A publication of Gardner-Webb College

Letter from the Editor...

As the cover of this issue of The Web reflects, we are taking a look back — even allowing ourselves to become a bit nostalgic.

Remember those crisp fall afternoons spent in Spangler Stadium cheering the Runnin' Bulldogs on to victory ... the magic of a formal dance in Bost Gym ... a stroll with friends across the campus quad ... or, lazing away a warm afternoon down by the springs.

"Celebrating the Ties that Bind" is the theme for this year's Homecoming weekend. It will be a time for laughing with good friends, forming new bonds, renewing old acquaintances and remembering a day gone by.

This year is an appropriate time to celebrate those ties — the 50th year of the naming of Gardner-Webb College. The ties of the institution with both the Gardner and Webb families have continued to be strong throughout the years. This year has been dedicated to remembering those behind the name.

Another look into the past was launched this year with the naming of retired professor Lansford Jolley as College historian. Mr. Jolley is currently doing the research necessary to write the school's history, picking up where "Lengthened Shadows" ended.

As the College's formal Annual Report, this issue of The Web lists the names of many special friends of Gardner-Webb. We have taken a look back at the generosity bestowed upon us over the past year. Without the ties with such caring individuals, Gardner-Webb would not survive. The names listed reflect gifts to many various areas of the College. In the end, these gifts, these acts of kindness, these ties all allow Gardner-Webb to grow, to become the best institution it can be for educating our young people.

Theme for Weekend Event

This year's homecoming weekend, Oct. 16, 17 and 18 will begin with a semi-formal dinner Friday evening and will last through the weekend with Saturday boasting barbecue, music, football and fun. Events will culminate with a worship service Sunday morning in Dover Chapel.

Alumni and friends will gather for dinner at 6:30 Friday evening in the Charles I. Dover Campus Center Dining Hall.

The semi-formal affair will include entertainment by baritone Rick Webb (Class of 1977), the featured soloist on “The Day of Discovery”. Webb shares his ministry through music and is soloist and music director for Clyde Dupin Ministries. He currently makes 100 solo appearances nationally, having shared the platform with Dr. Charles Stanley, Dr. D. James Kennedy, Dr. Charles Swindoll and Dr. Grady Wilson. He toured with Danny Gauthier in 1985 and helped premier Steve Adam's musical, “Peace In the Midst of the Storm,” throughout Canada.

Included in the weekend highlights is a Coffee House, sponsored by the Student Alumni Council Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the Charles I. Dover Campus Center. Entertainment will be provided by vocalist Tracey Tucker Duncan (Class of 1984).

Members of the Baptist Student Union will have a reunion with featured speaker Reg Alexander (Class of 1971). Alexander is director of Regal Ventures Creative Ministries in Kings Mountain. He is well-known throughout the southeastern United States as a speaker.

Back by popular demand The Best Little Barbecue in Boiling Springs will be held in the Quad area Saturday, behind the Dover Campus Center. The Frank Love Orchestra will perform Big Band tunes and Michael Kirby (Class of 1990) will present contemporary Christian music.

And, the Runnin' Bulldogs promise quite a show on the field when they take on Catawba College for Homecoming '92.

Lansford Jolley to Record History of College

By Pam Sharts

Threads of Gardner-Webb's history have been woven throughout the makings of Lansford Jolley's life.

His mother was a 1909 graduate of Boiling Springs Boarding High School, and Jolley himself a student at first Boiling Springs Junior College and then Gardner-Webb College.

His ties with the institution continued when he joined the faculty as a professor.

Today, Jolley is attempting to capture these memories as well as the threads of history that have been a part of so many other lives and events.

As College Historian, the retired professor will write the history of Gardner-Webb College from 1956 to the present. His account will pick up where "Lengthened Shadows" ended.

Jolley says he wants to capture the history of Gardner-Webb in all aspects and departments of the College. Since his retirement in May much of his time has been spent looking at old annuals, photographs and trustee minutes. He is interviewing families of former presidents and others who made a significant impact on the school.

His work is already paying off. His investigation is laying out the story of how the College got its start through the Kings Mountain Association and the Sandy Run Association. It tells how the two groups were responsible for the beginning the institution and building its first structures. He has even discovered that one selling point was that Boiling Springs could make the brick for the school.

Jolley's account will certainly include incidents and recollections from his years as a student. Jolley met his wife, Cothenia, while attending Gardner-Webb. "I remember how in the early period if a man or male student wanted to date a female, the male had to make a written request and take it to the dean of women and she would ask the female and let him know," Jolley says.

You could only date on Friday or Saturday if you had a certain grade point average, he explains, adding, "And, you had to be in at 11 o'clock. At 10 o'clock they would start flashing the lights to let you know it was time to leave." On Sunday night, according to Jolley, a student could only date if he or she was going to church. The curfew time was 10:30 p.m. When on a date a student had to check in, tell where he was going and check back in upon return.

It is such recollections that Jolley plans to include in the pages of his account of the College's history. He says he hopes to be finished with the book in time to commemorate the 90th anniversary of the College.

He asks that if anyone has anything of significance — old annuals, minutes of meetings or memorabilia — especially those dated prior to 1954-55, to contact him.

Groundbreakings

This summer was a time for beginnings on the Gardner-Webb campus. Within one week there were two groundbreaking ceremonies at the College.

On Thursday, June 25 we honored two special friends, Wendolyn and Hughy Hollifield, as we officially broke ground for Lake Hollifield.

Lake Hollifield is designed to be a five-acre lake located on the southwest side of campus. When completed, the recreational setting will include a bell tower, carillon, walking trails and picnic facilities.

On Wednesday, July 1, we were privileged to have Mrs. Marguerite Noel and her daughters, Jere Noel Blackburn and Marylene Noel, on campus for the groundbreaking ceremonies for Noel Hall.

Noel Hall, made possible by Mrs. Noel, will extend from Lindsay Hall and will serve as an academic structure, accommodating both classroom and faculty office needs. Facing east, along Highway 150, the structure will be the "postcard site" for the campus. Completion is expected by Christmas.

Curtis Barbery Presented Honorary Doctor of Divinity Degree

Gardner-Webb College graduated approximately 165 students Saturday, Aug. 1 during the annual Summer Commencement ceremonies.

Curtis Lee Barbery, pastor of Beulah Baptist Church in Bennett, was presented with the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree. The honor recognizes Barbery's leadership roles as pastor, evangelist and denominational servant.

A native of Simpsonville, S.C., Barbery graduated from Columbia Bible College in Columbia, S.C. and Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute in Hendersonville. Ordained in 1957, he has served as pastor of three churches.

Under Barbery's leadership his present church has been recognized statewide as a leader in church growth, baptisms and effective ministry. A noted speaker, Barbery has conducted over 500 revivals and Bible conferences in 13 states and several foreign countries.

His leadership roles with the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina have been significant. He has served as president of the North Carolina Baptist Pastors' Conference; as chairman of the Board of Directors of Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute; and as a member of the Committee on Committee, General Board and the Institutional Relations Committee.

Advisors Surpass Goal With Recent Gifts Toward Conference Room

A tremendous showing of support came from the Gardner-Webb Board of Advisors during the year-long campaign for the naming of the Advisor's Conference Room.

The campaign concluded with the total percentage of giving at 80 percent, an unprecedented record of giving for the Board, according to Evans Whitaker, associate vice president for College Relations.

The gifts totaled $31,000 toward the $30,000 goal established for the project. "I would like to thank the Board for this tremendous outpouring of gifts," said Whitaker.

"I'm really happy about this," said Fields Young III, chairman of the Board of Advisors, "This is probably the highest percentage of advisors to ever have given (at one time)."

Young also expressed pleasure that the commitment was met in only one year. He stressed that the giving opportunities for 1992 are even greater. "In 1992 we are trying to continue with giving and to top that number," he said.

Young noted that the avenues for advisor gifts included funds for the Department of Natural Science, a listing of campus needs, Board of Advisor scholarships and assistance with the endowment.

The following is a list of those advisors who contributed to the Advisor's Conference Room.

Campus Clean-UP Day

These scenes capture the true spirit of the Annual Campus Clean-Up Day, held again this summer. Members of the College staff and administration took time out from busy schedules to do a little communing with nature. The results ... a few scratches, some mosquito bites, a case or two of poison oak ... and a lovely campus.

Fine Arts Department Has a New Look

The Fine Arts faculty were caught tuning up their instruments this summer. The sounds were those of a buzz saw and a hammer and the finished piece a newly-renovated department. Shown here, Terry Fern and Oland Summers work on the project.

Crystal Timmons Gives Back What She Has Gained from Others

We are often reminded that God's gift of love goes round and round. In that light, our own gifts — our offerings of love — go round and round as well.

Crystal Timmons, a senior religious education major at Gardner-Webb, is an example as are many other students who are able to attend college because of the gifts of others.

Crystal, the daughter of Sylvia Timmons of Charlotte and the late Charles Timmons, lost her father at the age of 16. The daughter of a single parent, she needed financial support in order to attend college. Because of the many gifts made to Gardner-Webb College, the dollars were there to give this deserving young woman a chance — a chance to pursue her dreams.

In turn, Crystal wants to give something of herself.

"As early as my junior year in high school I knew I was supposed to be in religious education," Crystal says. "My youth pastor was a big influence on my life and I wanted to be that same type of influence on others."

While Crystal hopes to get into youth work at a church in or near North Carolina upon graduation, she says that her decision to major in religious education was made so as to allow doors to be opened. "I think it would help as a missionary, in doing home missions or as a religious educator in a church," she says of her major. And, the bright young woman says that attending seminary is something she wants to do in the future, but not right away.

Crystal has worked for two summers as youth director at her home church, Grace Baptist Church in Charlotte. While this allowed her to lead in Bible studies and music, she says she particularly enjoyed the opportunities to lead in worship services. "It showed them that it (worship) is something everyone can take part in," she says.

On campus, Crystal's time is filled with many worthwhile projects, which she tackles enthusiastically. She is now serving an internship with the College's campus minister and is assisting him with the formation of a worship committee for the campus.

Her memberships include the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Council, on which she has done work with women's evangelism and has served as worship coordinator; the Baptist Student Union, which she has represented on the state level as a member of the spring conference committee; and the Religious Education Club, of which she serves as president.

Crystal is also an active member of the Gardner-Webb College FOCUS (Fellowship of Christians United in Service) team. The highlight of her team experience was a trip to Bolivia during the spring break last year. The group did missions work for both youth in the schools and adults. "Until you do it I don't think you realize how much work is involved," she reflects, adding, "or how much you have to rely on God."

She remembers that the people they encountered in Bolivia were hungry to hear the Word of God, how they were willing to sit and listen for hours. "I want my desire for Jesus to be more like theirs," she says.

As part of the FOCUS team, Crystal participated in a clown ministry in the parks.

The team often relied on the Bolivian children who knew some English to help. Two-sided sheets with the Plan of Salvation printed on either side — one in Spanish and one in English — were also used as a communications tool.

For Crystal, her work with people is a daily ministry. And, while one on one interaction is important, she says, "I love the energy that comes from groups."

One of Crystal's favorite outlets for spreading God's word is through her latest endeavor, as a member of the trio, "Highest Call".

"It is one of the most wonderful things that has happened to me in the last few years," Crystal says. Sharing roles in the trio with Crystal are Mickey Sharpe, Gardner-Webb's Director of Alumni Relations, and Debbie Langston, another Gardner-Webb student. Crystal relates how Miss Langston and Sharpe had the idea to form a group. After holding auditions for potential members, the two decided that they should form a trio instead and invited Crystal to join them. "It is really special how God put us together," Crystal says.

The music of "Highest Call" is inspirational and the three have been quite busy with appearances.

At Gardner-Webb, Crystal has been the recipient of both a Christian Service Organization scholarship and a FOCUS scholarship, in addition to financial aid based on need. It is through the generosity of those persons who have contributed to the College's endowed scholarships and through gifts from North Carolina Baptists that the dollars were available.

These gifts, these scholarships, this support have allowed many young people such as Crystal to learn what giving means.

A version of this article appeared recently in several missions publications out of the Communications Office of the Baptist Building in Cary.

Dr. Campolo is professor of Sociology and Director of the Graduate Program in Urban Studies at Eastern College in St. Davids, Penn. He is also founder and president of the Evangelical Association for the Promotion of Education, an organization committed to meeting the social, economic and spiritual needs of people in various Third World countries as well as urban America.

In addition, Dr. Campolo has authored 15 books, the most recent being, "The Kingdom of God is a Party." He is also the associate pastor of the Mount Carmel Baptist Church in West Philadelphia.

He comes to Gardner-Webb as a Staley Distinguished Christian Scholar with the support of the Thomas F. Staley Foundation.

The Thomas F. Staley Foundation, named for its founder, was formed in the 1950s as a charitable organization. In the late 1960s the Staley Distinguished Christian Scholar Lecture Program became a permanent feature of the foundation.

Through the Staley Distinguished Christian Scholar Program small colleges and universities throughout the country are afforded an opportunity to hear the Christian Faith proclaimed and defended by able evangelical scholars.

College for Senior Adults Begins Third Session

Among those excited about getting back to school this fall were participants in the College for Senior Adults at Gardner-Webb.

The classes are made up of individuals 55 and older and address such topics as economics, history and art.

This is the third session of classes to be offered by the College for Senior Adults, with courses are taught on campus by various Gardner-Webb instructors.

The College for Senior Adults at Gardner-Webb also includes Life Journey discussion groups, weekend seminars and special projects. No previous college experience is required—only a desire for learning and intellectual curiosity.

Topics this fall include "Presidential Candidates' Prescriptions for a Sick Economy: Cure or Kill?"; "North Carolina History: Why I Like Calling North Carolina Home"; and "Art Appreciation: There is Method in the Madness".

Each two-hour class meets one time a week on the Gardner-Webb College campus. Schedules are designed so that all subjects are taught as day classes.

There will be a panel discussion, "Granny Cures the Croup" to address folk cures and how they relate to modern medicine. And, a workshop "How to Tell Diamonds from Coal or What's Special About this Rock?" will be led Oct. 10 from 10 a.m. until noon in Withrow Hall.

Membership in the College for Senior Adults at Gardner-Webb is open to anyone 55 and older. Membership fees are $60 for individuals and $100 for couples for each semester. This fee covers participation in one course or all courses.

All senior adults are invited to take advantage of this opportunity to associate with people of similar interests who wish to pool their talents and experience for mutual enjoyment, learning and service to society.

Beam Gift Takes CSO Over $1 Million Goal

A $100,000 endowment from Ellen Baxter Beam and the estate of her late husband Herman Alexander Beam allowed the Christian Service Organization to meet its $1 million goal earlier than the December 1992 deadline.

As charter members both the late Mr. Beam and Mrs. Beam, a resident of Fallston, have been essential to the growth of the Christian Service Organization.

Mr. Beam served on the original Board of the organization. "It was a part of his life that he treasured," says Mrs. Beam of her late husband.

Mr. Beam, a native of Fallston, was employed nearly 40 years with First National Bank of Shelby, transferring from the Shelby bank to become manager of its first branch bank, which opened in Fallston in 1923. Upon his retirement from the bank he opened Security Insurance and Service Corporation in Fallston, where he worked until his death.

Mrs. Beam taught in the Salisbury, Shelby City and Cleveland County Schools during her teaching career.

The Beams were active members of Fallston Baptist Church, where Mrs. Beam attends today. Mr. Beam gave the land for the present church site. He served nearly 40 years as chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee and also served on various other committees of the church.

Mrs. Beam recalls that her husband "was a member known always for his devotion, love and support of his church, its work and its pastors.

"He served with heartfelt sincerity as a deacon and Sunday School teacher throughout the years of his life," she says.

Mr. Beam has been noted by many as a man who spent much of his life helping others. Mrs. Beam recalls today that her husband often helped young people pursuing a life in the ministry. "Herman was also a community promoter and was at his happiest when trying to make things he envisioned work for the betterment of all," says Mrs. Beam, "He liked excellence in all things and he put forth tremendous effort in all his undertakings.

"He and I both had a special love for Gardner-Webb," Mrs. Beam says. Mr. Beam was a former member of the Gardner-Webb College Board of Trustees. Mrs. Beam notes that it is fitting that their scholarship reflects both their love of the College and their dedication to young people.

The Herman Alexander and Ellen Baxter Beam Endowed Scholarship Fund is designed to provide financial assistance to worthy and/or needy students attending Gardner-Webb College who have committed their lives to full-time Christian service.

Scholarship Memorializes Work Of Dr. Thurman Lewis

The Christian Service Organization was a dream for J. Thurman Lewis and his co-founder, the Rev. Charles W. Freeman.

Today a scholarship bears Dr. Lewis' name, honoring his dreams, his dedication and the work that he did to make the organization come to life for the young people who needed assistance.

The J. Thurman Lewis Memorial Christian Service Organization Scholarship was established this year by Mr. and Mrs. Julius Taylor. The Taylors were assisted by Lewis' widow, Mrs. Martha Lewis.

The Taylors learned of the outstanding work of Dr. Lewis through their niece and her husband, Rebekah and Steven Lewis. Steven is Dr. Lewis' son. It was upon hearing of his work and the wonderful things the Christian Service Organization is doing to assist students that the Taylors decided to begin a scholarship.

Mrs. Cole Establishes Christian Service Organization Scholarship

Mrs. Lucille Cole of Shreveport, La., recently endowed a Christian Service Organization scholarship in memory of her husband, the late Kenneth Howard Cole. In commenting on the endowment, Mrs. Cole noted that both she and her husband have always believed strongly in the value of education.

Mrs. Cole and the late Mr. Cole are the parents of Mrs. Kitty Eeds of Shelby. Mrs. Eeds is employed at Gardner-Webb College. She and her husband, Paul, are members of the Christian Service Organization.

"When Mother learned of the activities of the Christian Service Organization she was particularly impressed with the opportunity for assisting young people who plan to enter the field of Christian service," says Mrs. Eeds. "She felt that it was an organization she would like to support."

Both Mrs. Cole and her late husband have been active church members. Mrs. Cole says she feels that naming the scholarship in her husband's memory is an appropriate step, one that he would favor.

College Family Shares Gifts of Love

The Gardner-Webb family had three occasions to show an outpouring of love and generosity this past year.

Following the death of Business Professor Don Kemerait, the Donald J. Kemerait Endowed Business Scholarship was established by the family and friends of this special man.

The scholarship will allow students to continue study in an area that meant so much to the professor.

With the close of the 1991-92 school year came an opportunity to honor two long-time faculty members — Dr. George Cribb and Mr. Lansford Jolley — upon their retirements.

Faculty, friends and former students contributed to the establishment of the M. Lansford Jolley Endowed Scholarship. This honored their colleague, friend and teacher upon his completion of 35 years at Gardner-Webb.

The George Cribb Endowed Music Scholarship was presented to Dr. Cribb during an evening to remember when former and present students, colleagues and friends gathered for an evening of performance and recognition.

Both the Jolley and Cribb Scholarships will allow the dedication of these men to be felt in the classroom.

Women's Basketball to Benefit From Lindsay Endowment

Winifred H. Lindsay of Rutherfordton has always loved the game of basketball. The octogenarian played basketball on the high school team in her hometown of Andrews. Today, she still scans the television channels for games.

Mrs. Lindsay also loves to help students.

Combining her interests, the long-time friend and supporter of Gardner-Webb has recently endowed the Winnifred H. Lindsay Women's Basketball Scholarship at the College.

The scholarship is designed to provide financial assistance to worthy and needy full-time students who participate in the women's basketball program of the college.

"My one goal in life is to be able to help boys and girls get an education, something that will be with them the rest of their lives," Mrs. Lindsay says.

Mrs. Lindsay also stresses her belief that if we educate our children they will in turn educate their children. "A snowball effect," she says, "Something that will last forever."

Ellises Continue Support With Nursing Scholarship

W.P. and Pauline T. Ellis are no strangers to Gardner-Webb. The couple have been friends of the College for a number of years and their generosity shows in various places about the campus.

The Belk-Ellis Computer Center is a mark of their interest in assisting students with up-to-date computer skills.

Again, the Ellis family showed support of business students when they, along with the Belk Foundation and the Belk Corporation of Shelby, established the Belk-Ellis Scholarship. The scholarship is awarded annually to a Cleveland or Rutherford County student who plans to enter the Broyhill School of Management program.

The W.P. and Pauline T. Ellis Nursing Scholarship, established this year, will assist outstanding nursing students with funding for an education at Gardner-Webb. It is designed to assist students who might not otherwise be able to obtain a degree.

Estate Gift Memorializes Miss Charlene Stamey

Miss Charlene Stamey of Fallston had been an avid supporter of Gardner-Webb for many years before her death this past year.

The former trustee established an estate gift that could be used by the College in any way that was needed. The unrestricted gift was used to establish an endowed scholarship for worthy and needy students.

The endowment, made in her memory, honors the years of service Miss Stamey gave to Gardner-Webb.

Scholarship Honors Cornwells; Supports Christian Service Organization

When W.D. and Ilease B. Cornwell of Charlotte decided to endow a Christian Service Organization Scholarship this year, it was done as a tribute to their aunt and uncle F. Glenn and Ray Cornwell of Shelby.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cornwell have been active supporters of the Christian Service Organization for a number of years. Having shared the news of the organization and its activities the Cornwells, as many other members have done, made known the value of such a scholarship to the student planning to enter a phase of religion.

The scholarship is a fitting honor for such dedicated members and demonstrates the support of W.D. and Ilease Cornwell to the education of young people who plan to serve the church.

Perry Adds to CSO Endowment

The Freeman T. Perry Christian Service Organization Endowed Scholarship Fund was established earlier this year by Mr. Perry, a resident of Kannapolis.

The fund is to assist worthy and/or needy students who have committed their lives to full-time Christian service. In assigning the scholarship, preference will be given to students from Rowan and Cabarrus counties.

Perry says that he is proud to direct his attention to Gardner-Webb and that he is glad that his contribution can be used to assist deserving students in attending college. "I want the money to keep working," he says.

The concept of an endowment will allow just that. Thanks to the generosity of so many who, like Perry, have directed contributions to endowed scholarships, a growing number of students are named scholarship recipients each year.

Perry became familiar with Gardner-Webb through a former pastor, the Rev. Bobby Seagroves and through his current pastor, the Rev. Dan Phipps. Rev. Phipps is pastor at Franklin Heights Baptist Church, where Perry has been a member for over 40 years.

"Love" Scholarship Memorializes Wendy Suzanne Hazelworth

John and Barbara Hazelworth wanted a way to memorialize the life of their daughter, Wendy Suzanne Hazelworth, who lost her life in an automobile accident.

The young woman was a 1985 graduate of Gardner-Webb. Following graduation, she was employed as director of lay ministries at St. Marks Lutheran Church in Huntsville, Ala.

The Hazelworths named the scholarship the Wendy Suzanne Hazelworth "Love" Memorial Endowed Scholarship. This exemplifies both their love for their daughter and her love for Gardner-Webb. They also requested that the scholarship be directed each year toward a religion major, whose goal is to serve in some religious field in the Lutheran or other Christian church upon graduation.

The specific fields of interest include Christian education and youth ministries, ministers, music ministry, counselors, etc., with first preference given to students from the Lutheran Church.

"They must exemplify the Christian church and be committed to the Christian way of life," stated the Hazelworths in their directives for the scholarship.

Endowed scholarships have been a major source of financial aid for literally thousands of students throughout Gardner-Webb's 86-year history.

Endowed scholarships are established by donors who wish for only the annual earnings from their invested contributions to be awarded as scholarship aid. This provides a permanent fund from which future students will benefit indefinitely.

While scholarships are "fully endowed" when a fund reaches or exceeds $10,000, many donors choose to initiate scholarship funds with lesser amounts, making additions to the funds until they become fully endowed.

We are grateful to the donors for their generosity in endowing the following scholarship funds:

The Christian Service Organization

The Christian Service Organization is a special endowed scholarship fund which provides financial support to students who are preparing for vocational Christian service.

Within the larger fund are individual endowed scholarship funds, established by interested donors. Christian Service Organization scholarships are "fully endowed" when the total contributions to the fund reach or exceed $10,000. Many donors establish funds and make additions to the fund until it is fully endowed.

The Christian Service Organization is governed by its own Board of Directors which interviews each scholarship recipient and recommends awards. Donors who establish endowment funds within this organization express their commitment to assisting students in the high calling of the Christian ministry.

Toomer Gets Top Honors With Burroughs Wellcome Scholarship

Gardner-Webb student Christopher L. Toomer of Durham was named one of six recipients of the 1992 Burroughs Wellcome Opportunity Scholarships this summer.

The scholarship is open to residents of Durham, Orange or Wake Counties who have overcome significant adversity in their lives and have demonstrated an exceptional desire to succeed through further education or training.

The value of this year's six scholarships exceeded $28,000.

"These scholars have demonstrated tremendous spirit and resilience to overcome serious hardships," said Phil Tracy, Burroughs Wellcome President and Chief Executive Officer.

Toomer, a business administration major at Gardner-Webb, has overcome blindness and impaired hearing to successfully reach his goals as a student. Early in his education he attended the Governor's Morehead School for the Blind, where he learned to read and write braille, orient himself and other skills necessary to live independently. In public high school he excelled in both academic and athletic pursuits.

Upon entering college, he struggled to maintain his academic standing. Materials for the visually and hearing impaired were scarce, or inadequate.

Toomer transferred to Gardner-Webb College, where he has access to special services for physically disabled students. He has enlisted the help of a family member to transcribe books into braille and he is at his self-described best academically.

The Burroughs Wellcome Opportunity Scholarship will enable Toomer to complete his bachelor's degree in business administration with minors in management information systems and political science. He plans to pursue a career in banking or government.

Burroughs Wellcome, headquartered in Research Triangle Park, researches, develops, manufactures and markets pharmaceutical products.

15,000 Swimmer Completes Lessons At Gardner-Webb Pool

Josh Wortman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wortman of Lattimore, was the 15,000 swimmer to complete swimming lessons at the Gardner-Webb College pool this summer. The program has reached children and adults from the five-county area of Cleveland, Rutherford, Gaston, Cherokee and Spartanburg. Dr. Robert Blackburn has directed the program since 1970.

Dr. Blackburn is an American Red Cross Water Safety/Lifeguard instructor trainer and has been active in teaching swimming for 32 years. "We feel reaching this number of persons with the water safety message is a major milestone in helping children be safe in and around the water," said Dr. Blackburn.

The Gardner-Webb program is a comprehensive teaching program that focuses on teaching children to swim. In addition to the children's program, over 1000 adults have completed swimming lessons. Courses are also taught in American Red Cross Lifeguard Training and Water Safety Instruction. Red Cross re-certification in these same areas is also taught. Over 300 American Red Cross lifeguards have successfully completed the program under Dr. Blackburn.

Greetings

Greetings from the sizzling cauldrons of Boiling Springs! Things are hot in the admissions office as well. We are looking at one of the top three classes to enter during the last 10 years!

Our efforts as a college this year have culminated in an increase in enrollment for the second straight year. Of course, things are easier for us in the recruiting process because we believe in what we are doing.

The Gardner-Webb experience continues to carry with it the theme of providing a superior quality liberal arts and sciences education in a Christian environment with the personal touch. You are our greatest recruiters!

Time and time again we see on our surveys that alumni are the first ones to reach out to interested students. As you glaze over and share your experiences from college with potential students, the passion and love for Gardner-Webb is evident. It is so easy to understand why we hear so often such words as, "A person I really admire and respect first told me about Gardner-Webb," or "There is a friend who said his life has really been changed because he attends there."

Keep on pressing on to help us reach the mark of excellence we have established as members of the Gardner-Webb family.

This fall, we are beginning a series of receptions where we ask you to bring a potential student. There will be great times as we enjoy food, fellowship, talking about those great old days and introducing others to the experience that we hold so dearly in our memories.

Let's make a deal. You bring a student and I'll buy you supper. There are several locations that may be close to where you live. Come and see us at the Webb as we come to your "neck of the woods".

If you are interested, please give me a call at 1-800-253-6472. The call is free and so is the excited response of our receptionist. We look forward to hearing from you!

Ray Hardee

We're Looking For People Just Like You

Gardner-Webb has established a tradition of academic excellence. For years we have sought to recruit and graduate individuals of strong academic abilities who have gone forth and contributed to our campus and community, our state and nation. As an institution rich in tradition yet eager to face tomorrow's challenges, we invite you to join us in our search for outstanding students. You might have a child, grandchild or friend whom you would be proud to recommend for admission to your alma mater. Please take a moment to help us find future Gardner-Webb alumni.

Dinner With 12 Strangers Blends Interesting Group

Stranger mixes have happened. Take a handful of students, a faculty member, an alumnus and a spouse here or there ... and it usually comes out to about 12 for dinner.

At least this is true in the design set up by the Gardner-Webb Student Alumni Council (SAC). A Dinner with 12 Strangers was started last year to bring students, alumni and faculty members together in an informal setting.

The goal is to form relationships ... ones that will not only benefit the individuals involved, but Gardner-Webb as well.

Our alums are asked to serve as hosts for the group, which can be smaller in number, depending on the host's request.

The interaction usually proves to be entertaining, informative and enjoyable ... as well as filling. So, please join in on the fun this year and try us. Have some strangers in for dinner!

Runnin' Bulldogs Expect Chemistry on the Field For 1992 Season

Chemistry plays a major role in the success of any athletic team and football is no different. The key ingredients for a successful season are in place at Gardner-Webb this fall. An excellent coaching staff, experience, leadership, outstanding talent at key positions and some impressive newcomers are certainly a formula for an exciting football season. Just how well the Bulldogs will play will depend on how well the formula fits together.

Head football coach Woody Fish is no mad scientist, but a seasoned veteran as he enters his ninth season with guarded optimism and a national ranking — 19th in the NAIA Division One Top Twenty Pre Season Poll.

Fish, with a 46-41-1 career record is quick to point out that almost every team in the conference will be improved and that the Bulldogs do not have an easy road ahead. However, it is not difficult to see the twinkle in his eye and the promise in his voice. This could be a big year for Gardner-Webb football.

Last season's shift to the run 'n shoot offense provided a 6-5 record and some exciting moments as the personnel adjusted to the difficult offense. This season promises to be even better with the return of the entire offensive line and the play of 6-3 195-pound sophomore quarterback John Craven and 6-1 175-pound senior wide receiver Rodney Robinson.

Craven completed 153 of 338 passes for 1,769 yards and 10 touchdowns as a freshman last season. Robinson, a bonafide All-American candidate, might be the premier wide receiver in small college football, after registering 46 catches for 859 yards and 7 touchdowns as a junior. Robinson also returned punts and kicks and totaled 1,569 yards in total offense.

Also returning is 5-10-185 pound senior running back Sean Odom who finished with 468 yards rushing and 4.2 yards per carry.

Also expected to see plenty of action in the backfield is 6-0 185-pound sophomore Andy Collins, an excellent athlete.

Setting the table for the backfield will be the return of the entire offensive line including 6-1 265-pound senior Jody Kafina, tabbed by his coaches as "the leader of the offensive line."

Also returning is 6-2 285-pound senior Archie Wood, a four-year starter. Junior center John Jennings, 6-2 250 pounds, returns at center and a pair of newcomers who stepped into starting roles a year ago, Frank Taylor, 6-3 260 pounds, and Dave Defeo, 6-4 275 pounds, return for their senior campaign on the offensive line. Pushing the starters will be a transfer, 6-3 270-pound junior Winfred Sims, 6-4 300-pound sophomore Chad Grimmett, 6-2 280-pound sophomore Contee Sarratt and 6-2 285-pound junior Mark Rape. Rounding out the line will be 6-4 250-pound junior Steve Duncan at tight end. He will receive serious competition from 6-3 205-pound junior Jon Faehr.

All these indicators point to an improved offense that scored over 30 points on four different occasions a year ago. Still, the key to the Bulldogs success will be the defense. Last year, Gardner-Webb led the entire NAIA in defense against the run, allowing less than 74 yards rushing and less than 1.9 yards per carry.

Maintaining that success will be a big job — a big job for a big man. How about junior defensive end Gabe Wilkins, a 6-6 300-pound honorable mention NAIA All-American. Wilkins has all the tools — size, strength, and quickness — to make football a career.

Expected to join him on the defensive line will be 6-6 260-pound freshman Clay Sims, and Pat Chappell, a 6-3 245-pound junior college transfer from North Greenville. Also expected to compete is 6-1 225-pound junior Todd Felkel.

Junior Raymond Jennings returns at one inside linebacker spot at 6-2 250 pounds and 6-0 230-pound sophomore Jonathan Adkins should win the other spot. Seniors Dunsey Haper, 6-1 205 pounds, and Eric Johnson, 6-1 190 pounds, both outstanding athletes, return to hold down the outside linebacker spots. Junior James Harbinson returns at one cornerback spot and sophomore Joey Houston is expected to nail down the other spot.

Senior Terry McGowen returns to strong safety, after earning national player of the week honors a year ago and Thomas Marsh, a speedy freshman is the favorite for the free safety position.

The schedule includes the season's opener at the University of Central Florida Sept. 7 and the always tough South Atlantic Conference games, which includes four nationally-ranked teams in addition to Gardner-Webb.

Wilson Named SID At Gardner-Webb

Mark Wilson has joined the staff at Gardner-Webb College as Sports Information Director. Wilson comes to Gardner-Webb from Erskine College in Due West, S.C., where he served as Sports Information Director and Assistant Public Relations Director for 12 years.

While at Erskine, Wilson's promotion of college athletics earned 44 student-athletes the status of All-American and the college national ranking in four sports. He also assisted in the coordination of three national women's soccer tournaments.

A graduate of Erskine College, he holds a bachelor's degree in physical education.

"We are extremely happy to have Mark in this very important position," said Gardner-Webb Athletic Director Ozzie McFarland. "His personality and work ethic are qualities from which the Gardner-Webb athletic program should benefit."

Wilson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Wilson of Franklin, N.C. He and his wife, Charlotte, plan to make their home in Boiling Springs.

Upcoming Soccer Season Shows Promise

Fifth year head coach Tony Setzer is excited about the upcoming season despite losing six starters.

In what would be expected to be a rebuilding year following the loss of key players Dennis Puckerin, Lennox Charles and Jorge Lopez, Setzer is hoping that the addition of nine highly touted newcomers to a solid core of returnees will be enough to help the Runnin' Bulldogs move up in the South Atlantic Conference standings.

Gardner-Webb finished sixth a year ago. Among the top returnees are junior midfielder Richard Barclay, senior midfielder Richard Jones, sophomore defender Brian Irwin and senior goalkeeper John Todaro.

Top newcomers include Lovett Quartey, a striker from London via the University of South Carolina at Spartanburg, Michael Berger, a freshman goalkeeper from Charleston, W.Va., and a pair of midfielders, Clay Cox of Sherman, Texas and Jason Quintero of Harquin, Texas.

The Bulldogs were picked to finish sixth in the South Atlantic Conference race but could move up in the standings this season.

Lady Bulldogs Soccer Enters Third Season

The Runnin' Bulldogs enter their third competitive season with hopes of improving upon last year's 4-11-1 record and fifth place finish in the South Atlantic Conference.

The Lady Bulldogs will be counting on strong play from two all-conference players from last year's squad. Striker Kathy Ayotte and defender Debbie Ford, both sophomores, will anchor an experienced team that will face a very challenging schedule.

Mitchell will enjoy having a fine crop of recruits this fall and depend on them as key contributors in order to have a successful season. Highlights on this year's schedule will include tough conference matches against Elon College and Catawba College as well as road contests at Queens and Lees-McRae and former National Champion Erskine College.

Volleyball Season To Improve on Last

Head coach Donna Robertson enters her second campaign at the helm of the volleyball program hoping to improve on last season's 10-15 mark and sixth place finish in the South Atlantic Conference.

Robertson welcomes back six key returnees, including four senior hitters, Andrea Sells, Merry Joy Ralph, Melissa Lee and Jan Sprinkle.

Junior Tricia Holfelder also returns as yet another hitter. Robertson will also need strong contributions from freshman hitter Heather Robertson and defensive specialist Jodi Dill.
