Annual Exhibit Opens April 18 in Communication Studies Hall Gallery

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C. – The Gardner-Webb University School of Performing and Visual Arts (Visual Division) presents its Annual Communication Studies Senior Show, as it opens for display on April 18 in the Communications Study Hall Gallery.

This exhibit will feature the works of graphic design and public relations students within the Communication Studies department and includes such items as brochures, flyers, press releases, posters, marketing campaign materials, graphic design pieces, and more.

The event officially kicks off with an opening reception in the Communications Study Hall Gallery, as a way to not only view the work, but also meet many of the artists. The reception also includes refreshments and is free and open to the public on April 18 from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. The exhibit will remain on display through May 2.

For more information about GWU's Communication Studies department, as well as this exhibit, call 704-406-2137.

Located in Boiling Springs, N.C., Gardner-Webb University's purpose is to advance the Kingdom of God through Christian higher education by preparing graduates for professional and personal success, instilling in them a deep commitment to service and leadership, and equipping them for well-rounded lives of lasting impact, Pro Deo et Humanitate (For God and Humanity).
