

Gardner-Webb University

Digital Commons @ Gardner-Webb University

Gardner-Webb NewsCenter Archive

Gardner-Webb Publications

3-8-2012

New Evidence, Reward Offered in Armed Robbery Case

Office of University Communications

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.gardner-webb.edu/gardner-webb-newscenter-archive>

New Evidence, Reward Offered in Armed Robbery Case

 webpublish.gardner-webb.edu/newscenter/latest-update-on-armed-robbery-new-evidence-reward-offered/

Office of University Communications

March 8, 2012

University Police Looking for Two Vehicles in Armed Robbery Investigation

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C.— Gardner-Webb University Police are now looking for two vehicles associated with Tuesday night's armed robbery on campus in Boiling Springs. A $2,500 reward is in place for anyone who offers tips that lead to the suspects' apprehension.

The vehicles in question were first seen on video surveillance entering campus at 7:56 p.m. One is a light-colored Ford Ranger pick-up truck with a large utility tool box in the truck bed. The other is a dark-colored four-door sedan. Authorities are currently working to determine the make and model of the sedan. Video shows the vehicles speeding from campus, running stop signs along the way, at 8:09 p.m.

The suspects are two black males in their late teens or early 20s. They were wearing dark jeans and puffy black jackets, and one was wearing a goatee.

Anyone able to offer details that might assist in this investigation should call the toll-free incident hotline at 855-477-9347. After the prerecorded message, callers should leave their crime tips and their contact information.

The incident occurred the evening of March 6, when two Gardner-Webb students were robbed at gunpoint in their residence hall. No one was injured. More information about the crime is available at gardner-webb.edu/newscenter.

For Student Development or Residence Education inquiries, call 704-406-4373. For media inquiries, call 704-406-4631.

Last updated: Thursday, March 8 at 4:55 p.m.