COLLEGE

Vol. 6, No. 3

BOILING SPRINGS, N. C.

November, 1972

BOX SEALED FOR CORNERSTONE—A copper box was placed in the cornerstone of the Dover Memorial Chapel to mark its completion. To be opened in the year 2005, 100th anniversary of the college, the box contained a college charter, faculty constitution, student government constitution, college yearbook and newspaper, a portrait of Mr. Dover, a Bible, and a G-W Building replica. Watching as Russell Falls and Dixie Workburn, left, seal the box are, left to right, Mrs. John R. Dover III, John R. Dover III, Allison Dover, G-W vice president Tom McGraw, and consulting architect Tom Cothran of Shelby.

Dover Memorial Chapel Dedicated

"Service to man, yes, but even more service to our Lord, Jesus Christ!" That was the theme of Founders Day services Oct. 27 dedicating the campus' beautiful John R. Dover, Jr. Memorial Chapel. More than 600 attended the dedication dinner and heard John R. Dover III, representing the Dover family, make the formal presentation of the chapel, which stands in full view at Gardner-Webb's main entrance.

College President E. Eugene Pooton was the dedication service speaker, praising the Dover family for its many contributions to the college over past decades.

"I feel that this chapel will come people to think of Jesus Christ and what he can and will do for all of us," Dr. Pooton said. "It will be a reminder that education without Christ is meaningless and that we must put Christ in the heart of our teaching to people of all ages."

John R. Dover, Jr., was chairman of the board of Dover Textile Group at the time of his death in August, 1965. He served as chairman of Gardner-Webb's board of trustees and was named "Alumnus of the Year" in 1961.

At the dedication service, his portrait, to hang in the chapel, was unveiled by his youngest granddaughter, Allison Dover: Hal Bryant of Greenville, S. C., artist and former G-W student, presented Mrs. Dover with a painting of the chapel building.

The chapel's cornerstone was laid the next morning, on Homecoming Day Oct. 28, with the Dover family present.

It was a moving beginning for the annual Homecoming festivities, attended by many alumni.

The traditional football game was a heart-breaker, with G-W losing 16-17 to Mars Hill College in the final 37 seconds. Much happier was the halftime crowning of the Homecoming queen, pretty Ella Horrocks of Greenville, S. C. The day's events also included a Building Branch and an evening concert.

Leaders Named For Annual Fund

Leaders have been named for Gardner-Webb's 1972-73 Annual Fund drive, already successfully in progress.

Annual Fund chairman is Jack Creech, a G-W alumnus and a vice president of First National Bank of Shelby. He currently is serving on the alumni association board of directors and was a leader in the Shelby area during the capital fund campaign last year.

As chairman, Creech is leading the effort to contact as many G-W alumni and friends as possible to ask for their support.

"The Annual Fund puts quality into all phases of campus life," he said, "and fills the gap between what the student pays and the actual cost of his education. Our gifts can be a living cadomment for our size state."

Regional chairmen also have been named for the campaign. They are Mr and Mrs. Ed Camp, Jr., Hubert C. Dixon, Leonard Jolley and Jerry R. Walker, all of Boiling Springs, the Rev. Max Evington of Shelby, Wendell G. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bowden of Charlotte, Jerry A. Merrill of Morphine, T. R. Casby of Robinson, Alex Merrill Priceman of Rutherfordton, Max Pedgett of Forest City, James Tate of Wadesboro, Steve and Sandy Gregory of Wake Forest, Janet and Bob Owen of Durham, John P. Carlson of Spartanburg, S. C., and Mrs. Grace Linton of Greenville, S. C.

PRESENTATION—Hal Bryant of Greenville, S. C., a G-W alumnus, presents a painting of the new John R. Dover, Jr. Memorial Chapel to Mrs. Dover at dedication service.

G-W Parents Form New Association

Gardner-Webb's newly organized Parents Association will provide a means for parents of present and former students to maintain a closer relationship with the college and other parents. It also will help plan and coordinate the annual Parents Day activities, help sponsor the Annual Parents Fund, and assist with activities of the college's development program.

Named to lead the new group are the Rev. Jack Ross of Hurdles Avenue Baptist Church in Charlotte, president; Mrs. Ralph Wright of Richmond, Va., vice president; and Mrs. Thomas Blanton of Gaffney, S. C., secretary-treasurer.

MISS MIRIAM I.
 LILESVILLE, N. C.
