Homecoming—October 20th—2:00 P.M.

Convocation Center Campaign Surpasses $2 Million

Over $2 million has been pledged toward the construction of the proposed Convocation Center at Gardner-Webb. These commitments have been received from alumni and other friends of the college as a result of volunteer efforts in twelve campaign areas.

The Convocation Center will house the health and physical education center, an arena for intercollegiate athletics and a theater for the performing arts. The estimated construction costs total approximately $3 million with another $500,000 planned to endow the maintenance of the facility. The remainder of the needed funds will be secured through additional area campaigns, foundation support and the personal and corporate support of Gardner-Webb College friends. The trustees and administration of the college are committed to actually beginning construction only when the money necessary for construction costs is "within sight."

Jerry McGee, assistant to the president, who is directing the campaign stated, "The response of Gardner-Webb College supporters to this project is evidence that they recognize the need for this facility. It clearly will have a tremendous impact upon the fine arts program, intercollegiate athletics, and the physical education program."

The new building will be constructed on the site presently occupied by the baseball field. This will give students and faculty members accessibility to the remainder of the academic campus. Best Physical Education Center will continue to be used extensively for physical education classes, intramurals and student recreation.

Dr. Phillips Addresses G-W Assembly To Open School

Gardner-Webb's campus was honored with the presence of Dr. John D. Phillips, President of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, on Aug. 28th. Dr. Phillips addressed the full student body, staff and administration during a morning assembly to officially open the new academic year.

Preceding his address, Dr. Robert Knott, academic vice-president and dean recognized four Gardner-Webb students for their excellent academic achievements during the past school year. Included in the four were Jennifer Alexander Allen, Freshman award with a quality point average of 3.93 out of a possible 4.0; Mary L. Abrams and Rachel Schlafer, sophomore awards, 4.0; and Kerry Mraz, Junior award, 4.0.

Presidential scholars were also presented during the morning program. They include newly orientated freshmen who exceeded in academic excellence during their high school years. The students included Judy Allen, Stuart, Florida; Richard Dean Harwell, Gastonia; Marsha C. Hicks, Gastonia; Julia A. Johnson, Morganton; Linda Kirkman, Charlotte; Franklin Craig Meadows, Mount Airy, N.C. and George Allen Pool, Lamar, South Carolina.

Dr. Craven Williams introduced Dr. Phillips as a man who worked constantly to further education and strived to "achieve educational goals for all of us."

Phillips said, "We have now created something like 450 separate federal laws which affect higher education in ways large and small, and legislations of dedicated federal workers who are hired and fired, paid and promoted, for the express purpose of bringing higher education institution into line with those 450 different federal laws and the various judicial rulings they have inspired.

"The basic presumption here is that people can't or won't do what's right unless government forces them to do it. Nobody can visit this college without being impressed with the vitality and the responsiveness of its self-governance. All you have to do is open the cover of your catalog."

"Let me say also that I am very proud to represent the heritage of church related independent colleges such as Gardner-Webb in my work as president of NAICU."
GW Starts Program In Human Services

Gardner-Webb has initiated a program of study leading to a Bachelor of Science Degree in Human Services. The program, started in August, consists of 64 semester hours and is intended for students holding an Associate Degree in Mental Health or Human Services with at least an overall grade average of 2.0 (C). Students may complete 12 hours per semester by attending classes two evenings per week.

The total tuition for 12 semester hours is $540. A North Carolina legislative grant of $237.00 per semester is given to students carrying 12 semester hours, reducing the cost to $303.00. Based upon assessment of need, the student may be eligible for additional financial aid.

Dr. Roger Gaddis is the program coordinator.

Putnam Named New Editor To The Web

In announcing Mrs. Putnam’s appointment, President Craven Williams stated, “Mrs. Putnam is a person with many talents who will bring creativity and imagination to this important position.”

Formerly a writer and photographer for The Cleveland Times, Mrs. Putnam edited an industrial publication for several years and has engaged in freelance writing for newspaper and radio advertisements in the past.

A graduate of Burns High School in Lawndale, she received her A.A. and B.S. degrees from Gardner-Webb College.

She and her husband, Mike Putnam, vice-president of E O Corporation reside at Route 4, Shelby with their son, Mikey. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boggs of Fallston.

Thirty-Eight Graduate In Summer Commencement

Thirty-eight students were graduated from Gardner-Webb College Saturday, August 11, in commencement exercises held in the Boiling Springs Baptist Church.

The candidates, presented by Academic Vice-President Robert Knott included 27 for Bachelor of Science degrees, nine for Bachelor of Arts degrees and two for Associates Arts degrees.

After Dr. Larry Sale, dean of continuing education and summer school offered the invocation, Patricia B. Harrelson, assistant professor of voice and David W. Smith, assistant professor of music presented a duet, “Let Us Make A Joyful Noise.”

Dr. Craven Williams, President of the College introduced the speaker, Dr. Carl E. Bates, Pastor of First Baptist Church in Charlotte.

In Dr. Bates’ address dealing with successful living, he states, “I want to share the prayer of my heart for each of you. First, I pray that you may be loyal servants of Jesus Christ. Second, I pray that you may live your lives with singleness of mind. Finally, I pray that you may not turn aside until your goal of life is reached.”

Dr. Williams and Dr. Knott conferred the degrees and Reverend Robert W. Abrams, Director of Church Relations gave the benediction.
First Criminal Justice Major Graduates

Thomas A. Johnson, 28, of Shelby was Gardner-Webb's first Criminal Justice major during summer graduation exercises on August 11th.

Thomas, a member of the Shelby Police Department since 1974, completed the program after transferring course credits from Cleveland County Technical Institute and UNC-Charlotte to Gardner-Webb. The program was initiated in August 1978.

"Today's police officers need all the training and education they can get. Many police departments now are requiring at least a two-year degree and some departments are requiring a four-year degree. Police officers need to be men with an education and the ability to reason out problems," Johnson stated.

Johnson, who was among the 47 students in the Criminal Justice Program in the spring, complemented the program saying, "The best part of the program would have to be the assistance and cooperation I had from the staff and professors at Gardner-Webb. Going to night school and working full-time is not easy. Dr. Larry Sale (dean of continuing education) told us that the staff was asked to work with us, but I could not believe how they have gone out of their ways to help the officers."

"We are very pleased with the positive response by area law enforcement personnel to our Criminal Justice Program," said Dr. Sale. He added, "We appreciate the assistance provided in program development and implementation by many people including Professor Ron McKinney, Police Science Department, Cleveland County Technical Institute; Police Chief J.D. Fish, Shelby Police Department; and Mr. Earl Lloyd, Director, Region C Criminal Justice Advising Committee."

Johnson will begin work on a master's degree in January through a cluster program at the University of South Carolina at Columbia. The program requires him to attend on-campus classes one weekend a month.

Married to the former Evelyn Poston, Johnson explained his love for police work saying, "Police work is different. Once you get it in your blood, it is hard to get out. It makes you feel good to know that you have helped someone out with a problem, and it hurts to see a child lying in the street dead because of an intoxicated driver. But, the policeman will hang in there and keep on trying to make the world we all live in a little better place. I'm just fulfilling a little fellow's dream to be a police officer and to do the best job that I can."

The program is specifically designed to meet the needs of qualified graduates of two-year institutions who desire to earn a bachelor's degree through the Evening College. Programs are available in Kings Mountain, Morganton and Boiling Springs.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

With this energetic group leading the cheering in those days, it's little wonder that the Athletic Programs at Gardner-Webb College have become so powerful.

Can you name these cheerleaders? The first person who sends the individual names of the entire group to the Alumni Office will receive two Reserved Seat Tickets to the Homecoming Football Game.

We're Eager To Keep In Touch

We like hearing from former students; it's vital to the success of our alumni program. If you have had a change of address or have some other news to tell us about yourself or about a former classmate, please use the form below. We'll be delighted to hear from you, and you will be helping us do our job better.

Thirty lettermen return to the 1979 Gardner-Webb football squad and first year head coach Tom Moore likes what he sees in Bulldog country. Moore arrived from Clemson after the departure of Billy Kinard to the New England Patriots coaching staff. Unfortunately for coach Moore, spring practice was already over, but not for long. Moore had a meeting with the coaches and players and it was decided that spring practice be re-opened for a period of eight days. "I wanted to get to know my players and I wanted them to get to know me before summer vacation," stated Moore. He continued, "The team looks to be in good shape and I'm optimistic about the upcoming season in the SAC-8."

Offensively, Gardner-Webb will return six starters and four of them are in the line. Steve Crane, 6-2, 220 pounds, returns at center along with 6-1, 250 pound guard Bobby Hopkins, 6-3 221 pound tackle Wayne Hughes, and 6-2, 228 pound tackle Mark Fried. Freshman Brian McNeely, 6-2, 226 pounds, is expected to start at the other guard spot.

The Bulldogs lost all three of its top receivers but the coaching staff feels that their replacements can be better. Duane St. Thomas and Duane Williams are the two top candidates for the split end spot with Craig Harris as flanker and Randy Page at tight end.

All-American candidate Robbie Barnes returns at tailback in the offensive backfield. Barnes made the All-SAC-8 and NAIA Honorable Mention All-America Teams last season as he rushed for 1,001 yards in only eight games. After a very good spring practice freshman Chip Stuart is the number one man at the quarterback spot.

On defense the Bulldogs have seven starters returning. All SAC-8 noseguard Noel Wiseman, 6-0, 220 pounds, returns at anchor of the defense that held SAC-8 opponents to less than 14 points a game in 1978. Also returning in the defensive line is 6-3, 223 pound tackle Rory Johnson. Bob Price and Ricky Burkhalter are back at the defensive end. James Austin, 6-2, 238 pounds will move into the other defensive tackle position.

David Howard returns for his last season at strong side linebacker. He is the leading tackler returning to the 1979 team. Stanley Kearney or Chip Helms will be at the weak side linebacker.

All-American candidate Chris Johnson returns at cornerback. He has 20 career interceptions and he made 10 of those last season. He made the All-District 26 Team and the NAIA Honorable Mention All-America Team in 1978. The other starter returning in the defensive backfield is strong safety John Devine. Charles Harbison or freshman John Smith will be the top candidates for the other cornerback position and Tommy Brimhall or Randy Rappe will be at free safety.

The Bulldogs had a good recruiting season and will be looking to improve on the 4-5-1 finish in 1978.
More About Coach Moore

Thomas Moore, an assistant coach at Clemson for the past nine years, has been named head football coach at Gardner-Webb.

Moore has coached the defensive secondary squad and receivers and tight ends.

He is a former assistant at Wichita State and was an All-Southern Conference split end at The Citadel.

Captain for four years in the United States Air Force, Moore graduated from The Citadel in June 1967. He played four years for the Cadets and was team captain in 1966.

Moore's coaching experience dates back to Aurora Central High School in Aurora, Colo. in 1957. He coached there for a year and then went to Wichita State University in 1968, where he coached for three years. He was head freshman coach one year and coached the varsity quarterbacks and also coached the split receivers one year.

A native of Dayton Ohio, Moore played in the same high school backfield as quarterback Joe Namath.

The 1979-80 Bulldog Club Board of Directors set a goal of $60,000 for this year in the Bulldog Club. The money raised by the Bulldog Club goes towards athletic scholarships and scholarship assistance is available to students with athletic ability and a desire to attend college. The Bulldog Club wants Gardner-Webb to compete on an even basis with other colleges. Members of the Bulldog Club directly assist student athletes in obtaining an education.

Contributions from a large number of individuals will accomplish the desired results without great sacrifice on the part of anyone. Success lies in numbers and the Bulldog Club would like to see 400 members for 1979-80 year.

Below are the membership levels and membership privileges of a Bulldog Club member 1979-80.

Letter to the people that support the Bulldog Club from Frank Beam:

I would like to express my appreciation to the administration, the Board of Directors, and members of the Bulldog Club for the great support they have given to Gardner-Webb athletics. They have meant a great deal to our athletes as they have developed in athletics and in education.

We look to the future with great anticipation as we plan for our new building complex. We feel this will increase our membership in the Bulldog Club. Our goal for 1979-80 is to grow in membership and to make this the best year ever. LET'S ALL BE WINNERS BY SUPPORTING THE BULLDOG CLUB!

Development Report

Total Of $1,796,989.36 Makes A Record Year

Gifts and grants to Gardner-Webb College were a record total nearing $1,800,000 during the past fiscal year, according to an announcement made to the Gardner-Webb College Board of Trustees by Vice President for Development Dr. Paul E. Holcomb. Holcomb cited an increase of 33% over last year's gifts. Dr. Craven E. Williams, President of Gardner-Webb College, stated that "this achievement is a direct result of the leadership efforts of all our volunteers."

Total alumni support increased two and one-half times over the previous years' gifts, while contributions to the Annual College Fund topped $126,000. "Bill Baucom, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association, directed the Annual Giving Program this past year and we are extremely pleased with the response," Holcomb stated.

The report contained gift figures in every category of giving with special emphasis on the Convocation Center Campaign. This campaign, directed by Jerry McGee, Assistant to the President at Gardner-Webb, has a goal of $126,000. "Bill Baucom, Executive Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw- Spangler and Sons of Shelby; Annual Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw- Spangler and Sons of Shelby; Annual Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw- Spangler and Sons of Shelby; Annual Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw- Spangler and Sons of Shelby; Annual Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw- Spangler and Sons of Shelby; Annual Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw- Spangler and Sons of Shelby; Annual Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw- Spangler and Sons of Shelby; Annual Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw- Spangler and Sons of Shelby; Annual Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw- Spangler and Sons of Shelby; Annual Giving Chairperson, Mrs. Julia Craw. "By all measurements, the report reflected a banner year in fund raising for the College, stated Trustee Chair- Smith. "And," he continued, "we have many, many friends to thank for this success."

President's Corner

"Our Time In History"

As you read this, I will have been President of Gardner-Webb College, more than 800 days. Gardner-Webb, like any college, is an amalgam of continuity and change. We seek to retain the best of the past while making changes which we hope are the best for the future.

On a personal note, I came to Gardner-Webb College 800 days ago for two principle reasons. First, I believed then, as I believe today, that at Gardner-Webb a core of men and women whose individual and combined efforts can make what is a good college an outstanding one; a top quality academic institution devoted to good teaching and scholarship.

Second, I viewed as a positive challenge the task of developing a stable financial base for Gardner-Webb. This is no easy task, but the building blocks are here.

We have made a start, but it is only a start.

Gardner-Webb College now approaches the future confident of survival in the midst of strong and continuing challenges. It will survive because there is a manifest destiny built in the continuing love its host of alumni and friends have for it, the support the community continues to give it, the faithfulness with which the Baptist State Convention undergirds it, and in the distinctive place it finds itself because of the kind of history which provides direction, purpose and consistency in its search for tomorrow. Survival is not the issue for us! But the "form" and "style" of survival is an issue.

In my first address to the college faculty, over 800 days ago, I spoke of academic seriousness and academic rigor. I indicated there had to be a goal for our college that went beyond mere survival. I talked in terms of higher standards and other subjects, all highly commendable in speech, but difficult to achieve.

I realized then, as I do now, that as we raise admissions standards, especially in the face of a declining traditional student population, we are very apt to face shrinking enrollments. That is a very sobering consideration for a college that is primarily tuition-dependent. I am convinced, however, that high quality education is the only acceptable route for Gardner-Webb College. Unless we are of the highest academic order that it is possible to be, we do not deserve to survive. Indeed, academic inferiority is theologically unsound. We must present a high quality alternative to the larger public and private universities.

I am equally mindful that my statements on academic rigor, good teaching, and good scholarship are only pronouncements unless they achieve reality on a day-by-day basis. A president can pronounce in this fashion frequently, but it would be largely empty.

Six Ways To Help Gardner-Webb

The Bold Dimensions Program which was announced in July 1977 has a goal of $10.5 million. As of August 23, 1979, cash and pledges of $4,370,970 have been received.

Included in the Bold Dimensions Program is the campaign for a new building, a $3.5 million Convocation Center. This will house classrooms, a new gymnasium and a theatre for the performing arts.

HOW CAN YOU GIVE?

CASH CONTRIBUTIONS qualifying for a charitable deduction that is limited to 50 percent of the donor's adjusted income. Such gifts also qualify for the five year carry-over privilege.

There are definite tax advantages in giving MARKETABLE SECURITIES that have appreciated in value and have been held for more than one year. An income tax deduction is allowed for the fair market value of the securities given. In addition, no capital gains tax will be paid on the appreciation. The donor pays no capital gains when the gift is made, and Gardner-Webb College pays no tax when the securities are sold.

The same tax advantages mentioned in connection with gifts of marketable securities—the full value deduction, no capital gains tax, and the 30 percent limitation—also apply to gifts of INVESTMENT REAL ESTATE which has appreciated in value and has been held for an investment longer than one year.

Gifts of tangible personal property, such as RARE BOOKS and ART OBJECTS, qualify for a deduction of the full fair market value of the gift property when three conditions are met. They are: (1) the use of the gift property must be directly related to Gardner-Webb College's tax-exempt purposes; (2) the donor must have owned the property for more than one year; and (3) the item must have not been created by the donor. If all three conditions are met, the gift is treated for tax purposes in the same manner as one of appreciated securities.

Usually, such gifts of CLOSELY HELD SECURITIES—for example, one from a family corporation—qualify for the same advantages: (the full deduction, no capital gains tax, and the 30 percent limitation) that are available when marketable securities are given.

However, the deduction for a gift of some kinds of closely held securities is limited to the donor's cost (or other income tax basis). Consult a competent tax specialist when making such a gift.

A CORPORATE GIFT is permitted with a charitable deduction up to five percent of its taxable income. Any excess contributions in a particular year may be carried over up to five years.

Many corporations have MATCHING CORPORATE GIFT programs under which an employee's gift will be matched in greater or lesser amounts by the company. Donors are urged to forward the company's matching gift form with their own contribution. This will provide Gardner-Webb College with important additional benefits.

Many Gardner-Webb graduates and other friends of Gardner-Webb have assisted the college in this fashion in past years.

Few activities are more praiseworthy and more beneficial than SCHOLARSHIPS AND STUDENT LOANS. These help solve the financial difficulties of deserving students and allow them to develop their talents and abilities to the fullest. Gardner-Webb administers a large number of scholarships and loans, many of which have been provided by gifts made in memory or in honor of an individual or individuals.

You may wish to extend your concern and sympathy to the family of a personal friend, alumnus, or student—by giving a MEMORIAL GIFT in a fitting tribute to a loved one, friend or associate.

Upon the receipt of your gift, you will be sent an acknowledgement. If the property is transferred permanently to Gardner-Webb College, with the income or other benefits from the donated money on property retained by the donor or other beneficiary for as long as they live.

Planned gifts can be made an important part of an estate plan. They also provide an excellent method of obtaining diversification, reducing estate taxes, and cutting the cost of probate of one's estate. Such gifts of property, which have increased the value also avoid the capital gains tax for the donor. The Gardner-Webb College Vice-President of Development will be happy to assist potential donors in designing planned gifts to Gardner-Webb. Following are brief descriptions of the type of planned gifts recommended.

UNITRUST

The donor irrevocably transfers property (cash, securities, real estate) to a trust. The trust manages this gift as a separate fund; therefore, this type is best suited for gifts of $50,000 or more.

The donor may make additional gifts to the Unitrust at any time.

Upon death of the donor and second beneficiary (if one is named), the principal of the Unitrust becomes the irrevocable property of Gardner-Webb College to be added to the endowment or other designated purposes.

ANNUITY TRUST

The donor irrevocably transfers property (cash, securities, real estate) to a trust. The trust pays an annuity to the donor, and receives the income from the property. The donor pays no capital gains tax for the donor.

The donor may convey a personal residence or farm to Gardner-Webb College and retain a life interest in it for the donor and spouse. This gives the donor current income tax savings. The donor will get a charitable deduction in the year the donor deeds such property to the college. The donor will also receive certain estate tax advantages. During the lifetime of the donor and/or spouse, they may live in the property or rent the property but cannot sell or mortgage it. At the death of both, the property is transferred permanently and irrevocably to Gardner-Webb, to be added to the endowment or other designated purposes.

GIFT OF RESIDENCE OR FARM

The donor may convey a personal residence or farm to Gardner-Webb College and retain a life interest in it for the donor and spouse. This gives the donor current income tax savings. The donor will get a charitable deduction in the year the donor deeds such property to the college. The donor will also receive certain estate tax advantages. During the lifetime of the donor and/or spouse, they may live in the property or rent the property but cannot sell or mortgage it. At the death of both, the property is transferred permanently and irrevocably to Gardner-Webb, to be added to the endowment or other designated purposes.

BEQUESTS

A person may leave cash, securities, and real estate by will to Gardner-Webb College. The value of such a legacy is deductible from the estate of the donor.

A person may also establish an Annuity Trust or Unitrust by will and obtain estate tax advantages; however, it is much more advantageous to make a gift during one's lifetime.

If you are interested in making a gift in any of these ways, you may do so by filling out the coupon on page 11 and returning it with your contribution. If you would like additional suggestion as to how best your gift could be given or used, write or call Dr. Paul E. Holcomb, Gardner-Webb College, Boiling Springs, N.C. 28017. Phone (704) 434-2361.

The Bold Dimensions Program of Gardner-Webb College, which includes the new Convocation Center, now has topped $4 million. The Bold Dimensions goal, including $3.5 million for the new building, is $10.5 million. The campaign was kicked off in July 1976. Two recent gifts put the Bold Dimensions program over $4 million. To get the Mecklenburg campaign for the new Convocation Center off to a good start, an anonymous donor gave $100,000. At the annual alumni banquet held April 21, Dr. Craven Williams, president of Gardner-Webb, announced a $250,000 gift for the building from the Fox-Wellis Foundation of New York. So far, gifts to the building campaign total over $2 million of $3 million needed to begin construction. An additional half-million dollars will be used for permanent maintenance.

The $10.5 million for Bold Dimensions in Higher Education includes $4 million for endowment of academic programs, faculty salaries, faculty-study and research and library resources; $2 million for endowment for financial aid for students; $3.5 million for the new Convocation Center; and $1 million for annual operations.
What Is Annual Giving And What Does It Do?

2. Q. What purpose does the Annual College Fund serve for Gardner-Webb College?
A. Annual College Fund contributions help meet the current operating expenses of the college.

3. Q. What is meant by current operating expenses of the college?
A. Current operating expenses mean the day to day expenses of the college. Lights, water, building maintenance and etc., these are all important recipients of funds from the Annual College Fund.

4. Q. What is the 1979-1980 goal for the Annual College Fund?
A. The goal for the 1979-1980 Annual College Fund is $150,000.

5. Q. Through what means do you expect to raise this money for the Annual College Fund?
A. Raising the Annual College Fund contributions will be handled through a series of mailings, phonathon and personal solicitation.

6. Q. What percentage of alumni and friends support can you expect?
A. The percentage of alumni support has traditionally been small. It is anticipated that alumni support for the 1979-80 campaign will be over 20% of the alumni body. The support friends have given to the institution over the years has always been a solid foundation on which the college can depend. It is anticipated that support from friends will increase over the year also.

7. Q. What will the 1979-1980 theme be for the Annual College Fund Campaign?
A. “Seventy-Five Years of Freedom” Gardner-Webb College during its 75 years of existence has never sought or accepted any federal funds. The Annual College Fund program and the support it receives from alumni and friends of the institution can help insure another “75 Years of Freedom” for Gardner-Webb College.

ANNUAL COLLEGE FUND UPDATE

The 1979-1980 Annual College Fund Campaign is well underway. Major solicitation material was sent to all alumni and friends of the institution on Wednesday, September 5th. This appeal is somewhat unique in its approach and it is hoped a great amount of support will come from this solicitation.

Annual College Fund contributions as of September 5th had reached $17,786.41. 129 contributors had made a donation to the fund to help meet its 1979-80 goal of $150,000.

PHONATHONS PLANNED

Phonathons for the Annual College Fund have been tentatively planned for Raleigh, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Gastonia, Charlotte and Spartanburg. These events are one of the most important means of raising dollars for the Annual Fund. We urge your support when you are called.

Gardner-Webb Annual Fund Exceeds $125,000

For the first time in history, the Gardner-Webb College Annual Fund has surpassed a total of $125,000 in contributions. The 1978-1979 Annual College Fund received $126,168.69. This is an increase of $24,069.69 from the previous fiscal year giving. The results of the Annual Fund were particularly gratifying this year in that they indicate a wide-spread recognition by alumni and friends of Gardner-Webb College that there is a continuing need for private support of the Annual Fund from individuals associated with Gardner-Webb College.

Mrs. Julia C. Crawley, '41, Assistant Vice-President of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company in Winston-Salem, N.C. deserves special credit for the work she did as Annual Fund Chairperson. Class Chairpersons for the 1978-1979 campaign were: Mr. J.P. Carlton, 1912; Mr. Jake Harrill, 1931; Mrs. Minna B. Rice, 1938; Mr. Maxwell B. Hamrick, 1939; Reverend S. Guy Walker, 1940; Reverend William T. Hendrix, 1942; Reverend C.E. Hampton, 1946; Ms. Dorothy Spangler, 1947; Mr. Max Padgett, 1949; Mr. Troy Bridges, 1951; Mr. James Williamson, 1952; Reverend William Wallace, 1953; Mr. Ronald Hawkins, 1955; Reverend Hugh Borden, 1956; Mr. John Wassburn, Jr., 1958; Mr. Max Crowder, 1960; Mr. William T. Bell, 1971; Mr. Jeff McNell, 1974; Mr. Robert Pettyjohn, 1977; and Mr. Tim Cook, 1978. The goal established for the 1979-1980 campaign is $150,000. It is anticipated that at least 20% of the alumni and friends of the institution will make a gift to the College.
