Trey Bradley to Speak at GWU Holy Week Service

By Brooke Kelly, Communications Intern

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C.—Gardner-Webb University will host a Holy Week Service featuring speaker and evangelist Trey Bradley during the weekly Dimensions program on Tuesday, March 31. The event is free and open to the public.

Bradley has worked in student ministry for several years, serves as a speaker with Clayton King Ministries and recently helped plant a church in Hendersonville, N.C. He will share his desire for creating opportunities for others to encounter Christ during the Dimensions program at 9:25 a.m. in GWU's Lutz-Yelton Convocation Center (LYCC).

“Gardner-Webb University has had a long-standing relationship with Clayton King Ministries. Trey Bradley recently became part of that ministry's team of speakers,” shared Dr. Tracy Jessup, vice president of the Office of Christian Life and Service and senior minister to the University. “We are looking forward to hosting him for the Dimensions program, which is designated as our Holy Week Service.”

Bradley's heart and passion for ministry is seeing lives transformed by the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He believes that process begins with individual believers who are so overwhelmed by the Gospel that they have to share their faith with others. His desire is for all Christians to take every opportunity to share Christ with someone else. For more information on Bradley, visit treybradley.com.

The goal of Dimensions is to enhance the spiritual, intellectual and cultural life at the University and also to promote a sense of community. More information is available by calling 704-406-4277.

Auxiliary aids will be made available to persons with disabilities upon request 48 hours prior to the event. Please call 704.406.4253 or email servicerequests@gardner-webb.edu with your request.
