"She loved the school in the beginning and loves it still"

Dear Alumni:

To God be the glory—great things He has done! Gardner-Webb College opened her fifty-fifth year with 611 students, the largest number in the history of the College. There is an excellent spirit of optimism on every hand. The cooperation of faculty, staff, students, trustees, and other friends is greatly encouraging.

Dr. Poston

The alumni officers and the Alumni Committee of the faculty, working with the Founders Day Committee, planned and carried out a most successful Founders Day-Homecoming Day Celebration. The highlight of the day was the formal opening of our new Science Building. Dr. Ralph Swann, head of the Chemistry Department of North Carolina State College, challenged us with a very informative and inspiring message on scientific progress since 1900. Our football team closed the day with a win over Wingate, bringing us closer to the Conference crown.

The most encouraging thing to me recently was the response of the alumni to the goal of twelve new alumni chapters before our annual banquet in May. The Rev. T. W. Estes, our alumni president, and I visited one day and enlisted thirteen key individuals who promised to take the lead in organizing the chapters. Not one person turned us down. You will be hearing more about this program.

Gardner-Webb College still desires to "serve all who want her service." Your prayers, your interest, and your gifts will help us meet the needs.

Sincerely yours,

IN THE NOVEMBER QUARTERLY

Founders Day: Founders Day and Homecoming on Oct. 28 proved to be one of the most successful events in the history of Gardner-Webb. Mrs. J. D. Huggins, Sr., the most honored guest at the Founders Day dinner, is pictured on the cover. She devoted many years of her life to the school and richly deserves the honor accorded her on that day. Other details of the occasion are found in this issue. . . . Football Champs: Coaches Norman Harris and Bob Blackburn were the proud possessors of the Conference championship when their team whipped Mars Hill in the last Conference game . . . Progress: the new science building—completed and equipped—stands between Dover Library and Decker Hall . . . Glamour: G-W's Weece Rodrigues from Brazil met Miss America on Nov. 4 . . . Step Forward: the Alumni Association has plans for 13 alumni chapters . . . Thanks: a special thanks to those who returned our questionnaires last year, providing us with needed information . . .

Oct. 28 Meeting

Alumni Association Plans Area Chapters

At a meeting of the officers and directors of the Gardner-Webb College Alumni Association on Oct. 28 at the College, initial plans were made to organize 13 alumni chapters by May, 1962.

Organizational leaders and their areas are Tom McGraw, Maiden; the Rev. Wilson Padgett, Shelby; Dan Camp, Lawndale; the Rev. W. G. Camp, Mooresboro; Max Padgett, Forest City; Lacy Price, Cliffside; Mrs. C. B. Poston, Rutherfordton; Jimmy Mize, Cherryville; Frank Wall, Boiling Springs; the Rev. Yates Campbell, Gastonia; John Roberts, Thomasville; Forrest Hunt, Caroleen; and the Rev. Joe J. Bridges, Ellenboro.

Plans include four chapters for Cleveland County, three each for Rutherford and Gaston Counties, one to include parts of Lincoln and Catawba Counties, one in Thomasville, and one in western North Carolina.

Dates for organizational meetings will be set by the leader for each area by the end of the year.

The Shelby chapter will include No. 3 district; the Lawndale unit will include all routes, Polkville, Fallston, Casar, Belwood, Waco, and Route 5, Shelby. The Kings Mountain area will take in Grover and Bethware. The Boiling Springs chapter will include No. 1 Community, Lattimore, New House, and Mooresboro.

The Rutherfordton chapter embraces Spindale, Oakland, Ruth, Green Hill, Gilkey, Lake Lure, Chimney Rock, and Union Mills. The Chase unit will take in Cliffside, Henrietta, Avondale, Caroleen, Harris, Forest City, Route 1; Mooresboro, Route 1; Ellenboro, Route 2; Shiloh, and part of Gaffney (S. C.), Route 3.

Forest City's chapter includes Alexander, Bostic, Ellenboro, Hollis, and Sunshine. Dallas and Tryon go in the Gastonia chapter, with Bessemer City linked with Cherryville. Belmont unit takes in Cramerton, Lowell, McAdenville, Stanley, Mount Holly, and North Belmont.

The Thomasville chapter will embrace High Point and Lexington; Maiden, Newton, Lincolnton, and Lincoln County make up the South Fork chapter. The western North Carolina chapter takes in Sylva, Bryson City, Cullowhee, and Waynesville.

Enrollment Hits New High For Fall Semester

Enrollment figures for the fall semester hit a new peak, when 611 students registered for classes. Mrs. Dorothy W. Hamrick, '35, College registrar, indicates that 425 freshmen, 173 sophomores, and 13 special students are enrolled.

In comparison with last year when 577 students and 13 specials were enrolled, sophomore and freshmen students numbered 395 and 182 respectively.

Represented by this record enrollment are 11 states, 49 counties, and one foreign country. North Carolinians number 512, Sandlappers, 66. Other states represented are Virginia, Florida, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Connecticut, Delaware, and Georgia.

Weecee Rodrigues from Recife, Brazil, is the foreign student.

Seventy-three per cent of the students are Baptist. Other denominations are Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopalian, Lutheran, Catholic, Unitarian, and Greek Orthodox.

This fall marked the beginning of the 55th session of Gardner-Webb College.

Our Alumni President Speaks

Dear Alumni of Gardner-Webb:

After setting the colon to the salutation above, I paused a few moments to visualize the great host of alumni who would possibly read this letter. Projected on the screen of my mind could be seen persons representing many essential and varied vocations. As one of these more than 5,000 alumni, you are grateful, I am confident, for the contribution that Gardner-Webb has made to the success of your life and career.

The majority of Gardner-Webb alumni also has ties with other schools of higher education. Such additional ties, however, should not in the least loosen the bonds that bind us to our first college Alma Mater. The wholesome spiritual influence and the discipline of learning to which we voluntarily submitted ourselves at Gardner-Webb helped many of us find true direction and meaning in life.

What once you received to help you build a mature and useful Christian life, others are receiving at Gardner-Webb today. In fact, the College never ceases to develop its resources and increase its qualifications to meet the tremendous challenges of these times. For example, the new fully equipped science building now in use has given a great boost to the effective ministry of the College.

Gardner-Webb alumni have played a vital role in every advance throughout the history of the school. Perhaps, however, some of us have not kept informed about the College as thoroughly as we would like. Alumni chapters functioning in strategic localities would help meet this need. These chapters would serve not only to keep the alumni abreast of the progress at Gardner-Webb, but also aid in keeping alive a good fellowship.

Alumni officers, acting on a suggestion made by the Alumni Association last spring, have set a goal of twelve new chapters this year. Dr. Eugene Poston and others of the College staff are giving invaluable assistance. A handbook for officers of alumni chapters has been prepared, and twelve interested alumni have willingly accepted the responsibility of helping to organize chapters in the localities where they live.

Success in this initial undertaking will encourage the organizing of an increasing number of chapters each year.

We are encouraged to believe that Gardner-Webb alumni will make an eager, cooperative response to this worthy challenge.

Sincerely,

T. W. Estes

Mr. Estes

Mrs. J. D. Huggins, Sr., Is Honored Guest At G-W's Founders Day Program

Founders Day was observed Oct. 28, along with Homecoming, in one of the most significant celebrations in the history of Gardner-Webb.

The day's events brought back hundreds of alumni and other friends of the College.

One of the many highlights of the day was the Founders Day luncheon at 1:30 in the College cafeteria, at which three special groups were honored: children and grandchildren of the original Board of Trustees, graduates of the classes from 1910 through 1928, and former faculty members.

Approximately 100 children and grandchildren, 100 graduates of the old high school, and 25 former faculty members joined more than 50 present faculty and staff and other friends for the luncheon.

Mrs. J. D. Huggins, Sr., wife of the first principal of the school, was the most honored guest and was presented an orchid, symbolic of the gratitude and esteem for what she has meant to the school through the years.

"She loved the school in the beginning and loves it still . . .," said Francis B. Dedmond at the luncheon.

First Trustee

Judge B. T. Falls, Sr., was recognized as the only living member of the 1905 Board of Trustees. Also present and recognized were all living members of the first graduating class (1910): Mrs. W. F. Mobley (Louise Atkins), Miss Ollie Moore, and Dr. T. N. Farris.

Mrs. Mary Clarke Pitts Duncan was recognized as the only member of the first faculty (1907).

Three living ex-presidents, Dr. Zeno Wall, the Rev. J. L. Jenkins, and the Rev. J. R. Cantrell, '19, were recognized.

A special tribute was paid to the E. B. Hamrick and W. W. Washburn families, two pioneers who have made continuous contributions to the College.

Three former faculty members — Mrs. Frances Cuthbertson Vick, Dr. Bill Troutman, and Stephen Morrisett — were singled out for significant contributions to the College.

Science Building

Also highlighting the day was a ribbon cutting and formal opening of the new science building that stands on the west side of the campus. Dr. Ralph C. Swann, speaker for the occasion, reviewed scientific achievements since the turn of the century and challenged Gardner-Webb to great contributions in this field.

Open house in the science building and other buildings on the campus continued all afternoon.

Around 70 alumni were on hand for the annual alumni barbecue at 5 p.m. in front of the Physical Education Building.

Climaxing the day was the Gardner-Webb-Wingate football game, with G-W whipping the favored Wingate eleven 20-14 before 1,500 alumni and other friends. Prior to the game Mrs. Nettie Gidney's College chorus sang "It's A Grand Night For Singing" and "Stout-Hearted Men" to add a special flavor to the occasion.

During half-time activities, Miss Ellen Abernethy was crowned homecoming queen by Dr. E. Eugene Poston, '43, president.

Dover Is Named "Alumnus of the Year"

John R. Dover, Jr., '11, president of Dover Mill Co. of Shelky, received the "Alumnus of the Year" award at the annual Alumni Banquet May 27. He was presented the traditional silver bowl and recognized for Christian service, contributions to industry, and service to Gardner-Webb College.

In making the presentation, the Rev. Wilson W. Padgett, '42, of Eastside Baptist Church, Shelby, noted that Dover has served as deacon and chairman of the trustees at Dover Baptist Church, has contributed to Cleveland County's economic life and developed good labor-management relations, and as a trustee of Gardner-Webb, served on the committee early this year to recommend a new president. The library on the College campus carries the family name, symbolic of the Dovers' continuous contributions to the school.

Last year's recipient of the award was O. Paul Hamrick, '11, second student to enroll at the school when it opened in 1907. Other alumni who have received the award since it was established in 1957 are Arnold W. Kincaid, '26, Dr. Leon H. Hollingsworth, '41, and Donnis Gold Yelton (Mrs. Paris L.), '24.

Alumni Officers Are Elected At Banquet

The Rev. T. W. Estes, '52, as president, heads the list of Alumni Association officers elected at the annual banquet last May 27. Rev. Estes is pastor of the Florence Baptist Church, Forest City.

The Rev. Wilson W. Padgett, '42, pastor of the Eastside Baptist Church, Shelby, was elected vice-president.

Mrs. Nancy Anthony Griffin, '53, public relations secretary at the College, was re-elected secretary of the Association.

Named to three-year terms as members of the board of directors were the Rev. R. W. Abrams, '52, Sylva; the Rev. Paul Mustian, '58, Gaffney, S. C.; and Sam M. Craver, '61, Lexington.

Some 300 alumni attended the banquet, for which Claude Gaddy, then executive secretary of the Council on Christian Education of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, was speaker.

Registrar Dorothy W. Hamrick, '35, paid tribute to the late Dr. Phil Elliott by reading an "undelivered letter" written to alumni before his death. The letter announced plans for a proposed "Phil Elliott Day."

Footnotes To Gardner-Webb History

1. Among the happiest Gardner-Webb College faculty members reporting for the fall semester's work were Coach Bob Blackburn, '52, Mrs. Betty Hoyle Logan, and Miss Abbie C. Miller, who returned with new college degrees tucked neatly under their belts.

Blackburn received the M. A. degree in physical education from George Peabody College; Mrs. Logan won her M. A. in education and business administration from Appalachian State Teachers College; and Miss Miller received the A. B. degree in English from Kentucky Wesleyan College. She already holds the B. M. and M. M. degrees.

2. Faculty members Lansford Jolley, '47, Allen Burris, Hubert Dixon, '33, and Thirlen Osborne delighted faculty members with old-fashioned barber shop quartet harmony at Mrs. Lucile Dixon's annual faculty party in September.

3. Coach Francis B. Dedmond's debate team opened the season Oct. 20 by winning three out of four debates in the "early bird" tournament. At the Wake Forest Novice Debate Tournament Nov. 4-5, G-W chalked up a .500 record, with the affirmative and negative teams losing three each and winning three each.

Ronald Wright, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Wright (Janice Wellman, '53) of Charlotte, died at birth Tuesday, May 23.

College Benefactor

O. Max Gardner, Jr., Dies November 10

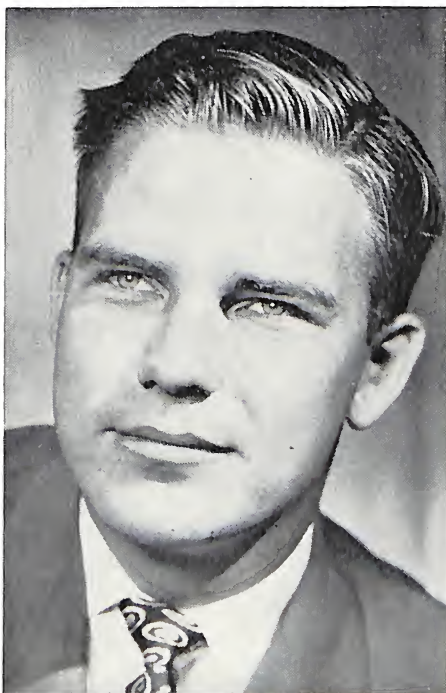

The College was saddened to learn of the death of O. Max Gardner, Jr., on Nov. 10. Son of the late governor and U. S. senator and himself a major benefactor of the College, Max Junior, as he was known by friends, carried on in the philanthropic spirit of his father.

It was the Gardner family that came to the rescue of the College in the early '40's and that have bestowed numerous gifts on the College since then. The latest is the $75,000 Webb Administration Building, named for Gardner's mother and her family, the Webbs. It was Max Junior's leadership that led to the gift. He was present for the dedication of the building last spring.

An outstanding student at N. C. State and the University of North Carolina, Gardner had many and varied interests. He was a member of numerous business, social, philanthropic, and educational organizations.

Despite a crippling illness that claimed 11 years of his life, he fought an admirable battle against multiple sclerosis. He overcame the tragedy of being cut down in the prime of life, on the threshold

Mr. Palmer

“The Trustees held their first joint meeting at Boiling Springs on Oct. 27, 1905, and adopted a plan of co-operation They decided that the school should be known as Boiling Springs High School, and they appointed a committee”

Thus states the official history of Gardner-Webb College, and with that date we set the founding of our school, although its real beginning dates back as far as 1903.

On Oct. 28 of this year fragments of that history descended on the campus to try to bridge the gap of time, to recapture moments of their lives here, and to stand aghast at the changes that have been wrought in the institution that was founded 56 years ago. (One old-timer searched in vain for the exact spot where his old dormitory stood.)

As we trace the history of the early school from that 1903 meeting of the Kings Mountain Baptist Association and that group's decision to build a Baptist high school, to the 1904 meeting and the appointment of 15 trustees, through the summer meetings of 1905 and the selection of a site (Boiling Springs) and the addition of 10 trustees from the Sandy Run Association, to the first joint meeting of trustees from both associations on the date which determines our founding, to the laying of the first cornerstones, we realize that even those foresighted men did not envision the Christian liberal arts junior college that is our pride today.

The recent dinner in celebration of the school's founding was attended by some 270 individuals, who themselves or whose relatives contributed to the progress of the school that eventually became today's Gardner-Webb.

Indeed, the Founders Day celebration was a historic occasion, bringing together in one group an unusual array of distinguished guests—a list that few comparable colleges could equal—from a first trustee to the present chairman of the Board, from all living members of the first graduating class to the present chief marshal, and other representative fragments of the school's history through the years.

Those descendants of the original board of trustees, former faculty members and administrators, members of the two pioneer families honored at the Founders Day dinner, other friends and benefactors of the school, and all of you—Gardner-Webb's alumni—can be proud of the college that has been built here “at the foot of the mountains,” serving in a unique way those who seek her services.

Miss Abernethy Is Named Queen

Miss Ellen Abernethy, freshman from Stanley, reigned as homecoming queen Oct. 28, when the Bulldogs whipped arch-rival Wingate 20-14.

Her attendants were Miss Gail Hall of Kinston and Miss Doris Winchester of Sunset, S. C.

President Poston crowned the queen during the gala half-time activities.

Eight sophomore football players were also represented by sponsors, pretty girls who shared the spotlight with the queen and her attendants.

A host of alumni enjoyed the game and renewed old friendships during the day's activities at the College and at the game in Shelby that night.

Bulldogs Win Conference Championship

Gardner-Webb Bulldogs won the Conference championship Nov. 4 with a 26-7 win over the Mars Hill Lions, the only Conference team to defeat them all season. The win avenged an earlier 13-12 loss.

The Bulldogs closed out the season Nov. 18 with a 19-7 win over Florida Military College, to boost their season's record to 5-3-2. The winning Conference record was 3-1-2.

The Conference cause was helped by Lees-McRae's 26-12 win over a favored Wingate eleven the same night G-W tamed the Lions. Wingate was favored to win the crown.

The season began with two losses for the Bulldogs—6-0 to Chowan and 13-2 to Furman Freshmen. However, the 'dogs got back on the winning trail the next week with a 19-13 victory over Lees-McRae, a team that later tagged a 0-0 tie on the Bulldogs.

G-W followed up the 19-13 win with the Mars Hill loss, but surprised the Wingate Bulldogs 19-19 the next week. After the scoreless tie, Wingate fell at G-W's homecoming 20-14, followed the next week by the 26-7 win that determined the champion.

The Bulldogs closed out the season with a 40-0 romp over Davidson Freshman and the 19-7 win over Florida Military.

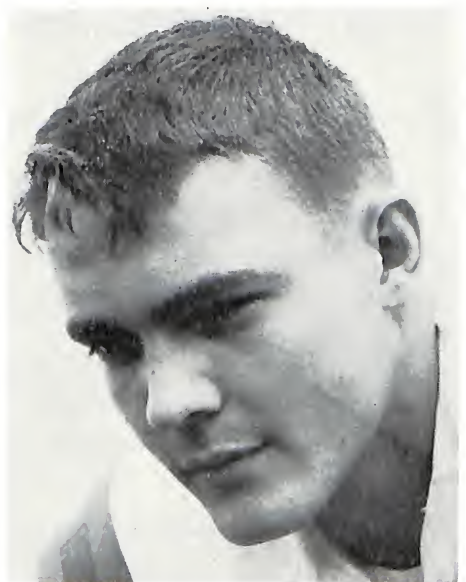

It was the first Conference crown since 1956 for Coach Norman Harris.

Ken Sanford, star halfback on the Gardner-Webb team for two seasons, was one big reason the Bulldogs posted their winning record. He was recently nominated for two All-American honors: to play in the All-America All Star game to be played Dec. 2 in Albuquerque, N. M., and to be a member of the National Junior College Athletic Association All-American team.

Sanford, an outstanding high school player in his native Hartwell, Ga., was co-recipient of the most valuable player award at

G-W last year, won All-Conference recognition, and has generally been rated "the best" by coaches in the Conference. He was named "player of the week" four times during his two seasons with the Bulldogs.

According to Francis B. Dedmond's history of the College, B. E. "Pop" Simmons says the first football game in Cleveland County was played in the fall of 1920, with Boiling Springs High School facing Gaffney, S. C. High School. "Pop," serving as coach for the Boiling Springs team, hustled his boys out for a few practice sessions with an old shoe and on Saturday scored a 6-0 win.

G-W's Weece Meets Maria Beale Fletcher

Weece Rodrigues, coed from Recife, Brazil, is delighting Gardner-Webb students with her wit and charm this fall. She thinks G-W "is very nice and much fun," and not the "leetle school" she thought it was at first.

When approached about the habits of her native country, Weece, her dark eyes dancing, laughs, "O yes, we drink a lot of coffee in Brazil!"

She is quickly adapting herself to the peculiarities of Americans. Among these are pop tests ("I hate them . . ."), rock and roll ("It's crazy music!"), coed's stuffed animals (" . . . this is for babies!"), and American dating which is markedly different from courting customs in her native country.

Weece realized a dream on Nov. 4, when she travelled with schoolmate Sandy Carpenter of Asheville to meet Miss America, Maria Beale Fletcher.

The meeting, brief and hurried, carried with it, however, an aura of international good will and understanding and was appropriate to Maria's now famous remarks on world peace, made at Atlantic City.

of a bright career, and, even after losing the ability to speak, took an active part in civic affairs.

The College will miss Max Junior and the bright hope and promise that was his, even in tragedy.

Southern Association Commends Gardner-Webb

A three-man committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools visited the Gardner-Webb campus Oct. 15-18, in a follow-up study of the College's self-evaluation program carried on last year.

Dr. J. J. Hayden, president of Perkinson College in Mississippi, commended the faculty for the self-study program they completed and the written report of that program.

He stated that there was no doubt that Gardner-Webb had met the requirements for accreditation by the Southern Association.

Dr. Hayden commended the College for its fine physical plant and the building program that brought the College to its present facilities.

He also commended the faculty for their devotion to the principles of Christian education.

The committee chairman also recognized Gardner-Webb for its fine program of service to a rural community, especially those services administered by the Church-Community Development Department, Royster Memorial Hospital, and the Guidance Department. He said that it is these services that help make Gardner-Webb a unique institution.

To conclude his report, Dr. Hayden made a recommendation on concluding the self-study. He stated that one of Gardner-Webb's major problems is to clarify its direction for the future.

Science Building Is Formally Opened

The new Science Building stands proud and radiant on the west side of the campus. The building was completed and equipped in time for classes in September. P. S. West Construction of Statesville erected the building at a cost of $200,000. Another $90,000 supplied equipment and classroom furnishings.

The two-story brick structure measures 153.6 feet by 66 feet, totalling 20,000 square feet. The building contains seven classrooms, one seating 154 students, others accommodating about 40 each.

The laboratories are especially attractive and equipped with the latest in lab needs. Chemistry professor M. A. Moseley, Jr., whom many a G-W student remembers affectionately, indicates that he would not "foot for foot trade the building for any at any of the larger colleges in the Carolinas."

Professor Hubert C. Dixon, '33, chairman of the Natural Science and Mathematics Department, on Sept. 19 made to Dr. Poston a historic telephone call, the first from the new building. Dixon's remarks constituted a dedication to the search of truth through the study of science.

In part, he said, "It is our hope that this building will enable us to better accomplish the . . . purpose of our department . . . to acquaint the student with the basic laws of the physical universe We seek to assist the student in finding truth through the study of science and in verifying known truths by experimentation"
