Dimensions Program to Feature Ken Wytsma on Sept. 13

By Bryton Mitchell, Intern for University Communications

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C.— A theology school president and expert on biblical justice will speak at Gardner-Webb's Dimensions program on Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 9:25 a.m. This event, held in Stewart Hall of Tucker Student Center on the GWU campus, is free and open to the public.

Ken Wytsma is the president of Kilns College, an Oregon graduate school that offers master's degrees in the fields of theology and missions. He is also the lead pastor at Antioch Church in Bend, Ore., as well as author of four books about pursuing justice and God's plan for His people.

During his visit at GWU, Wytsma will be "engaging students in a conversation relating to biblical justice and God's call both to love and serve Him and to love and serve our neighbor," said Dr. Tracy Jessup, vice president of Christian Life and Services and Senior Minister to the University.

Wytsma, the founder of The Justice Conference, an annual event held to spread awareness of biblical justice, and partner of children's ministry Compassion International, seeks to spread awareness to men and women about global and local issues.

"Social Entrepreneurship is a discipline that we are seeking to grow and develop here at Gardner-Webb," said Dr. Tom LeGrand, the director of the GWU IMPACT Center for Christian Ethics and Social Responsibility. "Ken Wytsma is a great example of how you can choose a career or business path that also makes a difference in the lives of others."
