admission are recorded as credit only; grades are recorded on a transfer evaluation form, but no grade points or grade point averages are computed. The grade point average used for administering policy and for graduation is computed on academic credit earned at Gardner-Webb University. The Registrar interprets the transfer policy and certifies students for graduation.

The primary purpose of the transfer credits policy is to grant incoming students credit for work previously completed. Students are expected to take the appropriate courses offered by Gardner-Webb University once they enter the program. Permission may be granted to take courses offered by other institutions when the appropriate course is not offered by Gardner-Webb University or when it is more convenient for the University to approve a course for transfer than to offer the course by special arrangement.

Strong undergraduate students at Gardner-Webb University may be permitted, under special circumstances, to register for graduate courses with the permission of the Dean of the Graduate School of Business. Graduate level courses may not be counted toward both the bachelor's and master's degrees.

A student's continuing enrollment may become the subject of a formal review if any of the above expectations are not being fulfilled. A member of the administrative staff, faculty member, or student may request a formal review and action by the Dean of the School of Business. THE M. CHRISTOPHER WHITE SCHOOL OF DIVINITY

Stretching the Mind, Stirring the Heart, Serving the Church

INTRODUCTION TO THE SCHOOL OF DIVINITY

On October 22, 1992, the Board of Trustees unanimously approved the establishment of the Gardner-Webb University Divinity School, believing that such an action was an appropriate response for Gardner-Webb University given the needs of the denomination, the changes in theological education, the heritage of the University, and the strength of the University's support. On October 23, 1998, the University's Board of Trustees named the School the M. Christopher White School of Divinity in honor of the University's president.

The School of Divinity, one of five schools offering graduate degrees within the academic program of Gardner-Webb University, has close ties to the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and the Cooperative Baptist Fellowship.

SCHOOL OF DIVINITY MISSION

The School of Divinity as an academic unit of Gardner-Webb University is Baptist in origin and commitment, ecumenical in outlook, and has as its mission the preparation of persons for Christian ministries. To achieve this end, the School of Divinity offers courses of study in which, under the leadership of dedicated and competent teachers, students engage in the study of and reflection upon the data, meaning, and implications of the Christian faith, beginning at its biblical base; enter into thoughtful and critical assessments of church history and theology; become involved in the process of spiritual formation personally, socially, and vocationally; and participate in the study and practice of various expressions of Christian mission and ministry.

DOCTRINAL STATEMENT

The M. Christopher White School of Divinity at Gardner-Webb University is founded upon the affirmation of ultimate commitment and loyalty to the God disclosed most fully and completely in the person and work of Jesus Christ. The School of Divinity stands in the mainstream of the Baptist tradition within Christian heritage. The hallmark of Baptist faith commitment is the centrality and authority of the Bible in matters of faith.

The faculty of the M. Christopher White School of Divinity affirms the centrality of the Bible to the mission of the School by the symbolic placement of a commemorative copy of the sacred Scriptures in the School with the names of all faculty inscribed therein. In so doing, the faculty bears witness to their commitment that the Scriptures constitute the final authority in matters of faith.

GLOBAL MISSIONS RESOURCE CENTER

The Global Missions Resource Center stands ready to assist students and local churches in the areas of mission education and mission opportunities. The Resource Center works in conjunction with the M. Christopher White School of Divinity to encourage a sense of Global Awareness as students begin to serve as Christ's ambassadors locally and abroad.

PITTMAN CENTER FOR CONGREGATIONAL ENRICHMENT

In 1999 the University launched the Center for Congregational Enrichment as an auxiliary of the School of Divinity. In the fall of 2004, the Center was renamed the James and Gaynell Pittman Center for Congregational Enrichment. The Pittman Center's purpose is to address the need for competent leadership in the local church by providing quality religious educational opportunities for laity and continuing education for clergy who are not enrolled as degree-seeking students in the School of Divinity. The Pittman Center offers classes, seminars, and conferences on the Gardner-Webb University campus and at various off-campus sites.

THE C.O. AND ELIZA GREENE LECTURESHIP

The C.O. and Eliza Greene Endowed Lectureship was established in 1993 in honor of the Reverend and Mrs. C.O. Greene of Lawndale, North Carolina. The Reverend Greene served for approximately fourteen years as Director of Missions for the Kings Mountain Baptist Association. Prior to that ministry, he served as pastor of four churches in Cleveland County and of two other churches in North Carolina. The lectureship, administered by the School's Center for Congregational Enrichment and funded by family members, friends, and members of churches where the Reverend Greene served as pastor, was established to preserve the legacy of excellence in pastoral ministry which characterized his ministry. The lectureship addresses various dimensions of pastoral ministry.

CHAPEL AND FORMATIONS

Chapel is provided by faculty, students, and staff working together to plan regular worship experiences. Formations is a small group mentor experience led by each student's faculty mentor in conjunction with spiritual formation (DSSF) classes. As the name Formations suggests, relevant issues of ministerial formation are addressed.

BIBLELAND STUDY

Believing that travel and study in the lands of Israel, Greece and Turkey greatly enhance the study and future ministry of School of Divinity students, the University provides substantial financial support for qualified students to participate. For details contact the Dean of the School of Divinity.

FOREIGN MISSIONS OPPORTUNITY

A goal of the School of Divinity is to assist each student with an opportunity to participate in an international mission/study experience under the leadership of qualified supervisors. In order to facilitate these experiences the School of Divinity is establishing formal relationships with Baptist seminaries around the world. An example is the Theological Seminary (Union of Evangelical Christian and Baptist Churches of Estonia), Tartu, Estonia.

THE SCHOOL OF DIVINITY SETTING

Students in the School of Divinity will find that the University setting affords them many advantages such as NCAA Division I athletic events, concerts and dramatic productions. In addition, the University sponsors the Concert of Prayer and the Staley Lecture Series.

Recreational facilities including the Suttle Wellness Center, weight room, indoor and outdoor jogging tracks, basketball courts, tennis courts, racquetball courts, and swimming pool are open to all School of Divinity students. Admission to University athletic and cultural events is provided through student identification cards.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

All students who are enrolled in graduate studies in the School of Divinity at Gardner-Webb University are members of the Student Association. The mission of the Student Association is to work in cooperation with the faculty and administration of the School of Divinity of Gardner-Webb University to develop and promote excellence in ministry education, innovation, and pace setting leadership in the Christian community in which all these students serve.

DEGREE PROGRAMS AND ACADEMIC INFORMATION

MASTER OF DIVINITY, PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Master of Divinity, a three-year course of study, is recognized by The Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada (ATS) as the basic professional degree. The theological education associated with this degree has service to the church as its central focus. Predicated on the assumption that ministers in the church should share a common theological substructure irrespective of their particular calling, the School of Divinity offers the Master of Divinity degree (M.Div.) in five concentrations, each sharing a common 60-hour core comprised of biblical studies, historical/theological studies, spiritual formation, and ministry studies. Beyond the core, students may choose, by means of a 30-hour concentration, to earn the M.Div. degree with a concentration in Pastoral Studies, Biblical Studies, Christian Education, Pastoral Care and Counseling or Missiology.

Emphasizing theological reflection and ministerial formation, this course of study is designed to provide men and women with a comprehensive, in-depth knowledge of the body of divinity and to help ministers develop the skills necessary for effective ministry. "Real world" ministry situations, surfaced by the students themselves, serve as catalysts for theological reflection in interdisciplinary courses, team-taught seminars, and spiritual formation experiences.

Moreover, not only does the curriculum seek to bridge the gap between "theory" and "practice" in ministry, but also to help the student to synthesize and integrate the theological content of the various disciplines of the body of divinity.

The School of Divinity's "Be, Know and Do Statement," encapsulated in the M. Div. "Program Objectives" (see page 115), is the guiding document around which the curriculum is built.

CORE CURRICULUM

The M.Div. core curriculum is designed to be integrative, inductive, and interactive. Seeking to move beyond the artificial dichotomy between "theory" and "practice" that has often characterized theological education, the curriculum requires students to reflect theologically on the practice of ministry while they are actually engaged in ministry. The common core of divinity means that every student, irrespective of his/her ultimate vocational ministry, will share the same biblical/theological substructure for ministry, thus making "shared ministry" and "pastoral teamship" less an ideal and more a reality. Moreover, such an approach fosters a genuine appreciation for ministerial diversity and the rich variety of the ministries of the church.

A guiding principle behind the core curriculum is that effective ministry is not simply a function of what the minister knows, or even what the minister does, but must also include what the minister is, both personally and vocationally.

Assessment of who students “are,” what students “know,” and what students can “do” is informed by pre- and post-tests, specific assignments and assessment interview/conferences associated with the following core courses:

- Introduction to Theological Education for Ministry (to be taken during first year of study)
- Spiritual Formation: The Christian Journey
- Old Testament
- New Testament
- Christian History
- Christian Theology
- Administration and Leadership in the Church
- Ethics
- Introduction to Preaching
- Introduction to Worship in the Church
- Missions and Evangelization
- Introduction to Pastoral Care and Counseling
- Theological Integration Seminar

CONCENTRATIONS

Beyond the 60-hour core, students must choose one of five concentrations each requiring a further 30 hours: Pastoral Studies, Biblical Studies, Christian Education, Pastoral Care and Counseling or Missiology; or in place of a concentration the student may pursue one of four dual degree programs – the M.Div./M.B.A., the M.Div./M.A. in English, the M.Div./M.A. in English Education, or the M.Div./M.A. in Religion.

MINISTERIAL FORMATION

Recognizing the importance of ministerial formation, each student’s progress is tracked throughout his or her divinity school experience. Evidence of movement toward maturity in spiritual and ministerial formation is gathered into a student portfolio. Such vehicles as the Profiles of Ministry Instrument Stage I, Annual Capstone Conference, Formations small group experiences, Assessment Interviews and a Capstone Conference each emphasize that genuine spiritual formation involves healthy relationships toward self, others, the material world, and God.

Chapel and Formations are required of all students in four core spiritual formation classes: Introduction to Theological Education for Ministry (DSSF 100), Spiritual Formation: The Christian Journey (DSSF200), Theological Integration Seminar I (DSSF300) and Theological Integration Seminar II (DSSF301). Faculty, students, and staff work together, plan, lead and participate in Chapel worship experiences concurrently with their respective spiritual formation classes.

A small group Formations experience is led by each student’s faculty mentor (and by the instructor of the DSSF100 night class) in conjunction with all spiritual formation classes. As the name Formations suggests, relative issues of ministerial formation are addressed. The five topics addressed in Formations include:

- What it means to bear the name Christian
- What is the primary focus of worship
- What is personal and ministerial integrity
- What are the sustaining spiritual disciplines
- What are appropriate outlets for managing ministerial stress

In consultation with the faculty mentor the student selects for inclusion in the Student Portfolio three to five examples of his/her best work done at various junctures during the course of study. Anecdotal items such as journal entries or faculty comments may also be included in the portfolio. A Ministry Formation Notation, should one be given, may likewise be placed in the Student Portfolio any time a matter of ministerial formation should be noted by a faculty member. These items become discussion points at Spring Mentor Conferences, the Assessment Interview and the Capstone Conference. The portfolio becomes the property of the School of Divinity for a period not to exceed ten years, with a copy provided to the student at the student's request.

SUPERVISED MINISTRY EXPERIENCE

Students will also participate in an approved Supervised Ministry Experience (SME). During two consecutive semesters of his/her M.Div. degree program, each student will serve in a ministry position, either volunteer or paid, which will involve the student in significant leadership opportunities requiring responsibility in planning, administering, leading, and evaluating.

These two semesters of SME will be taken in conjunction with the two-semester course Theological Integration Seminar I & II (TIS I & II) in which each student will serve a minimum of 10 hours weekly in the ministry placement. Proposed SME placement must be approved by the Associate Dean of the School of Divinity who administers the program and oversees student progress in a ministry setting.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The program objectives for the Master of Divinity degree are to help students know at a rudimentary level the basic body of divinity including:

- a knowledge of the facts, histories, principles, philosophies, and current discussions in each of the following disciplines: biblical studies, biblical languages, Christian and Baptist history, hermeneutics, homiletics, ethics, philosophy of religion, missiology, evangelism, worship, pastoral ministry, pedagogy, church administration, church policy and denominational organization, psychology, counseling, anthropology, and sociology;

ACADEMIC POLICIES

RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS

A minimum of thirty-six (36) hours of credit toward the M.Div. degree must be earned in the School of Divinity at Gardner-Webb University. These hours are exclusive of any hours gained through testing for Credit by Examination. The final twenty-four (24) hours must be earned consecutively at Gardner-Webb University unless the student obtains permission from the Dean of the School of Divinity.

TRANSFER OF CREDIT

Graduate-level credits earned in institutions accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada, regional accreditation associations and/or recognized specialized agencies may be considered for transfer credit toward degree programs of students enrolled in the M.Div. program of the School of Divinity at Gardner-Webb University. A request for a transcript evaluation must be submitted to the office of the Dean of the School of Divinity for adjudication. Each course considered for transfer is required to have a grade of at least C (2.0 on a 4.0 scale) and must be substantially parallel to a School of Divinity requirement. All other requests for transfer of credit must be approved by the faculty of the School of Divinity. Graduate-level credits earned at institutions outside the United States and Canada will be evaluated on an individual basis. The evaluation will take into account the institution where the work was taken, the level of the work, and the grades earned.

COURSE SUBSTITUTION

Students may substitute up to nine hours of graduate level courses from outside the School of Divinity for credit toward the M.Div. degree. Students must make their requests in writing to the Associate Dean, who will convene the Academic Policies Committee to evaluate the request. Courses for substitution must meet the accreditation standards stated in the Transfer of Credit policy above.

REPEATING COURSES

Only courses with a grade of "D," "F," or "WF" may be repeated and then only once. When a course is repeated at the School of Divinity, only the higher grade is counted in computing the student's overall grade point average, although the lower grade remains on the official transcript.

CREDIT BY EXAMINATION

Applicants holding a baccalaureate degree or the equivalent from a regionally accredited college or university may be granted up to fifteen hours of Credit by Examination toward their Master of Divinity degree. Requirements for Credit by Examination are:

2. The request must be made in writing to the Dean.
3. If the request is approved, the Dean will enlist a faculty member for the course.

ACADEMIC APPEALS

A student who experiences a problem concerning a grade or any other aspect of a course, including issues relating to but not limited to academic dishonesty, should first discuss the matter with the professor. If the problem is not resolved, the student should go next to the Associate Dean of the School of Divinity. If the student or the professor is not satisfied with the decision of the Associate Dean, either party may take the matter to the Appeals Committee whose decision is final.

The Appeals Committee consists of the Dean of the School of Divinity, who serves as chair, and two School of Divinity faculty members.

To initiate an appeal, the dissatisfied party should address a letter to the Dean of the School of Divinity, stating the reason for the appeal and explaining the circumstances. The Dean will convene the Appeals Committee. If the student or the professor is asked to appear before the committee, he or she at that time may bring a representative from within the University to act as counsel. The deadline for an academic dishonesty appeal is seven days after the date of the decision being appealed. The deadline for other types of academic appeals (except for grade appeals) is eighteen months after the date of the decision being appealed. Grade appeals must be completed prior to the last day of the following semester. Grade appeals relating to courses taken during the summer must be made prior to the last day of the following fall semester.

ACADEMIC HONESTY AND PERSONAL INTEGRITY

It is presupposed that all persons enrolling in the School of Divinity, at whatever level of admission, will exemplify a high level of Christian commitment as well as a high degree of academic and personal integrity. It is expected that this commitment will be reflected in personal relationships, academic performance, and conduct inside and outside of the classroom. A student's continuing enrollment may become the subject of a formal review if any of the above expectations are not being fulfilled. A member of the administrative staff, faculty member, or student may request a formal review and action by the Associate Dean of the School of Divinity. Upon the conclusion of the formal review, the Associate Dean may take action which may include but is not limited to probation, suspension, counseling, etc. If any party to the review, student, faculty, or administrator, is not satisfied with the decision of the Associate Dean, he or she may request a hearing by the Appeals Committee, whose decision is final.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Students must meet the above requirements and have maintained a grade point average of 2.00 or better on a 4.00 scale.

TIME LIMITS

The minimum time for completion of the M.Div. degree is three years. The maximum time allowed for completion is six years from the date of first enrollment. Beyond the six-year time limit, students may petition the faculty for an extension of time.

STYLE GUIDE FOR WRITING ASSIGNMENTS

The SBL Handbook of Style for Ancient Near Eastern, Biblical, and Early Christian Studies, ed. by Patrick H. Alexander, et. al., is the official style guide of the School of Divinity. DUAL DEGREE PROGRAMS

INTRODUCTION

The School of Divinity offers four dual degrees: the M. Div./M.B.A., the M. Div./M.A. in English, the M.Div./M.A. in English Education and the M.Div./M.A. in Religion. These degrees are designed to offer ministry students the opportunity to gain additional skills and expertise in areas that will enhance the students' ministry. Students will register for these courses through the Divinity School and will be awarded the dual degrees upon completion of the requirements for both degrees.

Candidates for the dual degree must complete the requirements for both degrees prior to graduation. Should a student opt not to pursue one of the degrees before completion, he or she will be responsible for paying any difference in the per course rate(s) actually charged based on pursuing the dual degree and the rate(s) which would have been charged for courses applied toward the selected degree. The student will also be responsible for repaying any scholarships or grants received based on pursuing a dual degree which the student would not have been eligible for based on the selected degree. Additional financial obligations must be satisfied before the student can be awarded the selected degree. In no case will the University refund money when a student opts out of a dual degree program.

Dual degree students must apply to the Graduate School as well as to the School of Divinity, following the admission requirements of the respective programs, and be accepted to each in order to pursue both degrees. Also, when academic policies and standards differ between the two schools (e.g. grades required for maintaining good academic standing and for graduation), the policies and standards of the appropriate school apply to the respective portion of the dual degree.

MASTER OF DIVINITY/MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The M.Div./M.B.A. program is designed to enhance the administrative skills and expertise of ministers by permitting them to earn a second degree, the M.B.A., instead of the usual M.Div. concentration. The program has three potential student populations in view: (1) the minister who desires greater expertise in business administration, (2) the church administrator in a large church; or (3) the bi-vocational minister.

Foundational courses in accounting, microeconomics, statistics, finance, and microcomputers are pre-requisite to the program. Students lacking academic preparation in these areas may take accelerated non-credit courses at the University to satisfy these requirements (see the M.B.A. section of this catalog for course descriptions).

MASTER OF DIVINITY/MASTER OF ARTS IN ENGLISH OR ENGLISH EDUCATION

The M.Div./M.A. degree is designed to enhance divinity students' literary skills by permitting them to earn a second degree, the M.A., instead of the usual M.Div. concentration. This degree provides students with a broad and rich literary context from which to do ministry and provides them with a common frame of reference with which to connect with persons of diverse culture and background. Moreover, it provides students with enhanced critical and analytical skills with which to reflect on life and the world while providing them with additional literary models with which to understand and interpret the Scriptures.

The degree has two potential student populations in view: (1) the minister who desires greater background in the literary arts as a context for ministry, and (2) the minister who serves in a small church situation and finds it necessary to supplement church-derived income through secular employment. In the latter case an advanced degree in a non-ministerial discipline will be of significant value.

The M.Div./M.A. is housed in the School of Divinity and requires completion of the 60 hour core, 6 hours biblical studies electives, 6 hours historical/theological electives, 3 hours practical ministry electives of the M.Div. degree and the 30 hour M.A. in English degree.

MASTER OF DIVINITY/MASTER OF ARTS IN RELIGION

The M.Div./M.A. in Religion is designed to enhance divinity students with advanced biblical language and research skills by permitting them to earn a second degree, the M.A. in Religion, instead of the usual M.Div. concentration. This degree provides students with a broadened and deepened context in the biblical languages, the academic study of religion, and opportunities in either thesis writing or teaching internship. The breadth of this type of study would enhance the understanding, interpretation, and application of the Scriptures as well as increase understanding of working with diverse persons within and outside parish ministry.

DOCTOR OF MINISTRY

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The D.Min. degree is an advanced professional degree designed to equip persons who are committed to Christian ministry to fulfill their calling at the highest level of excellence in the practice of ministry. The program of study requires a Master of Divinity degree from an accredited theological institution and sufficient experiences in ministry to insure a level of maturity appropriate to engage the intensity of the program design. The degree program identifies reflective thinking, or, more specifically, the ability to think theologically, as the primary skill essential to effective ministry. All aspects of the program build from that assumption. The degree program attempts to address ministry issues developing naturally from the global community which is the context for the 21st century church. Both by academic design and supervision elements, the degree intends to reflect the interactive, laity-involved, team-oriented nature of ministry required to address the needs of the 21st century church.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE PROGRAM

The D.Min. program operates under the guidance and administration of the Dean of the School of Divinity. Enforcement of all academic policies is at the discretion of the Dean in consultation with the Associate Dean and the Director of the D.Min. program. Instructional personnel, both adjunctive and residential, are appointed by the Dean to whom they are directly responsible.

DIRECTOR OF THE PROGRAM

The Director of the D.Min. program is responsible for the day to day administration of the program, and the D.Min. office is the primary communication portal for current candidates and prospective candidates.

COMPONENTS OF THE PROGRAM

The D.Min. degree is a 30-hour degree program comprised of three major components: seminars, supervision, and a ministry project.

SEMINARS

Five seminars are required of each candidate for which 18 credit hours will be earned. DSDM501 (The Ministry as Life-long Learning) and DSDM 510 (The Ministry of Biblical Interpretation) are required of all students and are prerequisites to all subsequent seminars. All seminars have some aspect of ministry as their primary focal point.

SUPERVISION

Each D.Min. candidate will complete a minimum of two semesters of Peer Learning Supervision (6 hrs.) under the direction of a School of Divinity appointed Field Supervisor. In lieu of one semester of Peer Learning Supervision, a candidate may substitute one basic unit of Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE), with prior approval of the D.Min. Director. Candidates will participate in structured supervised peer-learning experiences related to their ministry.

MINISTRY PROJECT

Candidates will design, implement, and reflect upon a self-directed, original project of ministry conducted in the minister's own ministry setting (6 hrs.).

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The D.Min. degree seeks to enhance the capacity of the minister to engage in theological reflection in the real world in the service of the church. Given the diversity of ministry interests, candidates may design their courses of study with the following Program Objectives in mind. These seek to:

- develop an appropriate biblical theology of worship and, in light of that theology, a capacity to lead effectively the community of faith in corporate worship;
- develop an appropriate pastoral theology, a level of personal, interpersonal, and spiritual awareness commensurate with mature ministry, and the requisite skills to practice pastoral care in a ministry setting;
- develop an understanding of the processes of faith development and to administer within a ministry setting effective structures and systems for the nurturing of the same;
- develop an understanding of the church, and his/her role in it, within a global context, and the capacity to reflect theologically on the implications of that global context for the nature and mission of the church;
- understand the ministry as a commitment to life-long learning, and to develop appropriate educational strategies within the ministry setting to realize that commitment; and
- demonstrate the ability to reflect upon the nature of one's ministry by conceptualizing and executing an original project in ministry, reflecting theologically on that project, and defending the project to a committee of faculty and other ministry professionals.
