Shelby Church Will Host State BTU Convention

First Baptist Church of Shelby will host the annual Baptist Training Union Youth Convention Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Young People from all over the state will be coming in to Shelby for the three-day meeting.

Kay Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Spangler will preside at the Friday evening meeting. John Ward, minister of music at First Baptist Church, will direct the music for the convention.

Nathan Porter of the Home Mission Board will be the main speaker on Friday night.

"God, Science, and You" is the subject of the message assigned to Thomas C. Perkins. Perkins is professor of Bible and Physics at Gardner-Webb College.

All young people, ages 15-24, and adults who work with this age group, are invited to attend the meetings. The first session begins Friday at 7:30 p.m.
