

—Thomas Dixon, Jr, scored a great triumph in his play—The Clansman—at Norfolk upon the occasion of its first appearance. The great crowd fairly stormed him and his company with applause. His play is an offset, so he declares, to Uncle Tom's Cabin. Then it should go North, not South. Uncle Tom's Cabin needs no offset in the South.—Biblical Recorder. CLEV. STAR

10-4-1905