

He Came Home to Die.

One of our genial, noble and popular young men, Mr. Flabianco A. Andrews, son of Dr. W. P. Andrews, has fallen a victim to consumption. He was a young man of genial, cheerful disposition and attractive manners and his kind heart won him many friends, who lament his early death at the age of twenty-seven years. Last and this year he was employed in two drug stores in Abbeville, S. C., but failing health necessitated his departure last May and on his arrival here his friends knew that he had come home to die. On Sunday morning with Masonic honors, sorrowing friends laid him away in our cemetery. Thus has consumption claimed a warm-hearted and noble young man.

Tribute of Respect.

At a called communication of Cleveland Lodge, No. 202, A. F. & A. M., held in their hall on the 17th day of July, 1887, the following preamble and resolution were presented and adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Supreme Architect of the Universe, in His Allwise Providence to call from among us our late esteemed brother, F. A. Andrews, it becomes us to pay to his memory and to his virtues the tribute of our sincere respect. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we bow in submission to His Allwise Decree and humbly trust that our brother has been called from "Labor" with us to "Refreshment" in the Grand Lodge above.

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Andrews this Lodge has lost a faithful member, and the craft a zealous patron and earnest advocate, the community a worthy citizen.

Resolved, That our brother in his unwavering integrity, unflinching fidelity and virtuous life, has furnished us a fit example to follow, in order that we may be, as we believe he was, ready fixed for the building used in that Temple not made with hands eternal in the Heavens.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the records of our Lodge and that a copy be furnished the papers of Shelby with request to publish.

Resolved, That the members of this Lodge wear as a testimonial of Brotherly love and Masonic principles the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

B. F. LOGAN,
W. A. WRAY,
B. B. BABINGTON, } Com.

Mr. Flay A. Andrews, one of the most estimable and popular young men in Shelby, died about two o'clock on Saturday morning in the twenty-seventh year of his age. Mr. Andrews had been suffering from consumption for several years. About two months ago he was forced by the disease to leave Abbeville, S. C., where he was then employed, and to come to the home of his father, Dr. W. P. Andrews. The climate seemed at first to benefit him, but the change was only temporary and he soon began to grow worse, with the result stated.

Mr. Andrews was a native of Shelby and lived here all of his life, with the exception of a brief period when he was engaged in Charlotte and about a year and a half spent in Abbeville, S. C. He was a druggist by profession and was considered one of the ablest pharmacists in the state. No young man in Shelby was more promising or more beloved by a large circle of friends. Coming to him so young, his death was quite a shock to the community, although it was not unexpected. Much sympathy is felt with his bereaved family.

The remains were buried on Sunday by Cleveland Lodge, No. 202 A. F. & A. M., of which Mr. Andrews was a member. The solemn and impressive Masonic ritual was read by Capt. J. W. Gidney, Worshipful Master, after which there was prayer by Rev. J. L. Scroggs, pastor of the Shelby Methodist church. The pall bearers, all members of the lodge, were Messrs. J. S. Wray, J. E. Martin, W. A. Wray, Dellinger, Wm. Cornwell and C. R. Gatti.

city.

MISS DAVENPORT IN THE CITY.

Miss Wynnye Davenport, clever young newspaper woman of Gaffney, and editor of the Woman's Department of the Gaffney Ledger, is in Greenville visiting her brother, Kyle Davenport.

INTERESTING GAFFNEY VISITOR

Miss Wynnyn Davenport of Gaffney is visiting her brother, Mr. Kyle Davenport at the Maryland apartments. Miss Davenport is one of the clever newspaper women of the state and has charge of the Woman's department of the Gaffney Ledger.

LIVES TO HAVE 92 CANDLES ON HIS CAKE.

After having given to his state the site of a town—Shelby—and after having lived to see children and grandchildren grow up around him, Mr. W. P. Love, Sr., of Shelby, and Charlotte, celebrated his 92nd birthday Sunday, June 6, at his home, 701 East boulevard. The event was made the occasion of an interesting family gathering, relatives from Shelby as well as Charlotte being present to witness the blowing out of the 92 candles which adorned the birthday cake. The cake was made and cut by Mrs. M. J. Brandy, formerly of this city, who is here on a visit, and who is an aunt by marriage of Mr. Love. All the children and grandchildren and other relatives were present. Mr. Love is the father of Dr. W. P. Love, of this city. It was Mr. Love who gave the site for the city of Shelby.—Mrs. Caldwell, in Charlotte Observer.

Century Old Cowpens House Lost

By L. D. EZELL

COWPENS (Special)—Fire destroyed one of the oldest homes in the Cowpens area last Sunday morning, the old William (Bill) Love home on Love Springs Road three miles north of here.

The original three rooms of the home were over 100 years old and were built of logs put together with wooden pegs. The sills were all hand-hewn and the logs were chinked with mud to keep out wind and rain, as was the custom in the old days.

The original rooms were destroyed, along with three additional rooms added to the structure later in its life. The fire consumed all the building except three brick chimneys.

The home was owned by the Fritz Surratt family of Gaffney and was occupied at the time of the fire by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cash and their seven months old son.

Mr. Love sold the building and hundreds of acres of land in the area in 1918-20 and moved to Asheville.

CAPT. W.P. LOVE, SR. DIES IN CHARLOTTE

WAS FORMER OWNER OF LOVE SPRINGS.

Disposed of Valuable Property in
This County About Two Years Ago Moving to Charlotte.

Captain W. P. Love, Sr., former owner of the well-known Love Springs property in Cherokee county, died at his home in Charlotte, N. C., Saturday night at the age of 93 years. He had been living in Charlotte since last December. Captain Love sold the Love Springs property some two years ago, after having owned and lived on it for 25 years.

Sunday's Charlotte Observer contained the following report of his death:

Capt. W. P. Love, Sr., a native of Shelby, who celebrated his 93rd birthday anniversary on June 6 of this year, died last night at 10:30 o'clock at his home, 701 East Boulevard, in this city.

The body will be taken to Shelby Monday morning and the funeral services will be held at the Shelby cemetery Monday at 12:30 o'clock, in charge of Dr. John Suttle, pastor of the first Baptist church in Shelby, of which the deceased was a member.

Captain Love lived in Shelby all of his life until about 25 years ago, when he moved to his plantation at Love's Spring, near Cowpens, S. C. where he lived until moving to Charlotte last December to make his home.

He was the son of the late James and Susan Putnan Love, the former having donated the site on which Shelby was founded in 1842, giving the land for all of the churches, schools and public buildings of the town. Captain Love was mayor of Shelby for many years and established the system that brings water from the Lythia springs, three and a half miles away, to the town. His aunt, Mrs. Betsy Wilson, owned the land where the Cleveland Springs development now is located.

In addition to Mrs. Love, the deceased is survived by three children, Dr. W. P. Love and Miss Mary Sue Love, of this city, and Dr. R. L. Love, of Charleston, S. C.

Page.

5

5, 8

10

20

23

25

34

4, 36

38

43

47

49

April 8-1962
Sunday