

Gardner-Webb University

Digital Commons @ Gardner-Webb University

GWU-Today

9-19-2015

Honors Students Participate in their first TSD of the Semester

GWU Today

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.gardner-webb.edu/gwu-today>

Recommended Citation

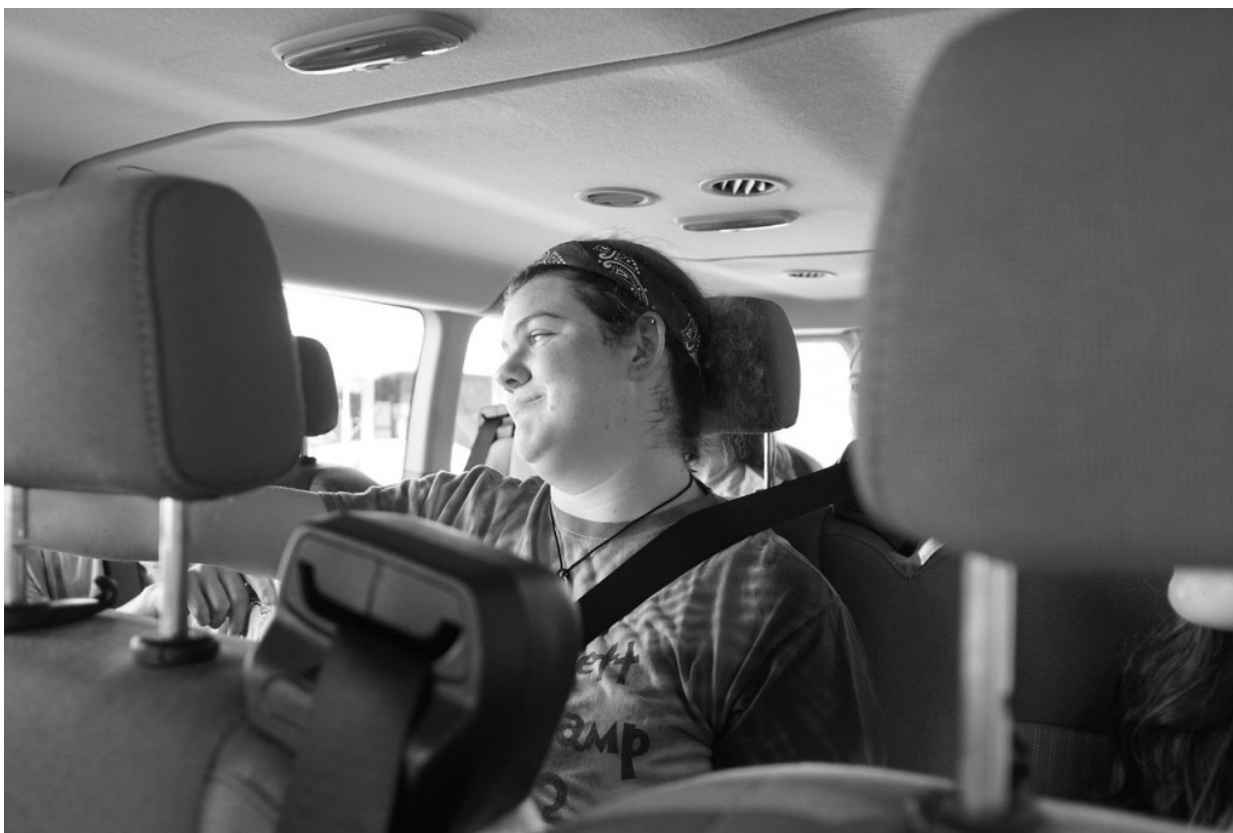

Today, GWU, "Honors Students Participate in their first TSD of the Semester" (2015). GWU-Today. 197.
<https://digitalcommons.gardner-webb.edu/gwu-today/197>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by Digital Commons @ Gardner-Webb University. It has been accepted for inclusion in GWU-Today by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Gardner-Webb University. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@gardner-webb.edu.

Honors students participate in their first TSD of the semester

Several times each semester, the Honors Students Association (HSA) takes students to “Try Something Different” (TSD) where they are able to eat foods that they may have not been subjected to previously. Friday, September 18th, was their first trip of this semester landing them in Bangkok Cafe in Spartanburg, SC for some Thai Cuisine. Check out the photo story from the event:

Honors Student Association (HSA) member Taylor Swain shares stories of past TSD's on the van ride to Spartanburg, SC. Photo by: Elizabeth Banfield

HSA members pose for a group photo before entering into Bangkok Cafe. Photo by: Elizabeth Banfield

TSD is not only a time to try new foods, it is also a time for HSA students to bond. Photo by: Elizabeth Banfield

A plate full of Thai food. Photo by: Elizabeth Banfield

To see all the photos from the event, click here .