

Gardner-Webb University

Digital Commons @ Gardner-Webb University

Gardner-Webb NewsCenter Archive

Gardner-Webb Publications

3-13-2012

Gardner-Webb to Host “Dawg Day” for Prospective Students on March 24

Office of University Communications

Travis Sherrill

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.gardner-webb.edu/gardner-webb-newscenter-archive>

Recommended Citation

Office of University Communications and Sherrill, Travis, "Gardner-Webb to Host “Dawg Day” for Prospective Students on March 24" (2012). Gardner-Webb NewsCenter Archive. 1917.
<https://digitalcommons.gardner-webb.edu/gardner-webb-newscenter-archive/1917>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Gardner-Webb Publications at Digital Commons @ Gardner-Webb University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Gardner-Webb NewsCenter Archive by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Gardner-Webb University. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@gardner-webb.edu.

Gardner-Webb to Host “Dawg Day” for Prospective Students on March 24

 webpublish.gardner-webb.edu/newscenter/gardner-webb-to-host-dawg-day-for-prospective-students-on-march-24/

Office of University Communications

March 13, 2012

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C.— Gardner-Webb University invites prospective students and their families to participate in Dawg Day on Saturday, March 24 beginning at 8 a.m. in the Lutz-Yelton Convocation Center (LYCC). Dawg Days are free, planned visitation days designed to share what Gardner-Webb is all about.

Dawg Days feature student-led campus tours, faculty fairs with booths representing each undergraduate department, panel discussions and Q and A sessions with current students, campus shop discounts and more. Sessions for parents are also available on pressing topics like financial planning and student development. After the morning activities, Dawg Day participants will enjoy free lunch in the cafeteria and free admission to Gardner-Webb’s softball game against Liberty University at 1:00 p.m.

According to Jessica Brock, Gardner-Webb University’s visit coordinator, Dawg Days are an excellent resource to help students discover if Gardner-Webb is the right fit for them.

“Dawg Day is a unique opportunity for Gardner-Webb to show prospective students why this University is so special,” Brock said. “By eating in the cafeteria and chatting with professors, touring campus and even enjoying Runnin’ Bulldogs game, prospective students and their families are immersed for an entire day in the Gardner-Webb experience.”

Registration for the March 24 Dawg Day is open until Thursday, March 22, and can be completed online. Registration is also currently open for the final Dawg Day of the academic year on April 28.

For more information, call the admissions office at (800)-253-6472 or email dawgdays@gardner-webb.edu.

Located in Boiling Springs, N.C., Gardner-Webb University is home to over 4,300 students from 39 states and 24 foreign countries. Gardner-Webb seeks a higher ground in higher education – one that embraces faith and intellectual freedom, and inspires in students a love of learning, service and leadership.

Gardner-Webb communications intern Travis Sherrill contributed reporting.