Exhibit Open to the Public Through Nov. 23

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C. –The Gardner-Webb University Communication Studies Department invites faculty, staff, students and the community to the 2012 Fall Graphic Design and Public Relations Show.

Various works from public relations and graphic design majors will be exhibited in the Communications Studies Hall from Thursday, Nov. 1 through Friday, Nov. 23.

“The student show is an excellent way for students to showcase their talent and skills as designers,” explained graphic design instructor Amanda Bridges. “Oftentimes student projects are only seen by the professor and classmates, so the show provides students a way to gain exposure from the public.”

The Communication Studies Hall is open from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. For more information, email Amanda Bridges at awbridges@gardner-webb.edu.

Located in Boiling Springs, N.C., Gardner-Webb University blends a liberal arts core curriculum with more than 55 specialized major and minor programs, a comprehensive academic experience grounded in a Christian environment of service, leadership, and intellectual freedom.
