BOILING SPRINGS, N.C. —Gardner-Webb University’s orchestra will perform a free concert for the public at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 17, in the Dover Theatre on campus.

The show will contain more than an hour of music, including selections by Gershwin, Mozart and other well-known composers. Dr. Patricia Sparti, chair of the music department and professor of music, will serve as director and conductor.

Dover Theatre is located adjacent to the Lutz-Yelton Convocation Center. For more information on the concert, contact Sparti at 704-466-4710.

Auxiliary aids will be made available to persons with disabilities upon request 48 hours prior to the event. Please call 704-406-4264 or email servicerequests@gardner-webb.edu with your request.

Located in Boiling Springs, N.C., Gardner-Webb University offers a comprehensive academic experience that introduces students to the diverse world of ideas and to the people who think them, preparing them for professional success and for productive citizenship.
