QUARTERLY

Dean of Instruction for 17 Years

Dear Alumni:

Dr. Poston

We are well on our way in the 55th year of continuous operation here at Gardner-Webb College. Our 632 students and 50 Faculty-Staff members are very busy in the business of Christian Higher Education. God has been good to us this year, and we are deeply grateful to Him.

Some of the alumni are responding to the Alumni Endowment Fund. We are praying that many more will respond soon. Our goal for this year is $20,000. If every one of us would give as he is able, this goal could be easily reached.

The Endowment Fund will help keep us accredited and provide the means to increase our faculty. This will be a blessing to untold numbers of people. Have you considered the Endowment Fund carefully? The names of those who have given are listed elsewhere in the Quarterly. Be sure your name gets in the list this year.

Gardner-Webb College needs your prayers and financial help. If we are to send out Christian men and women trained at the points of greatest need, your help is a must.

May God continue to bless you, yours, and your work.

Sincerely yours,

Men's Dorm Planned

Construction of a 100-bed men's dormitory will begin early next year if permission to borrow $150,000 for this purpose is granted by the Baptist State Convention. Action to this end was approved by the Trustees at their quarterly meeting in August.

In making the request of the Convention it was stated that more room was needed so that G-W might grow and also better utilize the space now available. Boys are now being housed in a dormitory built for girls. The new building would give two dorms each for girls and boys.

Mrs. Rush Stroup of Shelby presided over the board which heard reports from its committee chairmen, M. O. Owens, Jr., J. R. Dover, Jr., J. Toliver Davis, Horace Eason and W. T. Hendrix.

President Poston spoke to the group and presented new members of the administration. M. W. Gordon, Jr. gave the financial report showing the College on a break-even basis.

Dover Library Now Air-Conditioned

The Dover Memorial Library was air-conditioned last July with a gift of $25,000 from the Dover Foundation and Fox-Wells Co. of New York. The system was installed under the direction of M. W. Gordon, Jr., college business manager.

Dr. E. Eugene Poston, '43, stated that the air-conditioned library was a drawing card for the summer school students and should remain so for the summers to come.

Miss Faye Mitchell, head librarian, said that the library would be used more by students during the summer, and that some of the older books having historical value would be better preserved in an air-conditioned building.

TERRELL NOW PROFESSOR

James Orville Terrell, better known to many as Dean Terrell, after 17 years as Dean of Gardner-Webb College, was promoted to full-time teaching at the end of summer school. He submitted his resignation last year with the request that he be permitted to remain on the teaching faculty. President Poston asked him to remain as dean another year to allow time for naming a successor. He agreed and was succeeded at the beginning of this session by Dr. Eugene Miller Keebler, from Norman College, Norman Park, Georgia.

Mr. Terrell, as Professor of Social Science, began full-time teaching at the beginning of the fall session. He is at home in this field and in this department, for he taught part-time during the term he served as dean.

Shortly after summer school ended, Mr. Terrell's associates in the administration gave him a coke party and presented him a copy of the 1962 Anchor. Dr Poston expressed appreciation for the faithful work of Mr. Terrell as teacher and dean. When asked for his reaction, Dean Terrell said, "I have had more rest in the last week or two than I've had in the last seventeen years."

Dean Terrell came to Gardner-Webb in 1945 from public school administration. He joined with the late President Philip L. Elliott in the early years of his administration, and together they labored to make Gardner-Webb the superior two-year college it is today.

A native of Jackson County, he did his undergraduate work at Western Carolina College where he majored in social studies. He received his M. A. degree from George Peabody College with a major in history. He is married to the former Rubye Etta Reynolds of Leicester, N. C.

Mr. Terrell is a faithful and loyal Methodist. Recently he has helped with the establishment and construction of a new Methodist Church in Boiling Springs, which is to be dedicated soon, and will mark a new milestone for the denomination in the Boiling Springs area.

At the November faculty meeting, Mrs. Dorothy W. Hamrick, '35, on behalf of the faculty, administration and staff, presented Dean Terrell a Hamilton watch. In presenting it she said, "To one who is a dedicated professor, to one who is a true friend to all, to one whom it is an honor and privilege to know, we your friends, present to you this little token of our appreciation for your loyalty, devotion, and service as Dean of Gardner-Webb College from 1945 to 1962 and wish for you many more years of faithful service and warm friendships — to you, our beloved Dean, James Orville Terrell."

With Mr. Terrell's retirement as dean, Gardner-Webb has reached the end of an era and begins another under the direction of Dean Keebler. Even though he is no longer dean, all those connected with the College may rest assured that they have the support, sympathetic consideration and help of J. O. Terrell.

Evening College Plans Being Studied

Plans are being formulated for operation of an evening college at Gardner-Webb.

In anticipation of this move, a survey is being conducted to determine the interest, needs and extent of the curriculum. The survey is being conducted under the direction of Thomas J. McGraw, director of development at the college.

McGraw said, "This is another area in which Gardner-Webb is attempting to serve and meet the needs of the people in the surrounding area." It is hoped the response will be good and the information may be in hand by Dec. 1. Classes both on a credit and non-credit basis could be offered in Bible, English, speech, history, typing, shorthand and other subjects.

Our Alumni President Speaks

Dear Alumni of Gardner-Webb:

Mr. Padgett

At the time you read these words Gardner-Webb will be well under way in a new school year. It looks like one of her greatest years, with a record enrollment and a greatly strengthened faculty. It has been a great thrill for me these past two years to serve on the executive committee of the Board of Trustees, and to see the progress being made in improving the quality of our college in every direction.

The question has often come to my mind as I have seen the wonderful growth and development of Gardner-Webb; what can I do as one who loves and believes in her ministry? I have tried to list a few things that as a former student I can do to help insure further growth and greater strength.

1. I can pray for the administration, faculty, and students.
2. I can serve anywhere and anytime I may be asked inasmuch as time and ability will permit.
3. I can influence quality students to attend Gardner-Webb.
4. I can tell the G-W story everywhere I have the opportunity.
5. I can introduce Gardner-Webb to newcomers in my community.
6. I can give what my circumstances will permit to the building and operation of a greater college.
7. I can maintain an active interest in our school, and help to interest others in the program of the school.

Perhaps one of the best channels for service to Gardner-Webb is through the local Alumni Chapters that have been organized in your community. Let us strive to make these chapters effective agencies of our College. It is my hope that each chapter will have at least one well attended meeting this year in addition to the annual meeting in the spring of all the alumni at the College. Dr. Poston has promised to give help where needed to these local chapters by making available speakers or other assistance from the college.

Someone asked this question of me recently at a Baptist meeting — What does Gardner-Webb have to offer that a student cannot find in a state institution? What is the aim of Gardner-Webb? In answering, I quoted Dr. Poston. "The aim of Gardner-Webb College is to give the finest education possible, in a distinctive Christian atmosphere." It seems that this is a worthy reason for a denominational school to exist in our midst. I challenge you to join with fellow alumni in helping to realize this goal.

Sincerely yours,

Enrollment Up

Enrollment for the current semester has reached a record total of 632, as compared with last year's 601, according to Mrs. Dorothy W. Hamrick, '35, registrar. This total includes 601 regular college students, 3 special college students, 12 special music students and 16 students in two non-credit night classes in art.

There are 388 freshmen and 213 sophomores, plus 3 special, divided 384 men to 220 women. Boarding students number 355, with 219 men and 136 women. Day students number 249 with 165 men and 84 women.

The students come from 16 states, the District of Columbia, and one foreign country (Brazil). North Carolina supplies 485 students from 53 of its counties. There are 92 from South Carolina and seven from Virginia. Other states represented are Ala., Conn., Del., Fla., Ill., Md., N. J., N. Y., Ohio, Ore., Tenn., and W. Va.

Cleveland County provides 135 students, Rutherford 78, and Gaston 76. Rounding out the top six counties are Burke with 16, Forsyth and Mecklenburg with 14 each.

The students are predominantly Baptist, with 458 listed. Methodists have 67 and Presbyterians 21. Nineteen other denominations are represented.

Leading vocational choices are business administration and secretarial work, teaching, the ministry and vocational Christian work, and engineering.

Summer School Enrollment

A record enrollment of 159 students was set for the first six-weeks session of summer school. Students from 31 colleges were here to study with G-W students. Thirty-eight of the students had entered college for the first time.

This was the first year that G-W had run a full twelve-weeks summer session, having had only nine weeks before. Eighteen students graduated on Aug. 25.

Notes On Graduation

Dr. Eugene M. Keebler, then dean-registrar at Norman College in Norman Park, Ga., delivered the Commencement address on May 28. Keebler spoke on "A Competency Pattern for Life."

Keebler urged the 77 graduates to develop a Christian competency pattern for their lives. Dean of Instruction J. O. Terrell presented awards, and Dr. E. Eugene Poston, '43, awarded diplomas to the graduates.

Dr. Baker James Cauthen, executive secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, delivered the Baccalaureate Sermon on Sunday night, May 27, in the Boiling Springs Baptist Church. His sermon was entitled "Dedication for our Day."

Dr. V. Ward Barr, then pastor of the First Baptist Church in Gastonia, was Commencement speaker for the summer school graduation exercises at Gardner-Webb on Aug. 24. There were 18 summer school graduates.

Nursing Curricula Added

Gardner-Webb has entered into an agreement with the Rutherford Hospital School of Nursing to help train their student nurses. The nurses-to-be commute to the campus and take classes three days each week, giving them 12 hours of work, thus making them regular college students. Courses in chemistry, psychology, physical education, anatomy, and bacteriology are offered.

This is a new venture on the part of both schools, but officials are very hopeful for its progress. They have expressed appreciation for the way the program has begun and see great future possibilities for it.

LIBRARY FEATURED AT FOUNDERS DAY EVENT

Founders Day and Homecoming were observed Saturday, Oct. 27 on the Gardner-Webb campus.

A highlight of Founders Day was the 1:00 p.m. luncheon in the college cafeteria honoring the major contributors to the library and the graduates of the Boiling Springs High School and College from 1929 through 1940.

Around 150 persons were in attendance at the luncheon and all classes were represented with the exception of the class of 1932.

The Washburn and Dover families were recognized as having made major contributions to the library in the form of buildings. Others who had contributed to the library were recognized, as were former presidents, former librarians or assistants, and Mrs. J. D. Huggins, Sr. and Mrs. P. L. Elliott.

Principal speaker at the luncheon was Dewey Clifton Brock, Jr., head of the Social Science and Business Library at the University of North Carolina.

Following the luncheon there was a guided tour of the John R. Dover Memorial Library, which was air-conditioned this summer.

The annual Homecoming Barbecue was held at 5:30 p.m. in front of the Physical Education Building with approximately 80 people there.

Climaxing the day was the Homecoming football game between Gardner-Webb and Chowan College. The Gardner-Webb Bulldogs won the game 26 to 13, and also clinched the title as Conference Champions of Region 10.

Chowan coaches James Garrison, '53, and Jerry Hawkins, '56, are former students of G-W Coach Norman Harris.

During half-time activities Miss Brenda Moore of Charlotte was crowned Homecoming Queen by Dr. E. Eugene Poston, '43, president. The Kings Mountain High School Band performed at half-time.

MRS. DOROTHY HAMRICK NAMED "Alumnus Of The Year"

Mrs. Dorothy Washburn Hamrick, '35, was honored at the annual Alumni Banquet in May with the "Alumnus of the Year" award. She was presented the traditional engraved silver bowl.

Mrs. Hamrick has served for the past 16 years as Registrar at Gardner-Webb.

The Rev. T. W. Estes, '52, president of the Alumni Association, presented the award. He cited five areas of accomplishment by enumerating Mrs. Hamrick's contributions to the church, the community, student life, alumni, and the college.

In presenting the award Estes said, "Others among us have gone out into the proverbial four corners of the world to make our contributions to the betterment of mankind. Mrs. Hamrick has remained here at the College to make hers. No great monument marks her achievements, but what all feel in their hearts is an even greater tribute to her," he concluded.

Mrs. Hamrick has one son, Philip Edward, '58, who is a graduate student in Biophysics at the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond. Philip is married to the former Miss Jane Caroline Greene, '57, of Boiling Springs, and they have one daughter, Eileen, 1.

Alumni Banquet Held

The annual Alumni Banquet was held Saturday night, May 26, in the College Cafeteria with a capacity crowd of 300 alumni, faculty, and trustees in attendance. Rev. T. W. Estes, '52, president of the Alumni Association, presided.

The Rev. Fritz D. Hemphill, director of Fruitland Baptist Institute, Hendersonville, was speaker for the occasion.

President E. Eugene Poston, '43, reported on the 12 new alumni chapters and on the new cultural and creative program being directed by Prof. F. B. Dedmond.

Mrs. Nancy A. Griffin, '53, gave the secretary-treasurer's report.

A bold new step was taken by the Alumni Association with specific plans to set up a $215,000 Alumni Endowment Fund over a seven-year period. Robert Trexler, '42, served as chairman of the committee that drew up the plans and presented the report of this committee.

The Rev. Wilson W. Padgett, '54, of Shelby was elected president of the Alumni Association for the 1962-63 year in May. Padgett is pastor of the Eastside Baptist Church in Shelby.

NOTED PREACHER AND AUTHOR'S PRIVATE LIBRARY GIVEN TO COLLEGE

Because an alumnus thought of Gardner-Webb as a college with "a mission, a message, and a Master" the college library is $15,000 richer and 3,000 volumes larger. This growth came about recently when Mrs. R. C. Campbell (Ella McCurry, '11) donated her husband's personal library to the College.

The collection includes eight sets of commentaries, 16 books Dr. Campbell wrote, eight books of sermon outlines he used in his long ministry, and hundreds of books he bought for his own use.

President Poston, in accepting the gift, pointed out that a religion section of the library was one of the College's needs as it fulfills requirements for a four-year institution. He also said that $15,000 was a conservative estimate of the value of the library. Some of the books could not be replaced now.

Both natives of Rutherford County—he from Hollis and she from Golden Valley—Dr. and Mrs. Campbell met while students at Boiling Springs High School. They married while still in school but continued their education at Wake Forest College and Carson-Newman College where they graduated in 1915.

Dr. Campbell received his seminary training at Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex. He held pastorates in N. C., Tex., S. C., and Ark. He retired in 1949 and moved to Shelby. For the next five years until his death from a heart attack, he held Bible conferences and did Bible teaching, which he delighted in doing. Despite a very busy life, he found time to write 16 books, of which Mrs. Campbell has the manuscripts. One booklet, "God's Financial Plan" has sold over 500,000 copies and has been used all over the world. Church leaders estimate that it has meant millions of dollars to churches. Two of his books have been translated into Spanish and one into Chinese.

Through his books and in other ways, Dr. Campbell fulfills the Biblical statement, "He being dead yet speaketh."

College Revival Held

Dr. Ray Roberts, Executive Secretary of the Ohio Baptist Convention, was the main speaker for the college revival, Oct. 1-5.

Sponsored by the B. S. U., the meeting was held in cooperation with the college church, Rev. T. Max Linnens, '52, pastor. Services were held nightly and during chapel hours in the mornings.

Donald Moore, '53, Director of Guidance, spoke on Sunday morning. Robert W. Abrams, '42, Director of Promotion, spoke on Sunday night, and Dean Eugene M. Keebler spoke at the Monday chapel service.

The theme for the meeting was "You, for such a time as this," based upon the Scripture from Esther 4:14c. The hymn was "Stand Up For Jesus." Students participated in planning the services, giving testimonies, reading the Scripture, and in other ways.

Dr. E. Eugene Poston, '43, President, expressed the opinion after the meeting that it had made a real spiritual impact upon the college and the community.

Mrs. R. C. Campbell and Dr. E. Eugene Poston, President of Gardner-Webb, are surrounded by the personal library of the late Dr. R. C. Campbell, which Mrs. Campbell has presented to the college. A photograph of Dr. Campbell is on the table at right beside copies of 16 books he wrote and had published.—(Shelby Daily Star).

From Our Development Director

Dear Alumni:

Recently you received a letter concerning the Gardner-Webb Alumni Endowment Program. This program was adopted at the annual alumni meeting held on the campus on May 26, 1962. The program provides for a five-member committee on endowment. Two of these to be the president and secretary of the Alumni Association; the other three to be appointed by the president.

The objectives of this plan are: 1. That the committee maintain and promote an endowment program as deemed wise to meet the needs of the College. 2. That a seven-year Alumni Endowment Program be launched beginning September 1, 1962. 3. That yearly goals for the seven-year program be as follows:

September 1, 1962	-	August 31, 1963	$ 20,000.00
September 1, 1963	-	August 31, 1964	23,000.00
September 1, 1964	-	August 31, 1965	26,000.00
September 1, 1965	-	August 31, 1966	29,000.00
September 1, 1966	-	August 31, 1967	32,000.00
September 1, 1967	-	August 31, 1968	35,000.00
September 1, 1968	-	August 31, 1969	50,000.00
September 1, 1969	-	August 31, 1970	$215,000.00

4. That funds shall be channeled through the College business office and handled as other endowment funds of the College with a separate account set up entitled "Alumni Endowment Program." 5. That only the interest from the funds shall be used for College needs as deemed necessary by the College Administration. 6. That this program shall serve only as a supplement to the College general endowment program; and that only the alumni be solicited to support this program. 7. That above our financial support, we, the Alumni Association, shall lend our prayerful interest and support to the College Administration, faculty, and staff in promoting the cause of Christian education through Gardner-Webb College.

The response to the letter sent out has been very slow. It might be well to note that the first contribution to this fund came from Alaska. If this program is to be successfully carried out, each and every alumni must strive for one hundred per cent participation. If every one will participate, whether it is a large or small contribution, the success of the program will be assured.

If Gardner-Webb College is to develop as we think it should, the alumni are going to play a very great and vital role. May I urge you to consider this program and favor us with your check.

G-W Bulldogs Conference Champions

The championship is a double-barreled one; being for the Western Carolinas Junior College Conference and for the Region 10 National Junior College Conference.

In his fourteenth year as head coach at Gardner-Webb, Hart's has coached a team for six times. This year he has had the assistance of John Spencer, who is in his first year as the coach. Under his direction, the team has developed into quite a defensive powerhouse, yielding 1,205 yards on the ground and gaining 1,790 for the first five games. The offensive unit has scored 92 points to their opponents 67.

The Gardner-Webb Bulldogs and Coach Norman Hart's have another championship trophy to add to their collection. This one came with their 26-13 win over Chowan in the Homecoming Game played in Shelby on October 27. G-W's conference record to date is five wins and one loss, which was to Chohan earlier in the season by a 19-0 score. The overall record is 5-2; the Bulldogs having lost to Furman Freshmen by a 22-19 score. Other games won were: Lees-McRae 13-7; 21-0; and Ferrum 12-7.

From My Side

By R. W. Abrams

Let me be a bit personal in this first issue of the Quarterly under my direction.

Mr. Abrams

When I left Gardner-Webb (then Boiling Springs Junior College) twenty years ago, I never in my wildest dreams thought I would return to be associated with the college in an official capacity. Now that I'm here, I can hardly believe that it is true. The only qualification I can claim for filling this place of service is a dual one of love for the college and a belief in Christian Higher Education.

Pursuing further study and degrees at Wake Forest College and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and afterwards fifteen years in the pastorate of Baptist churches, served to reveal to me the debt I owe to my first Alma Mater. It was here that I received the foundation and the motivation basic to all else that I did and have done. In this light, I hope to make some contribution to the cause of Christian Higher Education as payment toward my debt and as an aid to the present and to the coming generations to receive quality Christian training here.

In this day of Telstar, the problem of communication remains a big one. When we are able to understand one another we are able to appreciate one another. With appreciation, our other problems diminish. Thus it is my hope to make the Quarterly an organ of information toward understanding. I hope it may be a real "tie that binds" the more than 5,000 of us together in a real spirit of oneness.

I am aware of the line of tradition in which I stand. I am both appreciative and indebted to those who have blazed the trail ahead of me. I have leaned and will continue to lean upon them and upon my associates. Without them, this effort would not be possible. Without your help and support it cannot continue to be successful. Let us hear from you.

You will be hearing from us!

Sincerely yours,

Dr. and Mrs. V. Ward Barr S. S. Commencement Speaker And Wife Accident Victims

Gardner-Webb felt very keenly the loss of Dr. and Mrs. V. Ward Barr, who were killed in a tragic auto-train accident in Louisiana in early September. They were returning home from New Orleans, where they had enrolled their sons in Tulane University—one as a freshman, and the other as a student in the medical school. Two relatives of Mrs. Barr were also victims of the accident.

Dr. Barr, pastor of Gastonia's First Baptist Church for 18 years, was the commencement speaker for the summer school graduation program a few days before the fatal trip. Through the years he had been a friend and supporter of Gardner-Webb and of Christian Higher Education in general. He was on the present Board of Trustees of Wake Forest College.

Mrs. Barr, organist at the church, was also a friend of Gardner-Webb, having served as a Trustee.

Mrs. Dorothy Jenkins Poston, wife of Gardner-Webb's president, says that she and the president went to school as freaks back in 1942-43, when the couple was among the very few married couples in school in those days.

Gardner-Webb's New Cultural Emphasis: The Program In The Arts

by

Francis B. Dedmond, Director

Cultural and Creative Activities

With the beginning of the current academic year, 1962-63, a new program with an emphasis on cultural and creative activities was inaugurated. The trustees, the administration, and the faculty—as well as many of the students—feel that the cultural life of a Gardner-Webb student should not be neglected during his years of formal education. In fact, it is felt that the cultural and academic phases of college life complement and supplement one another, producing the student sound in scholarship, at ease in situations involving gracious living, and appreciative of the values in the fine arts.

To accomplish these goals for the students of Gardner-Webb College and to enhance the cultural and artistic life of the area, Gardner-Webb has the Program in the Arts and a director to plan and coordinate the program.

The program is an eight-faceted one: 1. Close cooperation and active support with the culturally-minded of Shelby and the surrounding area in the Shelby Community Concert Series. The first of the concert series, featuring Carroll Glenn and Eugene List, will be presented in the E. B. Hamrick Auditorium on December 7 at 8:00 p.m. 2. Music recitals and concerts by well-known and talented performers such as Stephen Kovacs (Oct. 11) and Sam Wilson, Jr., '53, (Nov. 4) and by choral groups such as the nationally known Salem College Girls Choral Ensemble (Nov. 30). 3. Dramatic productions by the Gardner-Webb Playcrafters of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Ernest" (Dec. 10, 11, 13, 14), Kyle Crichton's Broadway hit comedy, "The Happiest Millionaire" (Feb. 7-8), and Marlowe's "Dr. Faustus" (April 23 and 25). 4. The Gardner-Webb Distinguished Authors Series, which will bring to the campus such authors as Kermit Hunter (Sept. 24), LeGette Blythe (Oct. 15), and Mrs. Margaret Culkin Banning (April 8). 5. The Gardner-Webb Distinguished Lecturer Series, featuring such well-known speakers as Dr. Leo Eddleman (Oct. 22), Dr. Sydnor Stealey (Mar. 18), and Dr. W. F. Troutman, Jr. (May 6, 7, 8). 6. A program in the creative arts taught by Mr. Bob Shepherd. 7. Emphasis on manners and grace through a "dressed-up dinners" program. 8. A Festival of Arts in the spring of the year with Miss Wilma Dykeman as resident author and lecturer.

In addition to the above and many more, three programs in The World Around Us series will be presented in the E. B. Hamrick Auditorium. On Feb. 22, "Antarctic Adventure," an illustrated lecture with Carl Eklund, will be presented. An illustrated lecture with Charles F. Taylor entitled "The Holy Lands" will be given on Mar. 4. "The Changing Heart of Africa," with lecturer Arthur Twomey, will come on April 5.

Many of the Arts programs will be presented before the students and faculty at regularly scheduled chapel periods, but many of them will be given in the evenings. Gardner-Webb's avowed purpose is to become the cultural center of the area and to give to her students, faculty, and friends full opportunities of a cultural and creative nature.

Past Issues Of STAR Now In Library

"Gardner-Webb College's library is receiving a gift of history," is the way The Shelby Daily Star announced the gift of more than 100 bound volumes of The Cleveland Star and The Shelby Daily Star newspapers to the college library.

A gift of Star publisher, Henry L. Weathers, the collection will be placed in the library's North Carolina Room, along with collections of The Forest City Courier and The Spindale Sun, according to Librarian Faye Mitchell.

Of unusual interest in the collection are the volumes of special editions of The Daily Star, The Raleigh News and Observer, The Charlotte Observer, and The Asheville Citizen. To keep the collection up to date, bound volumes of current issues will be given.

In presenting the gift, Mr. Weathers said, "We are happy the bound volumes can go to our local college, where they can be properly cared for. We believe they are valuable because they contain history of the area which can be secured from no other source."

Dr. E. Eugene Poston, '43, in accepting the gift on behalf of the college, stated, "We are extremely happy to get the newspapers because of their historical value. They will be a valuable addition to our library as research material, not only at the present, but especially when we become a four-year college."
