Variety of Original Handmade Items Available Nov. 16-17

By Mallory Moore, '18, Intern for Communications

Christmas Art Sale

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C.— Gardner-Webb University’s annual Christmas Art Sale will take place on Nov. 16-17 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Tucker Student Center. The sale features original pieces by Gardner-Webb students, alumni, faculty, and community members. A variety of items will be available for purchase including pottery, jewelry, paintings, photography, fiber arts, and wood crafts, all of which make perfect gifts for the holiday season.

“Our annual Christmas Art Sale highlights the creative energy of our students, art faculty, and the GWU community,” explained Susan Bell, Gardner-Webb Professor of Art. “The students operate the sale and learn marketing skills in the process, an important practical component of their education. Come support the artists and enjoy beautiful handmade art at reasonable prices.”

A percentage of the proceeds also goes towards the GWU Art Club, providing funding for museum trips and other opportunities for art students. “The sale proceeds helped three students to afford our semi-annual New York City museum tour this year,” Bell explained, “allowing them to be immersed in some of the world’s greatest museums.”

Located in the North Carolina foothills, Gardner-Webb University is a private, Christian, liberal arts university that prepares students to become critical thinkers, effective leaders and compassionate servants in the global community. Emphasizing a strong student-centered experience and rigorous academics, Gardner-Webb ignites learning and service opportunities for undergraduate and graduate students.
