Wake Tech and Gardner-Webb University Officials Announce New Transfer Partnership

BY OFFICE OF UNIVERSITY COMMUNICATIONS ON MAY 9, 2022

Wake Tech Students Can Complete Online Bachelor of Science in 10 Programs at GWU

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C.—In a special online ceremony, Wake Tech Community College and Gardner-Webb University signed multiple articulation agreements making it possible for Wake Tech students who earn one of 10 Associate in Applied Science (AAS) degrees to complete a Bachelor of Science degree online with Gardner-Webb.

“Wake Tech has long been a giant in the North Carolina community college system, and we are quite pleased that these agreements will enable more of their graduates to join us at GWU,” praised Gardner-Webb University President Dr. William M. Downs. “Our ability to complement work already completed at the community college level with degree options that enhance professional opportunities is a plus for students, a win for employers, and a big net gain for our state.”

The agreements include AAS degrees in Accounting and Finance, Business Administration, Health and Fitness Science, Nursing, Human Services Technology, Criminal Justice Technology and Forensic Science.

“This is a great opportunity for Wake Tech graduates to pursue an advanced degree,” said Wake Tech President Dr. Scott Ralls. “This partnership with Gardner-Webb University will help students stay workforce forward – to keep moving up as they achieve educational goals.”
